

JOHN NICHOLSON IS LAID TO REST

Many Friends Assemble at the Bier of the Man So Beloved.

ELOQUENT PRAISE BESTOWED

Speakers Pay Tribute to the Memory of One of the Noble Workers for The Uplift of Man.

The eighteenth ward chapel was filled to overflowing yesterday afternoon on the occasion of the obsequies of John Nicholson. The high esteem in which he was held was attested by the representative gathering, assembled to honor his memory. On the stand were presidents Joseph P. Smith, John R. Winder and Anthony H. Lund, the majority of members of the council of apostles and of the presiding council of seventy, Bishop Charles W. Nibley and other leading Church officials. Late associates of Elder Nicholson in the temple, of which he was for many years recorder, were in attendance.

The speakers were Elders Robert Patrick, Orson P. Whitney, Bishop George Romney, Bishop Charles W. Nibley, and Presidents Winder and Smith, in the order named. The remarks of Elder Whitney were devoted to the most part to a resume of the life and labors of Elder Nicholson, the speaker having been the biographer of the deceased and in a position to speak as perhaps no one else could of the greatness of soul of his friend and fellow laborer.

FAVORITE HYMN SANG.

Musical for the occasion was furnished by the temple choir, under direction of Conductor Charles J. Thomas. The words of the first selection, "Come follow me, the Savior said," were written by Elder Nicholson. Other numbers were "Who are these arrayed in white," duet by Mrs. Lizzie Thomas and her husband, and "There is light beyond the shadows," by Mrs. Edward. Elder John T. Caine offered the opening prayer, and President Anthony H. Lund pronounced the benediction. The grave in city cemetery was dedicated by Elder Duncan M. McAllister. The pallbearers were Elder W. Young, Thomas R. Cutler, David L. Davis, Elias A. Smith, William Salmon and Joseph Christensen. Many beautiful floral tributes were in evidence, among them being a piece from the "News," where for many years he was editor.

TO IMPROVE MT. OLIVET.

Manager Russell L. Tracy of Mt. Olivet cemetery expresses his gratification at the kindly interest taken in securing additional land for the cemetery by both the Utah senators and Congressman Howell. He says they left no stone unturned to get the much needed land. He says the military reservation, and the success of their efforts leaves the cemetery corporation in excellent condition. The land includes the westernmost strip of the Fort Douglas reservation immediately south of the cemetery, where it is of no practical use to the government, and as soon as it is formally handed over to the corporation, a landscape artist will plant it with walks, roads and lots, an abundance of shade trees will be set out, and Mr. Tracy proposes to have the extended cemetery made as attractive as any in the United States. It is expected that the improvements will cost $20,000 or over.

MATrimonIAL TESTS DAILY DISSOLVED

Two Divorces and Action on
Two Others Come Before Judge Morse.

PHONOGRAPH STARTS GRIEF.

Causes Husband to Knock Wife to the Floor—Five Dollars Begins Excitement in Another Family.

The granting of two divorces, the postponement of another for one week and the fixing of alimony pending the hearing of still another constituted the program in Judge Morse's division of the district court yesterday afternoon. The case that afforded the most interest to the spectators was that of Anna M. Friedel against Joseph Friedel. The plaintiff had asked the court to issue a restraining order, prohibiting her husband from interfering with her, or their child, the allegation being made that he had threatened to kill them both. Alimony pending a hearing of the case was also asked for and granted, though the court held that a restraining order was not necessary.

Testimony in the case was given by Mrs. Friedel, by her mother, Mrs. Amanda Peterson, and by plaintiff's sister, Miss Myrtle Parker. The evidence of all three was to the effect that Friedel had in numerous occasions created disturbances at the home of Mrs. Peterson, where the Friedels lived. If the wife went into another room, the husband would accuse her of neglecting him for other persons and a stormy scene would follow. Differences arose between the couple on Christmas day because the husband did not come home until nearly morning. On this occasion Friedel threatened to "clean out the bunch," but fled from the house upon the approach of an officer.

