Office Seekers.

There is a report in circulation, but not very widely spread as yet, that, even in this Territory, where office-seeking and place-hunting operations are held in the utmost contempt by the permanent citizens generally as an evil which they do not wish to have introduced nor encouraged here, there are a few individuals who have expressed a desire to become incumbents of some office of honor, profit or trust, they have had severally in view, and have complained that the people did not appreciate their abilities and pre-eminent qualifications sufficiently to place them in the position sought.

Such men, if any there be—and we are inclined to believe that the report is not wholly untrue—have of course given up all hopes of attaining what they desire, or they are not sufficiently acquainted with the people who have the gift to bestow, to know how they despise office seekers, as such, and will not knowingly give a man an office that he may "eat a piece of bread," who is too lazy, when able, to earn it by the sweat of his brow; otherwise they would not be so free in expressing their opinions.

Broken down politicians, disappointed office seekers and hosts of aspirants for place, for political honors and preferment, rush into the Territories of the United States, as soon as, and often before there is any organization effected, who invariably become a curse to community and a detriment to the growth and prosperity of the country where they reside. However, there has but very few of that detestable class of beings immigrated to this Territory, and fewer still who have manifested a desire for preferment on their arrival here; and it is the last place on earth to which office seekers should go, thinking to succeed in their profession.

We are somewhat surprised when it is so well known that such gentlemen are not wanted in Utah, that any person should have the audacity to make himself known as such. According to Scripture there is but one way for a fool to hide his folly, and that is by holding his peace—a precaution which those who have an exalted opinion of themselves and of their fitness for official stations do not often take.

Utah County Educational Convention.

In this number will be found the proceedings of the Utah County Educational Convention, held in Provo on the 29th of July, which came to hand in season but were excluded last week for want of room.

Good will unquestionably result from that movement to the citizens of that county and especially to the rising generation, and we trust that those who have been or may be entrusted with the educational interests of the people in other counties will profit by the example that has thus been set, and not be behind in any thing that will tend to the advancement of the good work which has been commenced and will continue if those interested will it, till many of the difficulties which now exist are overcome, and better schools and more of them are taught throughout the Territory, and a sufficiency of suitable school books are introduced or published to supply the pressing demand.

DEATH FROM THE BITE OF A SCORPION.

On the 2d inst., early in the morning, Mrs. Ruth Bittsworth Clark, of Sagar House Ward, was bitten on the neck by a scorpion, while asleep. The family, not suspecting the real cause of the inflammation which immediately set in, were not so vigilant and energetic as they might have been. She suffered intensely during Thursday and Friday—the swelling spreading rapidly over her neck and breast. Dr. Lee was sent for on Saturday, but too late to render the suffering woman any assistance, and she expired about 10 o'clock that evening.

We would recommend to all who may be so unfortunate as to be bitten with scorpions or any other venomous insect or reptile, to apply the following remedy without delay:

Take a little aqua ammonia, apply it as a lotion to the poisoned part, until the inflammation is reduced, and the venom extracted, which can be accomplished in an incredibly short space of time.

ELECTION RETURNS.—In the absence of any Secretary of the Territory, the Clerks of the County Courts should, in our opinion, make their returns of the late election to His Excellency the Governor.

BOWERY.

On Sunday morning, Aug. 12, at 10 o'clock, Elder J. V. Long preached from the following text: "For the priest's lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the law at his mouth: for he is the messenger of the Lord of Hosts." Malachi, 2 chapter, 7 verse.

In the afternoon, Elder T. B. H. Stenhouse bore testimony to the truth of the gospel as taught by the Latter Day Saints. He knew the work in which he was engaged to be supported by the Lord of Hosts, and the whole congregation were witnesses to the same thing. Said, we have not made "Mormonism," but it has made us what we are. His experience in the church had been different from that of many other men. Alluded to the extension of the gospel to the nations by the Spirit and power of God, the travels of the church, and the views of the wicked in relation to it; remarked that the world have found a power in "Mormonism" which they cannot cope with. The happiest moments of his life had been in testifying to the truth and in doing that which was right.

President Brigham Young observed that all those who have the mind of Christ within them are very desirous to have that influence extended abroad. He wished the Elders to be filled with the power of God, that their words might be the words of life to the people. If the angel Gabriel were to stand before the people and not utter a word, the influence that would be felt by the people would be like fire in their bones. Many of the Elders have gone forth to the nations and testified to the people, and those who have gone forth in the spirit and power of their callings will reap the fruit of their labors. He desired to see the brethren and sisters that gather to this Territory be faithful to their religion, and not grumble and complain at the providences of God; to do their duty, no matter who might sin, and then they would be right. Spoke of his being charged with being connected with the "Vigilance Committee" of California, the "Tea trade" of China, concocting a plan to bring the U. S. Army to Utah, and of being the cause of all the thefts and murders committed here; but he could say honestly that he had never had an intimation of any of the riots, or murders until after they had transpired. In referring to some remarks made by one of the preceding speakers on the division and opposition that exists in the political world, he said, the opposition they so much love and encourage, is the knife that will cut their own throats and send them to hell, and declared this to be the church and people that will take the Kingdom and possess it for ever and ever.

ANOTHER BOY KILLED.—To the number of fatal occurrences that have transpired this season we have to add the death of a lad about ten years old, son of Mr. John Proctor of this city, an active, intelligent boy, who accidentally fell under the stone of an old fashioned barkmill, which weighs about two tons, on the 2d inst. at the tannery of Mr. Brim, in the First Ward, and was so badly injured that he died on the morning of the 7th, although great efforts were made to save him.

There has more accidents occurred in this vicinity, resulting in death, within the last few months than ever before known in these valleys—during the same length of time; some resulting from carelessness, others from causes over which mortal man has not supreme control; but, if not mistaken in our conclusions, by far the greatest number of casualties that have brought sorrow and mourning into the circles of relatives and friends might have been prevented, if proper care had been taken by those who were surrounded by dangers and they had cautiously avoided exposing themselves unnecessarily to the shafts of death.

We are not aware that any person was to blame in this instance; but it should be a warning to boys, as well as men, to be on their guard and keep out of danger as much as possible when there is no necessity for being reckless.

The Government and the Contractors.

The Herald's Washington correspondent telegraphs "that Majors, Russell & Co., of the Pony Express establishment, received a warrant upon the Treasury lately for $67,000, in consideration of past mail service rendered. The Government is still largely in the debt of this firm for valuable trains of merchandise, destroyed on the plains by the Indians during the Utah rebellion, in consequence of the Government failing to furnish the necessary escort authorized in their contract."
