

Juror—I don't understand it that way. If that is siding or abetting, then I don't understand it.

Zane—I just desire to call the attention of the jury to this fact, so that they may understand the nature of the oath.

Juror—It is a well known fact that parties come here—of course when they come here and plead guilty, and when the Judge here sentences them—why of course they understand that; but so far as my knowledge goes I don't know that of my personal knowledge.

PROVO POINTS.

FIRST DISTRICT COURT PROCEEDINGS.

March 22.

Mrs. Bell Thompkins was called as a witness in the Tintic lynching case; remembered the fact of Fisher being taken from the jail; saw John Quinlan on the porch of the hotel that day; we had a conversation, talking about the shooting, and I said I hoped they would not kill Fisher; if they did, I hoped they would take him out of town to do it. Quinlan replied that Fisher would never get out of town, and pointed towards the gallows. I saw the body hanging next morning where he had pointed to.

Mr. Beaman said; We were standing near the jail and the rope struck me in the back as it was thrown over; we were ordered to leave and left in about three minutes. O'Conner said, "Damn you, get away from here; he killed my son, and now it's life for life."

Jas. Harrington testified that at the time the crowd was taking Fisher, he and Dennis Sullivan were conversing together at Tuttle's corral; we heard shots fired, and I told Dennis to keep away from there; he said he would have nothing to do with it. I parted with him in about fifteen minutes and went towards the jail, and he went in another direction; I went straight to the jail and the crowd were moving off with Fisher; there was no one at the jail when I got there.

Mr. Ether and Mr. Stanley both testified that some of the defendants were under the influence of liquor that day.

The defense moved the discharge of Driscal and Savage on the ground of failure of proof. Driscal was discharged, but as there was a question of fact with Savage, the motion as to him was denied.

OTHER MATTERS.

Lucius Whiting and Sanford Fuller were arraigned and took the statutory time to plead.

Joseph Campbell stood a rigid examination touching his qualification to become a citizen, and was allowed the boon.

The defense in the lynching case began their examination of witnesses this afternoon, and expect to get through with the case this week.

Three deputies went in the direction of Provo Bench this afternoon "in search of whom they may devour."

Work is being done in Strawberry Valley—the country east of Provo, on the Utah Midland Railway.

Sanpete Sentences.—From the Sentinel, of the 22nd, we cull the following paragraphs:

The officers of Sanpete County are taking the oath.

Grain planted at the commencement of the present fine weather is beginning to appear above the ground, and if the weather continues favorable, the farmers say the fields will soon be green.

The most audacious act ever perpetrated by sensible people, was enacted by "Major" Bynon and Mr. John Patton the morning after the lecture of the Leaguers, when they requested of Supt. Folsom the privilege of seeing the inside of the Temple.

The Sanpete Valley Railway has been sned for ten thousand dollars to be paid for a broken leg. In 1885 Miss Evans was on the train between Moroni and Nephi. The car went off the track and the lady jumped out with the result that her left leg broke in two places. She was confined to her room for three months.

To the Farmers.—C. Andrews & Co., of Nephi, forward the following suggestions to farmers intending to ship produce for the markets. We cheerfully give them place:

Having handled quite extensively, for the past two years, the farmers' produce of Southern Utah, we feel that we have had sufficient to offer them some suggestions which, if heeded, will redound greatly to their benefit.

The market in all lines of produce, at the present day, demands choiceness, as every article is sold strictly upon its merits. The idea that an inferior article will bring as much in the market as a good one, must be abandoned. Farmers should, and evidently must, for their own good, raise the class of produce that the market demands. In all of our shipments, and more especially in the potato line, do we see where the farmers could have greatly benefited themselves had they raised their produce properly. Very few will believe that potatoes vary in price as much as fifty and sixty cents per cwt.; but shipments of mixed lots have convinced us of the fact, and those who raise the crops may, as well as not, have the advantage of this difference.

The farmers who intend to raise produce for the market would find it greatly to their advantage to produce their stuffs in car-load lots, and of the best class.

We can recommend the following as being the best for the market: Potatoes—Peerless, Burbanks, Early Goodrich, and all kinds of red and smooth potatoes; for wheat—the White Taos; for oats—the White Russian and Norway; for barley—the two-rowed and White Club.

If the foregoing kinds are raised and kept strictly pure, we assure the farmers a great deal more for their produce, especially if raised in car load quantities.

That Kidnapped Boy.—Referring to the statement concerning Mrs. Hailley's boy, previously published in the News, the Park Record says:

"From Mr. George Wiseman, brother of the one mentioned in the above article, our reporter learned a few facts connected with the case. Mr. John Wiseman did take the boy with him by and with the consent of his mother and the boy is with him traveling in the east. Mr. Wiseman was shrewd enough to get adoption papers from Abe Hailley's mother, and any trouble she might try to make for Mr. Wiseman would be futile. The little boy has a promising future before him, and with the good care his adopted father is giving him his Eastern home is better than with his mother."

We published the statement as the lady herself gave it to us, and still believe she told the facts.

