SILVER KING COALITION SUITS

Two Actions Brought Against Park City Company Involve Big Sum.

WHAT COMPLAINTS ALLEGE

Application to Be Made to Court for Order to Enter King Coalition Workings.

As stated in yesterday's "News" would be the case, the Silver King Consolidated Mining company has trained its guns on its neighbor, the Silver King Coalition Mines company. Two suits have been filed, one in equity and demands an accounting for ores alleged to have been mined from ground that is owned jointly by the two corporations, the value of which is alleged to be at least $1,000,000. The second action alleges trespass and the unlawful extraction of ore from claims owned absolutely by the plaintiff company, which is said to have been valued at $150,000, and on account of the suit the plaintiff would entitle the plaintiff to damages three times the amount represented as the actual value of the ore.

To arrive at an intelligent idea of the ground involved, it is well to state that the possessions of the Silver King Coalition company, the defendant, entirely surround the properties of the plaintiff company, which reach on the easterly side within less than 1,500 feet of the Silver King Coalition company's main operating shaft. The five claims involved in the equity action reach around from the northeast to the southwest side of the main group of claims of the plaintiff company and in which it is alleged that defendant has been trespassing.

The suit in equity is brought against the old Silver King Mining company and the Coalition company as its successors and sets up that plaintiff company has a one-half interest in the Veauvius and Andes patented claims, a three-fourths interest in such portions of the Ladies' Drum and May Meadows claims, and the entire interest in the Delaware claims, while the ownership of the remaining interests in these claims is admitted as being in the defendant company. The plaintiff declares that mining has been carried on for years in the ground mentioned, and that defendant has been trespassing on its share in the profits that it alleges have accrued from operating in this property. The complaint asks that defendant be enjoined from trespassing on all the ores that have been mined and that it be awarded judgment for such profits as belong to it through its more than a one-half interest in the claims.

To reach the main property of the Silver King Consolidated company, the Silver King Coalition company has been trespassing on its workings through some of the claims in which joint ownership is set up by the equity action, and that is why the trespass damages suit has been brought.

The allegation being made that underground workings have been sent out into this territory.

Manager Solon Spiro of the Consolidated company has made repeated demands on the defendant company for an accounting and obtaining little or no satisfaction from this procedure, instructed his attorneys to take legal steps to settle the controversy. Application will be made to the court for an order permitting engineers of the consolidated company to enter the workings of the Coalition company, where they are alleged to be in conflict with the interest of the plaintiff corporation.

MAY APPOINT TODAY

Commissioners to Take Up Matter of Detention Home Superintendent—No Charges Against Buxton.

The matter of the appointment of a superintendent for the Utah training school, otherwise the city-county detention home, will be considered at today's meeting of the county commissioners. It is hardly probable, however, that final action will be taken in the matter, as some of the commissioners wish to defer the appointment until the return of Gov. Cutler, in order that he may be consulted with regard to it. Gov. Cutler was expected to return today from Washington, but did not arrive until this evening or probably tomorrow.

When the matter of appointing a superintendent for the home was broached, the name of Rev. Albert Buxton was considered, along with that of two or three other applicants. It was understood that Rev. Buxton would be considered by the commissioners, but his appointment has not yet been confirmed, neither has the appointment of anyone else. Commissioners Mack and Peterson, in regard to the publication in a morning paper to the effect that there were charges against the reverend gentleman, which would preclude his further consideration for the place, there were no such charges. "You may quote me as saying," said Commissioner Mack, "that there are no charges against Rev. Buxton, but that the county is not sure of it. No one has been appointed to take charge of the detention home as yet, and while the matter is being considered by the commissioners today, I hardly expect final action will be taken until next Monday. One or two members of Rev. Buxton's congregation have expressed the opinion that he would not see how Mr. Buxton could fill both positions at the same time, but I repeat there are no charges against Rev. Buxton before the board."

THORNS AMID THE ROSES.

The Tender Passion Leads Dominick Biango to Ogdens's Rock Pile.

(Special to the "News.")

Ogden, May 27.—The affection and love of Juanita Mellen, a pretty octogenarian, cost Dominick Biango, a dusky son of Italy, 75 days at hard labor on the Ogden pebble ranch this morning.

Biango's trouble all came about when he was a house at the home of David Mellen, an old octogenarian, and the husband of the pretty girl-wife in the cant.

