

THE MORMON CAR.

BY JOHN TAYLOR.

"Put 'em through by daylight."—A. Robbins.
 "Let her rip, and let her roll."—Dr. Clinton.
 "Ticket the baggage for Salt Lake."—N. H. Felt.
 "Look out for the engine when the bell rings."—Judge Dunlin.

TUNE—"Jeanette and Jeanot."

The Mormon Car is moving, and has been in motion long;
 At first her power was feeble, but now its getting strong;
 And having started on the track, the best that we can do
 Is to keep the car in motion, and pop her quickly through.
 We have a good Conductor, and a Brakesman with his force;
 Who, when a danger threatens, can stop the Iron Horse.
 We've an Engineer and Fireman, and an Engine good and true;
 Then let's keep the car in motion, and pop her quickly through.
 She has had a few collisions, as she's moved along her track;
 And been jostled, crush'd, and splinter'd, but she never would go back;
 And though opposed by every power, she's ne'er collaps'd
 a flue;
 But let on steam, and clear'd the track, and pop'd her quickly through.
 She's had stations with the Buckeyes, and with Pukes
 and Suckers too,
 Who prophesied the Mormon Car could never travel
 through;
 But on a solid track, and fired up, with Deseret in view,
 She's disappointed all their hopes, and popped her quickly through.
 She's friends around, in every land, in nations near and far,
 Who're calling for the pure in heart to step into the Car.
 They will station them, and ticket them—what more, then,
 can they do,
 Than to tell them all to step aboard, and she will pop them through?
 And to thousands now in every clime, who're hastening to their home;
 Who, like "doves unto their windows," or in "ships of Tarshish come,"
 There's a place for all, a home for all, in Deseret for you;
 Then never faint, but go ahead, and pop her quickly
 through.
 We have tried her on Religion, and she's distanc'd every clan;
 We're running now with Politics, and soon we'll take the van;
 Our banner floats for all men who do the right pursue;
 Who vice despise and virtue love, we'll pop them quickly
 through.
 We've been long enough in leading-strings, and can't with patience wait;
 But we'll make our bow to Uncle Sam, and ask to be a State.
 And then with Brigham at the head, and Jed' and Heber too,
 We'll all unite, with consent, and pop her quickly through.
