Solution of Engineering Survey Corps' Activity Recently in Western Idaho.

SHORT LINE TAKES A HAND.

Dispatches Forces to Run Surveys From Ontario to Natron, Or .--Funds are Appropriated.

Announcement of the proposition of E. H. Harriman to build a line across central Oregon was officially made in Portland yesterday. While there have been rumors in the past of just such a move, this is the first official statement in regard to the matter,

The name of the new line is to be the Oregon & Eastern railread, having Ontario, Or., east of Payette, Ida., on the Short Line, as its eastern, and Natron, a town 125 miles south of Portland, for the western terminus. The announcement was made by General Manager J. P. O'Brien of the O. R. & N. yester-

The surveying of the proposed line has been under way for some time, and, what is more to the point, the survey parties are being outfitted here in Salt Lake by the O. S. L. general engineering department. Recently a large chest of medicines and surgical bandages was forwarded to Ontario, from this city, by the Oregon Short Line for the use of the engineers, denot-ing that they expected to be in the field away from the haunts of civilizamber 1, 1906, is the date set for the first locomotive of the Northern Pacific to enter Portland. This eneroucking railroad competition is force ing the hand of the Short Line and O. R. & N. to build a shorter and easier route into Portland from the east. For this purpose some time ago the northwest division of the Harriman ratiroad system set aside an appropriation of $4,160,000 for 1906.

From Portland to Natron on the present Springfield branch of the O. R. & N. (formerly the Southern Pacific) is an easy grade, laid in practically a straight line. The lift across the Cas-cade Mountains by the use of modern engineering will be no greater undertaking that the negotiation of the Blue Meuntains on the existing main line between Salt Lake and Portland. The line across central Oregon is said to be one long reach of easy grade and sim-ple construction through rich and practically virgin country.

This line was recommended for construction long ago when Mr. Mohler was head of the O. R. & N. affairs, Now that the Chicago & Northwestern is threatening eastern Idaho with an eye on the Pacific slope, and the Western Pacific is also making eyes at Oregon with the object in view of acquiring feeders for its main line it behaves the Harriman interests to sit up and take notice. There is every lication that they are getting busy steeting territory from invasion, by being first in the field themselves. The fact that the Yellowstone Park railway is now being constructed and, as told in the "News" yesterday, another force of surveyors has been sent into the Jackson Hole country by the Short Line to take a hand against the Chicage & Northwestern invasion, would indicate that the eastern ap-proaches are being guarded. This of-ficial news from Portland this morning further demonstrates that the western end is being looked after, leav-ing the brunt of the battle to be borns he Oregon Short Line, the keystone of the Harriman system.

AMENDED ARTICLES.

Amended articles of incorporation of the Las Vegas & Tonopah road have been filed with the secretary of state whereby the board of directors is in-creased from five to seven. The additions and changes are Senator W. A. Clark of Montana and R. C. Kerens of St. Louis, the two new directors and the substitution of the name of W. A. Clark. Jr., for that of Pennel Cher-

The officers of the road now are President, J. Ross Clark; vice president, Charles O. Whittemore; secretary W. H. Comstock; treasurer, R. J. Waters. These with W. A. Clark, W. A. Clark, Jr., and R. C. Kerens, constitute the board of directors.

ARTHUR SHEPHERD'S WORK.

"Theme With Variations" Reviewed by N. Y. Musical Courier.

The last number of the New York Musical Courier contains a very favorable notice on a recent effort of Arthur Shepherd of Salt Lake, whose overture received the Paderewski prize of $500. is mentioned in last night's "News. The production reviewed in the Courer is a "Theme with Variations," printed in the Wa-Wan publications of Newton Center, near Boston. The Courier, after describing the nature of the production, says:

"Arthur Shepherd has gone at his task in a sterner spirit than his col-league, Pommer. The Shepherd muse is tinged with some of the Brahms twight, while Pommer seems to make fore for the manner of the early varia-onists. There is decided ingenuity in light, the rhythmic restatement of the very first change, and in variation No. 3, suggestive of the episode in Schumann's "Carnival." No. 5 is in the mode of Brahms; No. 6 of Bach, and No. 7 in that of Shepherd. The latter has technique enough to test the mettle of even a player tried and true. There are only ten variations, but they are all good, and the last one is long enough to be complete work within itself. The efrences to Schumann, Brahms, and Bach, made in this review, are not meant as reproaches, but rather as compilments. There are no "thematic coincidences" in the Shepherd work."

