Local and Other Matters.

FROM THURSDAYS DAILY, JULY 5

Disagreeable.—What disagreeable weather to-day, and for several days past! Dust and wind. Wind and dust.

Rushing Up.—The way the new addition to the jail is going up, it bids fair to be completed in but a little while. Mr. Peter Reid is doing the carpenter work.

Fire.—A stable belonging to Mr.
Martin Florida, in the Seventh Ward, was destroyed by fire this afternoon. The fire brigade was out. A few hundred dollars will cover the damage.

In Town.—Lieut. Wheeler and members of his exploring expedition arrived in the city this morning. They were met at the depot by General John E. Smith and other officers from Camp Douglas.

Quiet Fourth.—The city was more generally quiet yesterday than on Independence Day for many years.

A feature was that the police did not have occasion to make a single arrest.

The Quietest.—The night of the 3rd of July this year was exceedingly quiet in this city. The corresponding night last year there was an incessant firing of guns and fireworks until one or two o'clock the next morning, so that people could scarcely sleep. But the present year there was little or no annoyance of the kind.

Mashed His Face.—This afternoon George Stickney, alias "Cay-use George," met Fred. Humphreys, in front of the Overland House, East Temple Street, and gave him a terrible beating. He inflicted a deep cut in his nose and a couple of terrible gashes in the right cheek, below the eye. Humphreys was so badly used as to render him insensible for a considerable time. Stickney was arrested.

Saw Mill Burned.—The following came in this afternoon, per Deseret Telegraph—

RICHFIELD,
July 5th, 1877.

Last Tuesday afternoon, our steam saw-mill was entirely destroyed by fire. No lumber, cattle, nor anything at all left. It burned everything for several miles around.
The fire was caused by a spark flying out of the smoke stack. Loss not estimated.

Information Wanted.—If the Brother Williams, mentioned in a letter of Brother David M. Stewart, from Clinton, Fulton Co., Ills., under date of May 31, and published in the News of June 27th, be David Williams, formerly of Merthyr Tidfil, Wales, he will confer a favor on the undersigned by communicating to her his address.

MARY PICTON,
Centre Settlement, Tooele Co., Utah.

The National Bird.—We learn, by letter from "J. Y. D." from Bloomington, that a fine, large bald eagle was shot and killed by Albert Dunford, of that settlement, on his father's place, on the evening of July 1st. The bird measured seven feet from the tip of one wing to the other, and two feet eight inches from the point of the beak to the tip of the tail.

That national bird of freedom should have delayed his visit to Bloomington till the "Fourth," to take part in the celebration proceedings.

Medal Match.—The third medal match of the Amateur Rifle Club came off yesterday, resulting in Mr. Egli winning the medal for the second time. The following is the score—

E. Egli - - - 444534344439
C. Hawkins - 444444344338
J. Woodmansee 534344353438
A. Brim - - - 424444354438
Wm. Hill - - - 43434334435
R. Hawkins - 344304432431

Caution.—Persons traveling on the old Tooele road are apt to get into trouble and deep water at the same time, by attempting to cross the new canal that runs along the ridge west of Jordan. By going a few rods south of the road, they will find a bridge over the canal which is just opposite the new bridge between the 6th Ward and old Jordan bridges. A notice to this effect fastened on the telegraph pole near the point at issue would benefit the traveling public.

Emigrants Arrived.—The first company of this season's emigration from Europe arrived on Tuesday.
They were nearly all from England and Scotland, and appeared to be a fine, healthy lot of people. A large proportion of them left the cars at Ogden, for the purpose of locating in the northern settlements. We understand the oldest person in the company was Mrs. E.
Nicholson, aged seventy-five years, who arrived in excellent health.
Her husband, Mr. John Nicholson, Sen., aged sixty-seven years, also arrived at the same time. They are the parents of Mr. Nicholson, of this office.