A Rock Springs Man Killed.—On the 9th of March Robert Washam, living with his family on Current Creek, at Rock Springs, Wyoming, started out on horseback with a revolver, hatchet and knife to get a deer. He told his wife he would be gone only two or three hours. He did not return that day, but his wife was not particularly uneasy, as she thought he might have gone to Green River or some of the neighboring ranches. Several days went by, and he did not return, and finally on March 14th, his horse came home without its rider.

At Mrs. Washam's request Mr. Fisher sent out three men to look for the missing man. They started back on the trail of the horse, and in the afternoon found the body of Washam close to a dead cow. His hatchet and revolver were on the ground near him, with one empty shell in the revolver. Subsequent investigation showed that the dead man had been shot in the left breast. The cow was lying on her back, and had died some time after Washam had been shot, as his body was splashed with mud, probably caused by the cow trying to get up. The body was taken to Green River, and the bullet which had inflicted the fatal wound was found to correspond with those remaining in Washam's revolver, and on this the coroner's jury rendered a verdict of death by the accidental discharge of the unfortunate man's revolver. The theory accepted, however, is that the weapon that sent the ball with such deadly aim through the heart of Mr. Washam was held in the hands of another. This theory is held not only by Washam's friends but by nearly all acquainted with the facts. Washam always carried the trigger of his revolver on the safety cock and always had one chamber empty. When the revolver was picked up the trigger was on the safety cock and but one chamber was empty. The range of the ball after entering the body was not what it would have been had the ball come from his own revolver. The ball took a downward course as if fired by a person standing high upon the bank.—Rock Springs Independent.

EASTERN ARIZONA STAKE CONFERENCE.

The Quarterly Conference of the Eastern Arizona Stake of Zion was held in the Stake House at Snowflake, March 12th and 13th, 1887.

There was on the stand the Presidency of the Stake, High Council and visiting brethren.

The weather was very fine, and there was a good attendance of the Saints from most of the wards.

Woodruff, Snowflake, Taylor, Show Low, Ramah, Erastus, St. Johns, Union and Alpine wards were reported by J. C. Owens, Albert Minnerly, M. E. Willis, Hans Hansen, J. R. McNeil, C. I. Kempe, E. N. Freeman, George H. Crosby and A. E. Noble.

Most of the reports were very good, showing an increase in faith and good works among the Saints. There were a few who were reckless and wayward. There was a lack of breadstuffs in some of the Wards to carry the people through until another harvest. St. John's had a good reservoir completed and about full of water. Snowflake had completed a reservoir which, when filled, will hold enough water to irrigate 1,000 acres over once. The General and local authorities were presented and sustained by vote of the Conference. The subjects of home manufacture, training of the young, forgiving each other's trespasses, observing the laws of God, and other subjects of importance, were ably treated upon.

JOSEPH FISH, Stake Recorder.

Milk may be canned just as you would can fruit. Bring the milk to the boiling point and fill your jars to the brim with it; then shut airtight. This will keep any length of time and be just as good when opened as when it was put up.

KANAB STAKE CONFERENCE.

KANAB, Kane Co., Utah, March 14, 1887.

Editor Deseret News:

Last evening our two days Quarterly Conference came to a close, having been held at this place. The weather was extra warm, but pleasant, which was favorable to a good attendance from the different wards. President E. D. Woolley, Counselor Thomas Chamberlain, all the Bishops and High Councilors were present. The house was completely crowded, and it appears that if any more Edmunds-Tucker bills should soon pass Congress, we would be compelled to build larger houses of worship, as that movement had a tendency to humble the people, and increase their faith in the Lord, and there is an actual reformation going on among the Saints here.

The speakers made excellent remarks, and bore powerful testimonies to the work of God. The choir, led by Allen Frost, and with Mrs. Artemesia Snow Seegmiller as organist, furnished most excellent music.

During the afternoon of the first day, Deputy Armstrong suddenly came dashing into town, and his doctrines apparently had more of a tendency to scatter than to unite, especially certain classes of the people, who immediately took the U. G., and the dashing deputy scrutinized the faces of the remaining meeting-goers in vain.

Your Brother, etc., L. C. MARIGER, Stake Clerk.

He emigrated to Utah with his parents in the year 1832; was ordained an Elder in the spring 1869, and for two years filled the honorable position of president of the Y. M. M. L. A. in a praiseworthy manner. His father, through exposure in the early days of Zion, being deprived of his eyesight, Allen had the care of the family from his youth. He was a brother to the two boys who were killed by the Indians, and is the last of Brother Weeks' sons. He lived and died a faithful Saint, and departs in the full hope of meeting his father, mother, eleven brothers and sisters, leaving many relatives and a host of friends to mourn his loss. His funeral was held March 18th, 1887, and was attended by relatives and friends from Cedar Valley and Fairfield.

"My only Family Medicine."

"I have been user of Simmons Liver Regulator for many years, having made it my own Family Medicine. It is a pure, good and reliable medicine. My mother before me was very partial to it. I find the Regulator very safe, harmless and reliable as a Family Medicine, and have used it for any disorder of the system and found it to act like a charm. I believe if it was used in time it would prove a great preventive of sickness. I have often recommended it to my friends and shall continue to do so."