Salt Lake Stake Workers Have Ar Enjoyable Reunion.

Probably no gathering of religious evening than that enjoyed last evening at the Fifteenth ward amusement hall by between 200 and 300 representatives of the Salt Lake Stake Sunday schools, The numbers on the program were as follows: Invocation, President Geo. E. Emery: address of pulsations and program of pulsations. R. Emery; address of welcome, Supt. C. B. Felt; song, Miss Millie Williams; violin solo, Frank Parsons; vocal duet, Miss Edna and Ivy Evans; flute solo P. A. Bendixon; song Charles Pike; address, President Nephi L. Morris; recitation. Miss Lillian Hunter: xylophone solo, Adelbert Beesley.

At the conclusion of this part of the entertainment the party betook it-self to the reception rooms, and thence to the amusement hall, where an in-formal handshaking was indulged in. The dance was then enjoyed, during which time light refreshments were served. A spirit of love and good will was everywhere manifest and expres-sions of felicity were the order of the evening. Tasty decorations in green and the national colors were found in both the halls and added much to the pleasure of the event,

DIED ON THE TABLE.

Mrs. Dwyer of Berlin, Nevada, Succumbs to An Operation.

At the Holy Cross hospital yesterday Mrs. T. B. Dwyer of Berlin, Nevada, expired on the operating table from the effects of an operation for Iridoyelltis. The operation lasted less than hree minutes, and the patient died while the surgeons were dressing the wound. Mrs. Dwyer was the wife of a mining man in Nevada, and for five weeks had suffered intense pain in her left eye. Thesday Mrs. Dwyer reached Salt Lake in company with a sister, and an operation was decided upon as the only thing that could bring relief. The weakness of the patient due to her long suffering was against her and she proved to have too little strength to rally from the operation. The surgeons had decided that the disease would terminate fatally for her in a short time before deciding upon the operation. The body of Mrs. Dwyer was shipped t Austin, Nev., last night.

Williams is the son of W. W. Williams of 166 N street. Last night the Eleventh East street hill was crowded with sleighing parties, and he with with siegging parties, and ne, with five companions, appeared with a "schooner," The six of them started down the steep hill, and picked up a momentum that approached that of an express train. In overhauling a smaller sleigh Williams, who was steering, attempted to turn out and pass it. The runner of the front sled on the schoonhowever, struck a rut and pitched schooner out of the road. Williams lost his grip and crashed into a tree. He was picked up more dead than alive, with both legs broken above the knee. The other boys, being behind him, were not hurt, and were able to carry Williams to his home. Drs. S. H. Allen and A. McCurtain were summoned, and af-ter reducing the fractures removed the patient to the hospital.

LOOKS LIKE REVENGE.

To the Editor:

Salt Lake City, Dec. 9 .- Two of the busiest men around the city and county building the last few days have been ex-County Commissioners Harker and Horne, who are helping out the Tribune in its libel suit. There are frequent and prolonged consultations, and diligent searching of records, to find any-thing that can be used or distorted to bolster up the Tribune in its libelous course; and now that Mr. Jones' side of the case, by its clear presentation of the facts, makes the showing that the infirmary affairs have been capably and honestly conducted the past four years, there is more squirming than ever on the part of those who instigat-ed and published the libel. It will be remembered that originally the house remembered that originally the basis of the course of these two ex-commis-sioners was claimed to be in the fact that Mr. Jones did not support them for re-election in 1902. Proprietor of Cullen Hotel Expires Unexpectedly From Heart Failure.

TOOK A DOSE OF DIGITALIS.

Had Been Ailing Somewhat But Condition Was Not Considered Very Serious.

Proprietor Samuel C. Ewing of the Cullen hotel died suddenly at 2 p. m. today, from taking a teaspoonful of digitalis, where he should have taken a few drops in part of a glass of water. Mr. Ewing has been troubled of late with slight attacks of weakness of the heart, and has as a remedy been taking a weak tincture of digitalis. This af-ternoon, by mistake he took a tea-spoonful of the strong liquor instead of a teaspoonful of the weak solution, and in an instant the action of his heart was paralyzed, and he sank into un-consciousness. His sister-in-law, Mrs Alma Crandall, who was in the room with him attending the baby, immediately rung up the office, and medical help was at once summoned; but the unfortunate man was dying when the doctors appeared, and in a few seconds was dead. The bedy was at once removed to S. D. Evans' morgue, where it will remain pending funeral arrangements.