FRIEDEL TRIES TO TALK.

The defendant sought to show that a number of suitors, including soldiers, were responsible for the differences between himself and his wife. He was informed by the court that his story could be heard when the case came to trial. In answer to questions, Friedel said that he was employed at the Hub clothing store and received $12 a week. Of this amount he paid $2.50 a week for board and $5 for a meal ticket, which left him but little money. From the fact that Mrs. Friedel is working for $5 a week to support herself and child, Judge Morse decided that Friedel should pay her $12 a month, and $10 days before the divorce proceedings come to trial he is to give her $25.

DECREE IN SHORT ORDER.

Nina H. Hoster was granted a divorce from Jacob Hoster, upon grounds of failure to provide. The complaint was filed in the afternoon and was taken immediately into court. Mrs. Hoster enumerated several instances of cruel treatment and abuse received from her husband, who she described as a gambler. One time he struck her because she had a lady friend at the house and was entertaining her with phonograph selections. She refused to put on boxing gloves with him on one occasion, and was knocked down for her refusal. Corroborative evidence was given by Mrs. C. W. Steers. The divorce was granted by Judge Morse, Jan. 29, 1909.

ROW OVER FIVE DOLLARS.

F. A. Davis knocked his wife down because she sold a gold piece into the slot of a telephone by mistake, according to the testimony of Mrs. Resa M. Davis. The allegations were proved to the satisfaction of the court and Mrs. Davis received a decree dissolving the bonds of matrimony previously existing between them. The couple married at Great Falls, Mont., in 1904.

IN THE CASE OF ELIA SIMPSON HENDERSON.

versus Harry Clinton Simpson, a postponement was made for one week. The complaint was filed yesterday, and it is the plaintiff's alleged non-support on the part of defendant, the couple having been married but a little over two months.

CONTROVERSY OVER ROADS.

Atty. Gen. Gives an Opinion as to Private and Dedicated Thoroughfares

Attorney General Barnes is in receipt of a query from County Attorney R. W. King of Millard county, relative to operation of roads.

"Roadways have been made through land owned by individuals, these roads are sometimes long lanes, and some have turned out to be streets in some of our little towns. Now the question is this, the county wants to fix and turnpike some of these roads, but the owners of the land through which the roads run, refuse to allow the county to do anything with the roads, but travel over them, claiming that they pay the taxes on the land over which the roads run, and that the county has no right to travel over them, but not to disturb the soil. It is true that these individuals pay taxes on the land over which the roads run, and of course hold the title to the land. Now we want to fix these roads and make them better for the public. They refuse to let us have the right to go ahead, notwithstanding their protest."

The attorney says: "The question to determine is, has there been a dedication to the public of these roads?"

Section 1112 of the Compiled Laws of Utah, provides as follows:

"When deemed dedicated. A highway shall be deemed to have been dedicated and abandoned to the use of the public when it has been continuously used as a public thoroughfare for a period of 10 years."

Furthermore: The payment of taxes assessed by the local authorities is evidence tending to defeat the presumption of dedication, but the mere payment of taxes will not rebut a presumption arising from the conduct and circumstances when they are such as to clearly indicate an intent to dedicate."

"If there has been a dedication, and from your standpoint I am inclined to believe there has been, then I am satisfied that while the fee may remain in the dedicators, yet the county commissioners have such control over such roads as to permit them to proceed to turnpike and fix the same in as far as may be necessary for the safe and convenient use of such roads by the public."

UNCLE SAM'S ASSAY OFFICE OPENS FOR BUSINESS MONDAY.

J. U. ELDRIDGE, JR., AT HIS DESK IN U. S. ASSAY OFFICE.

On Monday morning Uncle Sam's new assay office on Market street will be thrown open for business and the first gold bullion purchased by the government within the state of Utah will be made. Everything was in readiness to open the office today, but it was thought best not to open until the first of the month. The office opens with eight persons employed and a small amount of business ready.

