

Volume for This Year Shows Population of 116, 230 for City and Suburbs.

The new city directory will be ready for delivery tomorrow to R. L. Polk & Co., from the Deseret News bindery; Manager Cooper for R. L. Polk & Co. the publishers, says; This volume contains by actual count 58,115 names-an increase of 1,942 over our 1908 volume. This does not include the names of firms or corporations, removals or death notices. That Salt Lake City has grown steadily in popumovals or death notices. That Salt Jake City has grown steadily in popu-lation during the past year is hereby shown beyond a doubt. Using the multiple of 2 (the lowest used by any directory publisher), we estimate the present population of Salt Lake City and the suburbs to be 116,230. We have for several years past made a com-plete and accurate canvass of all the suburbs, including Ft. Douglas, Murray, Sandy, West Jordan and Garfield, where we always obtain hundreds of names which will be found in the columns of this work, and which make it much more valuable as a book of reference than it would be, were we to leave out the suburbs and present to the public a directory containing the names of our citizens living within the edity limits only. When these facts are taken into consideration, one can read-ily account for any difference there may be between the figures of the United States so-called "official" census and those of our estimate as to the ex-est monulation. and those of our estimate as to the exact population.

Rose and Cummings Join Warden

Pratt's Lockstep Club.

Under guard of Sheriff Sharp and Deputy Sheriff Steele, W. O. Rose and John H. Cummings, the self-confessed highwaymen, were taken to the state prison yesterday afternoon to begin the service of their imprisonment for the attempted robbery of Cashier D. F.

Although sentenced to five years, the men obey the prison rules and be on their good behavior, they will be released Dec. 12, 1912, the merits for good conduct reducing the five year period 20 months. Their sentence is equivalent to three years and four months.

The combination of the day and date, Friday the 23, proved the hoodoo for the two men who are thought to have been implicated in a number of the more recent daring hold-ups, and with-in 10 days after they had waylaid Cashier Sweet in the hallway of the Commercial club building, they were in the penitentiary.

Commercial club building, they were in the penitentiary. Both Rose and Cummings wore a cheery air on their way to the state prison yesterday, accepting the fate that the turn of the cards had brought. Since they had been caught they seem-ed anxious to begin their terms as soon as possible so that, as Cummings ex-pressed it "we can get it over with and

"The electrification of the Salt Lake & Ogden railroad will be completed in November," said Simon Bamberger, president of the road, this morning. in position. Moreover, it is all paid for, and just as soon as the work can be accomplished the wires will be strung and the work completed. "Most of the poles for the line have already been set. Along the line between towns the poles are in position, and in most of the villages and towns the work of setting the poles in concrete has been completed. We expect to begin work stringing wire today. "The first wire will be strung from Lagoon north to Ogden, as there is less traffic on that end of the line during the summer resort season. A train car-rying the wire and equipment will ac-company the party of men working on the line, and the wire will be lifted from the train and placed in position at the same time. "We expect to complete the work in 59 days, and early in November everything should be in readiness to receive the equipment and to commence operating the electric cars. There will be 16 mo-tor cars and trailers sufficient to handle all business. These cars have been or-dered for delivery the middle of August, so that they will be here in ample time to be placed in service immediately upon the completion of the electrification of the line." and just as soon as the work can be

DESERET EVENING NEWS MONDAY 'AUGUST 2 1909

With her new and original twist to the gentle art of duping merchants Salt Lake's "Saturday night forger" seems to have chosen the wide United States as her territory, and seems, too, to be making good. It has just been | learned that she bobbed up in Denver a week ago Saturday, and using the same methods practised in Salt Lake on the previous Saturday night, succeeded in fleecing 16 merchants. The forger, described as pretty, and The forger, described as pretty, and dressed in smart fashion, has developed a system of her own. In Sait Lake she impersonated Miss Lilly M. Impressive Service Conducted in Masonic Temple Yesterday.

Beautiful and impressive were the funeral services of Walter Scott, at the Masonic Temple yesterday afternoon. The services were held at 2:30 and were conducted by Wasatch lodge No. 1, of which the deceased was a member at the time of his death. He was past known. Many members of other lodges attended the services and followed the remains to the grave. Rev. S. H. Goodwin of Provo and mas-

SLAUGHTER HOUSES

Five slaughtering plants in this city are affected by Salt Lake City's new meat ordinance, which goes into effect today. One of the plants, the Utah Packing company, is already under government or city inspection, and must bear either the government or the city's stamp. Veal slaughtered within one-mile of the city limits will have to bear the government or the city stamp, and veal slaughtered outside of the jurisdiction of the city pure food au-thorities will have to bear a certificate from the original slaughtherer to the effect that they are pure. One provision of the new ordinance requires the establishment and main-tenance of slaughtering houses along absolutely sanitary lines. The tools used must be kept clean and properly used, all blood must be disposed of so that no offensive odors shall remain. Unhealthy animals must not be slaugh-tered, and the floors of slaughter houses government or city inspection, and must

The ordinance provides for the em-ployment of a chief inspector, whose salary shall be $1.500 per year, and of deputies to the number deemed neces. sary by the chief inspector and the council. The salary for the deputies is placed at $30 per month. Both the chief inspector and all deputies must be veterinarians. It is understood most of the slaughter houses affected are in good condi-tion. The ordinance is modeled after the government pure-food standards, is of far-reaching effect, and will mean much for the health of the people of this icty if properly enforced.

Says a Tramp After Enjoying a Repast of Chicken.

Even though he made a rather hurried leave-taking, an unknown tramp still showed his gallantry last night by leaving a note of appreciation for a chicken repast to which he had not been invited. "My dear Fruiend, Mrs. J .--- This hite of which I have partaken has given me new ambishun. Please look over my misgivings. A tramp on the Better Road."

over my misgivings. A tramp on the Better Road." This note left on the kitchen table m the roominghouse at 18½ east First South street, of which Mrs. Emma Johnson is the proprietress, was sub-stantiated so far as the truthfulness of the "new ambishun." It was shown in his even wild desire to make his escape from the house choosing as the better road the window of a bathroom and a fire escape. The tramp had just finished his chicken dinner shortly after midnight and was leaving the hallway when he was discovered by Mrs. Johnson. When she raised an alarm the tramp took refuge in a bathroom, where thinking to corner him those outside locked the door. Then the police ar-rived on a hurry call, but the bird an open window leading to a fire an open window leading to a fire escape,