Boat Missing.—Some anxiety has been felt by the friends of Mr.
Leonard Hudson, and two other gentlemen, of the 19th Ward, on account of their not having been heard from since Tuesday. They started from Hot Springs Lake, in the yacht America, at five o'clock on the morning of that day, for the purpose of reaching Lake Point yesterday morning, at which place, however, they did not put in an appearance, nor indeed had any tidings been heard of them here.
This morning a dispatch of inquiry was sent to Kaysville, to which an answer was received, stating that a boat was seen near the shore of the Lake, adjacent to that place, yesterday, but it was not known what craft it was.

Men Shot.—The following came by Deseret Telegraph to-day—

ST. GEORGE, July 5.

About eight p. m., June 30th, Holland, the acting Indian agent, and Carter, the blacksmith for the reservation at West Point, in the Muddy, Nevada, were shot and killed at that place by four men, named Isaac McMannars, Joseph Butler, George Sloan, and Charles Newman. The murderers fled northward. Citizens of the Muddy pursued and found McMannars on the bank of the Virgin, near Buak-erville, wounded. It is thought he will die. The others escaped, and are supposed to be in the Bull Valley Mountains, northwest from St. George. McMannars is now at Bunkerville. He is reticent on the subject of the killing. The murderers have been prowling around the head of the Muddy Valley for two weeks, and are suspected of being stage robbers.

Railroad Loyalty.—The Utah Central passenger train made its own fun yesterday. Mounted in front of the engine were two miniature field pieces, manufactured at the U. C. machine shop in this city, 18 inches long and 1 1/2 inches bore.
On starting from this city both guns were fired, which proceeding was repeated at each station along the line and also on reaching Ogden.
On the return trip salutes were fired at Ogden and each station and also on reaching Salt Lake.

On the afternoon trip the guns blazed away again, and at Ogden were fired every ten minutes until the train moved out for Salt Lake.
Samuel Amer dressed in an ancient artillery suit, acted as chief gunner, and was assisted by W. J.
Player. All hands on the train took part in the proceedings and it was difficult to decide which made the biggest noise, their cheers or the cannon's roar.

The National Game.—The game of base ball played yesterday afternoon by the Deserets and a Picked Nine of this city, was one of the principal events of the season so far as the history of base ball in Utah is concerned. The Picked Nine was composed of six Metropoli-tans and of Messrs. Watson, Pratt and Clayton of other city organizations, while the Deserets had a full representation of their nine with the exception of the left fielder.
The Des. played with their usual excellence; a decided improvement was noticeable in the fielding of the Mets, and their assistants, especially in the pitching of Grey. The following is the score by innings—Innings, - - 123456789
Deserets, - - 030160000-10
Picked Nine, - 00201400-7

Badly Shot.—On Tuesday morning a young horse thief, named Anderson Smith, escaped from the county jail. During that day he loitered in the vicinity of the Hot Springs, and at night made an attempt to steal a horse from Macduff Brothers, but failed. He next repaired to the stables of Mr. Jones, the time burner, in that locality, and was caught in the act of going off with one of that gentleman's animals. A son of Mr. Jones called on him to halt, but he did not heed the summons, so young Jones sent the contents of a shot-gun at him. The weapon was loaded with small shot, which peppered him badly about the right arm, side and thigh, there being, we understand, about seventy little leaden pellets in him. Smith's worst injury is in the wrist, which is so badly shattered that he may possibly lose the use of his right hand. He is scarcely more than seventeen years old. He is back in his old quarters, at the County Jail, and is being attended by Dr. Richards.

The Rifle Match.—Owing to some of the Deseret Rifle Team not being able to attend the match yesterday as announced, some of the members of the Pioneer, Deseret, and Amateur Rifle Clubs chose sides and formed two teams, for a friendly match, which was shot off under very unfavorable circumstances, the wind blowing almost a hurricane at the time. We append the score—

FIRST TEAM.

E. McLaughlin, 4445444442-39
Geo. Meears, 4434424454-35
F. Sharkey, 4433453444-38
Thos. Johnson, 3430344334-31
J. Houser, 443434444-37
W. Heusser, 2535433344-36 219

SECOND TEAM.

