LITTLE MILADI LINGERIE.

This summer little girls are literally to be garbed in lingerie from head to foot. Not only are white frocks trimmed elaborately with flouncings, beadings and edgings of fine muslin embroidery, but the big white hats, which are set well back from the brow, are formed entirely of fine needlework trimmings. The crowns of such hats may be of the square Corday order, or mob shape, or have flat-topped, puffy-shaped tops. The brims are invariably frilly, for several rows of accordion, knife or box plaited lace and embroidery ruffles are employed in their making. The crown base is outlined with a flower wreath or with twisted satin ribbon, which falls in loops and ends over the back. This may be drawn forward and tied beneath the chin, thus transforming the headgear into a bonnet.

SLEEVELESS COATS A PRONOUNCED FAD OF THE SEASON.

The fancy of the feminine sex for flowered fabrics has extended even to the sleeveless coats, which are worn with matching gowns and with those in contrasting effects. Some of the Empires coats to be worn with soft silk and lingerie gowns are of old brocade and pompadour flowered silk, trimmed elaborately with white lace bandings, medallions and motifs, the short-waisted backs defined by means of soutache and cable cordings and the cordings and the fronts closing with cordage cabachons or olives. When you realize that ninety-nine hair preparations out of a hundred, depend almost entirely upon Tincture of Cantharides for any good they may do, is it any wonder that people fail to get beneficial results from them.

Tincture of Cantharides is made by soaking foul smelling green bugs or flies—that have first been dried and powdered—in alcohol and filtering out the sediment. The practice of using Cantharides began centuries ago, when it was thought that a diseased scalp required an irritant. The utter uselessness of continuing to put these dead bugs into hair remedies, became apparent when the European Dermatologist, Dr. Unna (ask your doctor about him) discovered that dandruff is caused by a germ or microbe; in reality an invisible vegetable growth, that can be passed from one head to another.

An authority says, "Any successful scalp treatment must be based on the recognition of the microbe theory," and further, "What on earth gave Cantharides its reputation in hair remedies, is more than I know. It is tradition of a century and it is all nonsense. Cantharides cuts into the scarf skin and causes inflammation. It is made of dead bugs, and it furnishes exactly the element of decomposition that scalp microbes thrive upon."

Newbro's Herpicide, the ORIGINAL Remedy that kills the dandruff germ, contains no Cantharides in any form whatsoever. It is made upon the known principle that dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair, as well as dull, brittle and lusterless hair, are caused by a germ or microbe that finds lodgment in the sebaceous glands of the hair, follicles in the scalp.

It should be understood that Newbro's Herpicide does not instantly destroy all of the thousands of colonies of microbes in a diseased scalp, as a live electric wire might be expected to destroy its victims. The microbic growth occurs just beneath the surface of the scalp, therefore, patience and reasonable intelligence are required, but under such conditions Newbro's Herpicide gives results that are often almost marvelous. Even in ordinary use it gives more actual and positive benefit than do all other hair remedies combined. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

Dr. V. T. McGillicuddy, Medical Inspector Mutual Life Ins. Co., N. Y., of Denver, Colo., writes as follows:

"Knowing the composition of Herpicide I can state that it contains nothing injurious. Its use will cure and prevent a recurrence of dandruff. It is an elegant and ideal hair dressing."

DURING THIS HOT WEATHER people who take pride in extreme cleanliness will find Newbro's Herpicide a positive delight. It cools and comforts the skin and scalp, and at the same time is highly detergent and sanitary. It is indispensable to sufferers from excessive perspiration or prickly heat. Newbro's Herpicide contains no oil or grease. It will not stain or dye.