The Italian became more affectionate while he was at the Mellen home, Mellen claims, and after leaving the place was wont to make appointments to meet Mrs. Mellen at the home of Biango and the girl met, but before they had gone far, Mellen and police officers met the pair and arrested the Italian. The man was held before Judge Murphy this morning, convicted and sentenced to pay a fine of $75. Biango was anything but opulent when he invoked his pockets and in lieu of the money, started at the police, and the chain gang for the canyon, where he will convert large boulders into pebbles of suitable size for grading the city streets.

THE REV. BUXTON DEMURS.

Declares His Congregation Has Not Expressed Its Disapproval.

The Rev. Albert Buxton, who has been mentioned as a candidate for the superintendency of the Utah Training school, the detention home for wards of the juvenile court of Salt Lake county, entered a denial to stories appearing in morning papers to the effect that his congregation had expressed its opposition to his candidacy, and that he is a candidate.

The Rev. Mr. Buxton declares he did not present himself as a candidate for the position, but that it was at the request of the juvenile court commission and Judge Gowans that he was now being considered for the place. It was upon their invitation, declares Buxton, that he came to the city before the county commissioners to discuss the matter. As to his congregation, he says, he has no voice to divide his time between it and the school, the Rev. Mr. Buxton declares that his congregation has never expressed its opinion in the matter, and he also states that he believes a majority of his congregation is more than willing to accept the position, many of them having congratulated him upon what they thought his appointment would be.

Buxton states that if appointed, it would not be his intention to retain both positions permanently, but would do so for a short time. He would arrange, he says, to have a competent deputy, really doubling the services at the school, and this at his own expense.

ROBBERS SCARED AWAY.

A small feed store on State street just north of the Knutsford was broken into last night by thieves who were evidently frightened away before they could steal anything. They broke open a door and then fled. Officer Stains and a night watchman found the door broken open and notified the proprietor. They propped the door up as best they could and started out to find the would-be robbers. In this they were unsuccessful.

ORDERS TO NATIONAL GUARD.

The adjutant-general issued an order today allowing seven non-commissioned officers to each company of infantry for the Wyoming encampment, viz., three sergeants and four corporals; the three being one first sergeant, one duty sergeant and one quartermaster sergeant. The allotment is on a basis of 40 enlisted men to each company command. A strong effort will be made to run up the strength of the first battalion to 60 men, that the command may make a creditable appearance in the provisional regiment of field artillery of which it is to form a part.

LIQUOR CASES UP IN POLICE COURT

Chief Pitt's "Secret Service" May Spoil the Chance of Conviction.

CITY A PARTY TO OFFENSES.

Upon the Ground That Prosecution Is Particeps Crimini Attorneys for The Defense Ask Dismissal.

In the hearing of the liquor cases which began in Judge Diehl's court yesterday afternoon, in which twenty saloon men are charged with violating the Sunday closing ordinance, testimony was brought out showing that Chief Pitt employed two secret agents to get evidence against the alleged violators of the law. They are Carl G. Peterson, clerk in Pitt's office, and a young man named Harry Speers. The latter said he received a salary of $75 per month from Chief Pitt to act as "secret service man."

When asked what he did, he said: "Anything the chief tells me to do."

The first case called was that against Michael Albino and S. P. Nelson, of the Orpheum saloon. The courtroom was packed with counsel, witnesses, saloonkeepers and spectators. Peterson and Speers testified they went into the Orpheum saloon on Sunday several weeks ago, bought two glasses of beer and then went to the back of the saloon where they saw Chief Pitt. Peterson was asked to pick out Nelson, who was in the courtroom. He was unable to do so. Speers, however, was able to identify the accused.

PITT'S ODD TESTIMONY.

Peterson testified that the money he used in the purchase of the beer was taken from his salary, but he admitted on cross-examination that he expected to have the amount refunded by Chief Pitt, and that it had been returned, but from what fund he did not know. Weber, on cross-examination, got young Peterson somewhat flustered by asking him if he wore a policeman's badge. Peterson did not know, but Chief Pitt gave him permission to wear it.

Chief Pitt proved to be an interesting witness. While his testimony was brief, it was to the point, and brought out what the defense was apparently after. He was asked on direct examination to identify a bottle of whiskey which was purchased at the Orpheum. He did so, and said the bottle had been in his possession ever since Peterson got it from the saloon. On cross-examination by Atty. Christensen, Chief Pitt was asked:

"Did you send these 'spotters' out to catch saloonkeepers violating the law, or to induce them to violate the law?"

"To violate the law," replied the chief uncertainly.

"What's that you sent them for, was it?"

"Sent them for what?" demanded the chief hotly.

"Why, you said to violate the law didn't you?"

"The police department never violates the law."

