

WHERE BUSINESS IS DONE.

Many people coming to Conference generally contrive to "kill two birds with one stone," and not only attend Conference, but before returning to their homes, do a little trading. We can help them to find out where they can get their various wants attended to in the city.

Carl C. Amussen will supply you with watches, clocks, or jewelry.

F. Auerbach & Co. will supply you, wholesale and retail, with dry goods and all sorts of millinery goods and fancy notions.

Joe Barker will sharpen saws, repair stoves, and do all cutlery, lock and gunsmith work.

Big Cottonwood Stage Line will carry you if you are going in that direction.

Blumenthal & Bro. will sell you an elegantly embroidered coat for $1.50.

Caldwell & Co. will sell you Mason & Hamblin and other organs, pianos, and all kinds of musical instruments and merchandise, and take your second hand pianos and organs in exchange.

Davis, Hope & Co. will attend to all kinds of millinery and sewing machinery, wrought and cast iron work, and iron and brass work of all descriptions.

George W. Davis will sell you tea, coffee, and all family groceries, and buy dried fruits and grains of all kinds.

Daynes & Son will sell you Eatery and all other kinds of organs, pianos and all kinds of musical instruments and merchandise and take second hand organs in exchange.

Deer National Bank will do all your banking business for you, and receive your savings on interest.

Dunford & Sons will sell you boots and shoes, hats and caps, ladies' furs, gaiters, gloves, etc., at wholesale and retail.

J. E. H. Grundy will sell you lumber, wood, cedar posts, chimney bricks, etc.

The First National Bank will do all your banking business for you.

Oliver & Salisbury's stage line will carry you wherever they run.

C. J. Gidding will take your money for county and territorial taxes.

Mrs. E. H. Grundy will attend to bad eyes and cancers.

Dr. C. W. Higgins will cure you of fits or almost any chronic or other disease.

The J. L. Co-operative will sell you bread, crackers, groceries and general merchandise.

Knudsen will pay cash for all the grain you bring.

Liddell & Brown will sell you groceries and provisions, including Scotch oatmeal, herrings, Finnan haddies, marmalade, lime juice, cordial, bed bug buster, etc.

Lime can be had at the Mammoth Kilns, or their office in Commercial Street.

John H. McCutcheon will attend to any attorney-at-law business for you.

James McGhie will sell you all kinds of Wasatch woolen mills home-made cloth, and buy your wool.

Marionettes at the Theatre will amuse you and your children at the matinees on Thursday and Saturday and every evening this week.

Merino Rams, just imported from Vermont, can be had at the Tithing yards.

A miner will attend to any attorney or counselor-at-law business for you.

Mitchell & James will do anything in the tin, sheet iron and copper-smith line, also in the gasfittering line.

Geo. Nebeker will sell you fine and coarse salt in large or small quantities, also Weber coal if you leave orders at the Globe Bakery or Z. C. M. I. shoe department.

H. E. Phelps will sell you blankets, clothing, boots and shoes, hats, table linen, etc.

Dr. Pland will help you if you are troubled with worms, or any other disease.

Reddall & Darling, of the Utah Steam Cracker Factory, will supply you with a first-class article of crackers.

H. Reiser will repair your watches, clocks and jewelry.

C. C. Rich will find work for a miller.

Peter Saxe (A. M. Cannon agent) will sell you blooded Kentucky-English Cotovald bucks, at low prices and with liberal credit.

S. W. Sears will sell you family groceries and provisions, or pay you the highest price in cash for all kinds of produce, including dried fruit.

P. Schwartz will supply you with dry goods, or sell you bargains at auction after noon and evening.

Scribner & Robertson will sell you the Bain Wagon, or wagon material.

Sierra Nevada Lumber Association will supply you with lumber, sash, mouldings, and all other goods, blinds, lath, wood pumps and water pipes cheap, at wholesale or retail.

John W. Snell will sell you lumber, shingles, cedar posts, charcoal, lime, wood, salt, and general merchandise, and take your second hand goods in exchange.

The Standard Hair Store will clean and make up in any style switches, curls, puffs, frizzits, etc., and sell you all kinds of hair and imitation hair goods, combs, brushes, etc., at our practical Hatters.

2383r DUNFORD & SONS.

SPECIALTIES.—Dr. C. W. Higgins has nine testimonials from first-class gentlemen and ladies of this city who have been cured of different chronic diseases. If you wish a cure of any chronic disease, call and see Doctor Higgins. The fact of the Dr.'s having been so successful during the four months he has been with us, speaks well of his curability of chronic diseases.

WHO IS KNOWN?

He is the man that is prepared to pay CASH for all the Grain that is for sale in Utah.