The office which has been organized under the direction of L. S. Kerfoot, chief clerk of the Seattle office, has been formally turned over to the assayer in charge, J. U. Eldredge, Jr. Mr. Eldredge has appointed John L. May, cashier and the other appointments are temporary until the legible list arrives from Washington, when the permanent appointments will undoubtedly be made permanent.

Burl Armstrong has been appointed clerk temporarily, as have been the other appointments. In the melting room, Arthur E. Custer is the melter and Charles Gammon, assistant melter. James H. Hance, who has had considerable experience in the business in the Seattle office is the assayer. Until an assistant is appointed Mr. Kerfoot will assist in the assaying. Norman C. Hopper, the bicycle rider who met with an accident last summer which left him unable to continue as a watch merchant, will be the assistant watchman at the office, while Arthur A. Macke will be the valuer.

A. J. Bretland, government instructor, will be here shortly to instruct the assayers so that the office will start out in perfect condition. Mr. Kerfoot, who has had considerable experience in the government service will remain at the office until everything is in perfect running order. With the instructions of Mr. Bretland, the assayers will be put in touch with all the best methods of working.

The object of an assay office is simply to purchase gold in the community and thereby promote the mining industry. The government has found that by putting in an assaying office in a locality it is a great recommendation to the mining men, lessens the expense to market bullion, and promotes the industry of the territory. The office is in fact an adjunct to the mint as the bullion purchased goes to Uncle Sam's money factory.

Bullion is paid for by the office as soon as it is melted and assayed. A fixed charge of $1 is made for this process and is paid by the person making the deposit. There are several other small charges made. The reason for melting the bullion is to protect the government and in that manner it is always possible to tell exactly what is bought. Otherwise a bar might be filled with lead or any base metal which the eye or superficial assay of the bar could not detect.

To assay a bar of metal for the United States, two assays are required. One will make an assay, say from the upper right hand edge of the gold bar that has been melted. The other assay will make his assay from the edge diagonally situated. In this manner the top and bottom of the bar are tested so that the purity of the metal is made certain. Otherwise the top might show a small amount of gold while the amount proportionally, throughout would be far greater than that shown on top.

The office does not buy gold alone, but the silver that is in the gold presented for purchase, is also paid for. Relative to this the office has two rules. Nothing will be accepted over 800 base and the value of gold must be in times the value of silver. Thus, taking 1,000 parts as the means of measurement, a gold bar containing up to 300 parts of base metal will be accepted.

Silver is paid for, when it comes in connection with the gold metal, at the market price, which is sometimes higher and sometimes lower than the price at which it is being bought and sold, but is close enough to make the ratio as near as possible. P. A. Lynch, director of the mint at Washington, has charge of the fixing of this price and he sends out orders as to the price to be paid.

AMUSEMENTS.

Sallie Fisher's Success.—As noted in the New York letter of the "News," Sallie Fisher has joined the list of Salt Lake artists who are playing on Broadway. After an engagement of eight months, in Chicago, running through last summer, fall, and the present winter, the production of "A Stubborn Cinderella," with Miss Fisher in the title role, was removed to the Broadway theater, New York, last Monday night. Tuesday morning's papers, especially the American, are very enthusiastic over the production, and Miss Fisher and Jack Barrymore, the leaders of the company, are called the undoubted stars.

The piece is in for an indefinite run in New York.

Sothern's Western Success.—A special dispatch to the "News" from San Francisco, dated yesterday, says that Mr. Sothern opened at the Van Ness theater in "Richellee" Thursday night. The general opinion is that he achieved one of the triumphs of his career. He selected San Francisco as the place for his first performance of "Richellee" because it was the home of the on famous California stock company, where Booth, Barrett, McClellan, and other famous actors essayed the same role. Mr. Sothern's Salt Lake dates are Feb. 19, 20, and 21. His bill will list "Lord Dandereary," "Richellee," "Rich and Loveless," and "Hamlet."