"Well now I will ask you again: Did you send them out to catch violators of the law, or—"

"Yes, stop right there; don't go any further; that's what I sent them for."

DISMISSAL IS ASKED.

"But I will go further. Did you send them to violate the law?"

"I sent them to get any saloonkeeper who was doing business, and they got them."

"Now, where did you get the money that you refunded to them for buying this whiskey?"

"From my pocket."

"Where did your pocket get it?"

"From the contingent fund."

"That's all."

The defense moved that the case be dismissed on the ground that no case had been made by the prosecution against the defendants. The claim is also made that the city can not ask for a conviction when the city is parties criminals to the commission of the offense.

The case is being argued this afternoon. The prosecution is in the hands of Assistant City Attorney E. A. Rogers and P. J. Daly. The defense is represented by Thurman & Wedgwood and C. L. Olson.

SPENCER CASE ON TRIAL.

Jury Not Completed This Morning in Judge Armstrong's Court.

The case of the state of Utah against Samuel G. Spencer, charged with improper relations with Hannah Ivy Wallace, a girl a year or so ago, began in Judge Armstrong's court this morning. A jury had not been secured to try the case at the noon adjournment. The state is represented by Dist. Atty. F. C. Lombard, assisted by Atty. H. A. Smith, while the defendant is represented by Thurman & Wedgwood and A. A. Duncan.

JUDGMENT BY CONSENT.

Judgment by consent was obtained against the Salt Lake Route in the federal court today. The railroad was charged with three violations of the Safety Appliance act and was fined $100 on each count. The violations were all committed Aug. 31, 1907, by the hauling of an engine and two cars all in bad order west from Milford.

JONES PLEADS NOT GUILTY.

Benjamin Jones, arrested several days ago on the charge of threatening to murder Sarah Jones and Blanche and Evelyn Parsons, was arraigned this morning in Judge Diehl's court. He pleaded not guilty and the case was set for June 10 in default of $500 bail he was remanded to the custody of the sheriff.

IN THE FEDERAL COURT.

Indicted Defendants Appear to Plead Gregory's Bail Reduced.

Eben J. Gregory, charged with swindling in his possession, was arraigned before the federal court this morning. He pleaded not guilty, and his bonds, heretofore $5,000, $3,500 on each count, were reduced to $500. Gregory went back to the county jail feeling greatly relieved as he expects to have the new bonds raised. He was arrested several months ago and has been in the county jail. An indictment against him was one of the grand jury's acts.

Peter and Theresa P. Paulos, Greeks, charged with the robbery of the Bamberg Coal company's mail box, were also arraigned. They pleaded not guilty and were taken back to the county jail. The grand jury brought in indictments against them two men also.

Dr. E. S. Payne, charged with using the mails to distribute forbidden literature and medicines, was also arraigned. He pleaded not guilty, and was furnished, was permitted to go his way.

Jack Lacy, charged with pilfering from the Murray postoffice, was arraigned, pleaded not guilty, and was taken back to the county jail. All these cases will come up in the full term.

For graduation send her a box of McDonald's 400 Chocolates. They are a luxury, but then the best is none too good for the girl graduate. McDonald's Salt Lake Cocoa, better than other Cocos, is forcing its way into homes all over the country.

RAILROAD NEWS.

HOLDS COMPANY LIABLE.

Fred Kuster Secures Judgment for $81 Against O. S. L.

Judge Whitaker yesterday rendered a decision in the case of Fred Kuster against the Oregon Short Line Railroad company, in which plaintiff sued to recover the amount of one month's pay check for services, or $81. The check was payable to one Karmean, an employee of the company, and Kuster, who is proprietor of the Flour de Lise saloon, cashed the check. The check came back protested, and it appeared later that a man by the name of Alston had gone a few feet from the saloon and cashed the check at the time it was cashed by Kuster.

Kuster then sued the railroad company for the amount of the check, and the question arose as to the liability of the company under the circumstances. Judge Whitaker, after considering the matter a month, rendered his decision yesterday in favor of Kuster.

NEW TRAIN EQUIPMENT.

A combination observation sleeper, half sleeper, with eight sections and half observation car, will be attached to Rio Grande No. 5 out of Denver, June 1 and to No. 4 out of Ogden and Salt Lake, June 2. These cars will be in service on the route between Salt Lake and thereafter.

TIME SCHEDULES CHANGE.

Important changes in its time tables, local and through, are to be announced by the Rio Grande shortly. These will take effect June 7 and will be published within a few days.

LATE LOCALS.

Local Bank Clearings.—Today's local bank clearings amounted to $677,432.27, as against $793,495.75 for the same day last year.