See him, Farmers—opposite Wells, Fargo & Co., Salt Lake City. 4259 1r

HAVE YOU NEVER HEARD OF IT? Then inquire at once at your grocer's for DOOLEY'S CHEMICAL YEAST BAKING POWDER, the only strictly pure and harmless Baking Powder in market, from which good, sweet, palatable breads, rolls, cakes or pastry can be made uniformly with the same success. This article has been steadily increasing in demand and public favor, and stands to-day the most reliable Baking Powder in use. Ask your grocer for DOOLEY'S YEAST POWDER, and your testimony to its practical worth will be added to thousands of others.

The Working Men's Co-operative Association will furnish you excellent home-made boots and shoes, and sell you shares in the business.

Z. C. M. I. will sell you all kinds of merchandise at wholesale or retail, not forgetting remarkably cheap boots and shoes, and leather and shoe findings, and will buy your cattle hides.

Zion's Savings Bank and Trust Company will take good care of your savings and pay you liberal interest on them, also, if you wish of banking business for you.

For fuller particulars, see our advertising columns.

THE EVENING NEWS.

Wednesday, Oct. 7, 1874.

PRICE OF BOLD.

Corrected daily by DEWEY & NATIONAL BANK.

SALT LAKE CITY, October 7, 1874.

During at $2.05; Selling at $2.10.

SPECIAL BUSINESS NOTICES.

THREE or four men wanting employment in a shingle mill, in Ogden Valley, can obtain it by applying at Henry Terrace's, 10th Ward. 4259 1r

LOST.—A pocket-book, containing about $50 in currency, was lost either on the cars between this city and Woods Cross, or from Woods Cross to Bountiful. The finder will be liberally rewarded by leaving it at this Office. 4259 2t

The Royal Marionettes at the Theatre to-night.

A LIFE DOUBLY ASSURED.—A resident of Bangor, Maine, writing to C. N. Crittenton, 75th Avenue, for a supply of HALL'S HONEY OF HOREHOUND AND TAR, mentions incidentally that three months ago a New England Life Insurance Company refused to grant him a policy, on the ground that he was consumptive. "But," he adds, "thanks to the healing properties of that invaluable preparation, my lungs are now perfectly sound, and I yesterday passed a medical examination, without an objection being made, and insured my life for $5,000."

PICK'S TOOTH-ACHE DROPS.—Cure in one minute. 4257 eod w38 1t

MILLER WANTED at Paris, Onida Co., Idaho, one capable of taking charge of a grist mill! Apply during Conference to 4257 3t C. C. Rich.

WEBER COAL at Wholesale or Retail. Leave orders at Globe Bakery or Z. C. M. I. Shoe Department. GEO. NEBEKER. 4167 1w

ROYAL Marionette Matinee at the Theatre to-morrow and Saturday.

GREAT AUCTION SALES of Dry Goods, on East Temple Street, a few doors north of the Walker House. Remember all to be on hand for bargains for a few days only at P. Schwartz' dry goods store, at 2 p. m. and evening. 4257 4t

CHEAP BUILDING STOR for sale, 20th Ward. Apply at this Office. 4254 1t

GREAT POPULARITY.—Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder and True Flavoring Extracts, Nectarine, Rose, Lemon, etc., have been before the public many years, and have gained for themselves, on their own merits, an extensive sale. Their great popularity is mainly due to the scrupulous manner in which they are prepared, the using of the purest and best materials, with special reference to their healthfulness. We never tire of using them, for they are always the same. Articles in which they are used have no disagreeable odor or sticky taste, but are always enjoyable.

Term Calendar.—By courtesy of Joe F. Nounan, Esq., clerk of the Third District, we have received a copy of the regular term calendar, for the October term of that Court. It is printed in pamphlet form, and is so arranged as to be exceedingly handy for members of the bar, each of whom is supplied with copies, as well as to all interested in the Court business of the District.

District Court Proceedings of Yesterday Afternoon.

The Grand Jury Panel Completed.

After recess yesterday, the District Court resumed business at three o'clock in the afternoon. There was a delay of one hour on account of the non-arrival of Mr. Jesse E. Murphy, who had been drawn as taleman and summoned by the Marshal to appear in Court, but who failed to come to time.

The Court ordered that the name of Mr. Murphy be laid aside and the Marshal draw another. The name of William S. McCormick was then drawn. As he was absent from the city another was drawn, and this time it was William C. Lewis, late of Richmond, Cache Co., but now, according to the statement of a person in Court, he resided in Franklin, Idaho. The name was laid aside and that of Edmund Eldredge was drawn, but as he could not be got to Court today, his name was laid aside and that of Thomas A. Jenney was drawn, but as there was an apparent haste to get the jury full, and he not being handy, his name also was laid aside. That of W. Casper was drawn, and for the same reason, met similar fate, and so did that of Lucius Livingstone.