Empire Theater.—A dancing subject entitled "Lazelle," will be the feature next week at this moving picture house.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Last night Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Newhouse entertained at a dinner in honor of Miss Mary Moore and Jasper McCaskell, the table being beautifully decorated in green and white, with a basket of white roses and carnations for a centerpiece surrounded with ferns and smilax, and lighted by crystal candelabra in green and white shades. The place cards had the name of the hostess in gold. Covers were laid for these guests, Miss Moore and Mr. McCaskell, Miss Georgina Moore, Mrs. Arthur Bird, Mrs. M. A. Stingley, Miss McCornick, Miss Genevieve McCornick, Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Judge, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Campbell, James and Walker Salisbury, Henry and Albert McCornick, Irvin Armstrong and J. T. Goodwin.

A delightful affair of last night was the dancing party at Odson hall given by members of the local chapter of the American Institute of Handicrafts. A large number were present and the music, refreshments and all details were delightful. A unique feature was the form of the program, which represented bank deposits, and had the chapter monogram on the cover.

Mrs. Frank Johnson entertained at luncheon yesterday for Mrs. W. H.

ley and Jonquil and the place cards having the monogram of the hostess. Covers were laid for a dozen.

Another pleasant affair of yesterday was the card-party given by Miss Vera Dean and Miss Carrie Patrick, the decorations being carried out in carnations and ferns, and the hostesses being assisted by Mrs. Fred Barnes, and the Misses Gladys Denn, Lizzie Patrick, Minnie Thorn and Jean Ingles.

Prof. G. A. Eaton entertained the champion football team of 99 at a banquet last night at the high school, the table being effectively decorated in the black and red, and covers laid for 25 guests.

A pretty luncheon of yesterday was that given by Miss Mildred McMillan in honor of Miss Sarah Terrell, the table being decorated in lilacs of the val-

Catarth of Stomach.

REV. J. T. PEELER, Hendersonville, S. C., writes:

"I desire to make known for the benefit of suffering humanity my experience with Peruna."

"I was afflicted with catarrh of the stomach, and though I tried many remedies and applied to several doctors, it was all in vain."

"Had it not been for Peruna I believe I would have been in my grave today. I have every reason to believe that Peruna is the greatest remedy for catarrh known to the world. Therefore I have been, and shall continue to recommend it to those who are unwell."

REV. J. G. DUKES, Pastor of the Unitarian Church at Pinetown, N. C., writes:

"My wife has been in a very bad state of health for several years, and nothing seemed to do her any good until she began to use Peruna one month ago. Since then the color has returned to her face, and she is gaining in flesh every day, and I believe she is a well woman today."

"My little boy, ten years old, was pale and had but little life. He began to use Peruna the day his mother began. Today his face is rosy, and he is out in the yard running and jumping with the rest of the children."

Throat Trouble.

Rev. H. W. Tate, 929 Lincoln Ave., Walnut Hills, Cincinnati, Ohio, writes that for several years he has been troubled with a peculiar spasmodic affection of the throat, which interfered with his vocation as a preacher. He took Peruna and his trouble disappeared.

1909 census has been very rapid. The increase in building permits alone for the years 1907 and 1908 was nearly $2,000,000. The city has grown so rapidly that I have asked for an increase in the fire department of 10 men, an extra ladder truck with full complement of men, a 3-foot water tower with all appurtenances, and 3,000 feet of hose, in order to keep up with the pace.

It might add that the building permits up to Jan. 25 are more than double those for the same month for the last three years.

His Letter to General Agent of National Board Tells Good Story.

That Chief W. H. Glore of the fire department believes in saying good things about Salt Lake City is shown by a letter he has received from H. K. Miller, general agent of the National Board of Fire Underwriters of New York City. The letter follows:

"We desire to acknowledge receipt of your valued report of fire in your city for 1908. We notice the large increase in population, which leads us to believe that some additional territory may have been added since the government estimate, 61,200, made in 1900, your present estimate, 112,246. While we are reluctant to trouble you further, yet we should be very glad to hear from you on this point."

Chief Glore replied as follows:

"Yours of Jan. 2 to hand, and in reply would say that the increase of population of Salt Lake City since the