R. Hawkins, 4344342453-36
E. Egli, 3044435244-33
P. Jensen, 2412324352-32
C. Hawkins, 4341344343-36
A. Brim, 3043442234-29
J. Woodmansee, 344443344-37

Lake Point.—This was the great centre of attraction yesterday, made especially so by the anticipated regatta. Four trains, heavily laden with living freight, passed over the Utah Western from this city to that place, besides a large number of people flocking there from adjacent settlements.
Unfortunately for those who repaired there specially to witness the regatta, a high wind blew during the whole of the day, and the Lake was dangerously rough, making it impossible to have the regatta without incurring great risk of life, there being no steamer ready to pick up the men in the event of any of the crafts capsizing.
The failure of the racing was by no means the fault of Captain Davis, who was on hand, or any of the others interested in the management of the regatta; they couldn't regulate the weather for the occasion.

During the day the wind carried a man's hat away out upon the Lake. He had the temerity to go in pursuit of it in a small punt, which, however, he couldn't manage, and probably would have drifted away and perished but for the assistance of Captain Davis and some other gentlemen, who put out in a boat for about a mile and brought him in.

Various open-air and in-door sports were engaged in by the excursionists at Lake Point, many of them doing their best to compensate for the failure of the regatta to come off.

Returned Missionary.—Eld. r Andrew Galloway, of Tooele City, called in this morning. He went on a mission to England April 28, 1875, and returned with the Wyoming company, that arrived in the city on Tuesday evening. He has now had about thirteen years of missionary life. He is in good health and a few pounds heavier than when he went on his mission.
During his stay in England he labored nearly single handed, in the Durham and Newcastle Conference, and organized one new branch, at Middlesboro, with eight members, but which numbered sixty when he left. In the whole Conference eighty persons were baptized during his sojourn there. He labored with the greatest satisfaction, received the best treatment, and felt well all the time.

The company had a very favorable passage of nine and a half days over the sea. The captain and ship's officers treated the passengers with great courtesy, as also did all the conductors but one over the different railroads in this country.

The Fourth at Ogden.—Yesterday morning the display of the stars and stripes, the firing of guns, the influx of people from all points of the compass, and the general holiday appearance of the city denoted that the "Glorious Fourth" had arrived, and that all hands and the cook were bent on a general celebration, "every man for himself."

Montgomery Queen's circus gave a grand procession, with the Ogden fire brigade in uniform at the head, their handsome engine and hose-cart being gaily decorated.

The Tenth Ward Band arri ed with an excursion party from Salt Lake, crowding nine cars with passengers. The Utah Northern brought in folks from away up the line as far as Franklin, and teams and wagons, buggies, phaetons and various vehicles came in from different parts of town and country, with lively people bent on pleasure and relaxation.

The Tenth Ward band and many of their party went to Kay's Grove and had a splendid time. The Ogden Fire Brigade and the friends held forth in Jones' Grove, where climbing a greasy pole, jumping in sacks, dancing and other outdoor sports were indulged in. And at Farr's Grove still another company enjoyed the delights of dancing and merrymaking of various sorts.

A south wind made the dust fly on the roads and streets in rather a disagreeable manner, but the holiday-makers enjoyed the occasion until about half past four p. m., when the alarm of fire dashed their pleasure and drew great crowds of them to the scene of conflagration described in another column.

The only accident we have heard of to the pleasure-seekers was in the lane near Jones' Grove, where Ranthau Bingham, a ten years old son of Bishop Sanford Bingham, of Riverdale, fell out of a wagon and broke his leg, which became entangled in one of the wheels.

The circus gave three performances, but not to large audiences. The groves attracted the people during the day, and the disastrous fire in the evening dampened the desire of many for the joys of the rim.
Their anticipated fireworks display was forbidden by the city authorities.

In the City, July 4th, of 1877, Ida
May, daughter of Emma L. and John C.
Fisher, Aged 12 years, 3 Months and 10 days, to our dear mother, a devoted daughter.