The Marshal next drew from the box the name of Ephraim McLaughlin, and he being a man supposed never to leave town, the Marshal was ordered to summon him forthwith. He soon appeared in Court and was sworn.

In answer to the question as to whether he had any conscientious scruples about finding an indictment in cases where the punishment inflicted might be death, he said that when persons were guilty of murder they ought to be punished; and when asked whether he would be willing to find indictments against parties under the law of 1862, against polygamy, he said he would not understand that question fully.

"Do you believe polygamy to be a crime," said the prosecuting attorney.

"Well," said Mr. McLaughlin, "I would rather be excused. I am willing to do all I can, but really I have no much business to attend to, having a country with Camp Douglas, that I don't know how I could get along. I would rather be excused."

This case was considered a marriage in Court.

Mr. Carey said it was for the Court to pass upon the matter. The Court said the law did not make press of business a sufficient cause for excusing him, the gentleman was excused on that ground a similar privilege would have to be granted to others who had made private application to be excused. Men who had plenty of time to serve were generally the kind that were not wanted for jury service. The Marshal had to select from a list of business men who had interests in society were just the kind of men who were wanted. No doubt the Attorney General would be pleased to accommodate those who had pressing business to attend to during the term of the jury. Mr. McLaughlin could not be excused.

The Marshal then drew twenty-three, being now full, the clerk called the roll, all answering to their names.

The Court, addressing the jury, informed them that after they were sworn, which would be to-morrow morning at ten o'clock, and after that time they would have their charge to them, they would have to go to work immediately, and it was probable they would have to work hard during their term.

Court was then adjourned till to-morrow (Wednesday) at 10 o'clock.

TO-DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

The Court opened again, at ten o'clock this morning, and some time before that hour the doors were surrounded by an eager crowd, anxious to gain admittance. The Court room was soon filled to capacity, every available inch of standing room being occupied. We noticed among the spectators a number of ladies, who occupied the box constructed for petit jurors.

The Court said that only one among the persons summoned as grand jurors appeared, and the Court decided to proceed with the case. Mr. Jesse Murphy, that gentleman had, however, also explained the cause of his absence, stating that it was non-judicial and unavoidable. Had it been otherwise the Court would have punished him. It should be distinctly understood that no process of the Court could be disregarded with impunity, and those who chose to treat such process with disrespect would have to take the consequences.

The Clerk called the roll of the grand jurors, all answering to their names, excepting John Alexander. After some delay the Court ordered the Marshal to call the name of that juror at the door, to which he finally answered, and after the Court had lectured him, the clerk administered the oath to the grand jury. The Court then delivered the charge, for a copy of which we are indebted to the courtesy of James S. McKee.

After the delivery of the charge a number of the spectators applauded and were rebuked by the Court, who said that however appropriate such demonstrations might be in political gatherings they were out of place in a Court of justice.

The foreman of the grand jury, John Chislett, was appointed to appoint one of his deputies to conduct them to their room and to wait upon them.

The Court then went into the business of naturalizing aliens, a large number of applicants being present.

The Grand Jury.—The following is the list of the complete grand jury:

1. John Chislett (Foreman).
2. John Alexander.
3. Wm. L. Perkins.
4. Ichel Waters.
5. Wm. H. H. H.
6. S. S. Ransohoff.
7. Christopher Delih.
8. Jesse Elliot.
9. Enos A. Wall.
10. Oliver H. H.
11. James Horrocks.
12. Thomas E. Hicks.
13. Abraham Zundell.
14. H. H. H.
15. Francis Platt.
16. Frederick Auerbach.
17. Charles B. Townbridge.
18. H. H. H.
19. William R. Judd.
20. William F. James.
21. Julius Malach.
22. Lafayette Granger.
23. Ephraim McLaughlin.

Theatrical.—The Royal Marionette performances were attended by a larger audience last night than on Monday evening, and the performance went off even more spiritedly.

The Marionettes appear again to-night, and there will be matinees tomorrow and Saturday.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Thermometer 77 degrees F. in the shade, at 1 p. m. to-day. Fine. Some clouds.

Pleasant.—This is the pleasant time of the year, neither uncomfortably hot nor uncomfortably cold. Let us enjoy it and be thankful.

Term Calendar.—By courtesy of Joe F. Nounan, Esq., clerk of the Third District, we have received a copy of the regular term calendar, for the October term of that Court. It is printed in pamphlet form, and is so arranged as to be exceedingly handy for members of the bar, each of whom is supplied with copies, as well as to all interested in the Court business of the District.

District Court Proceedings of Yesterday Afternoon.

The Grand Jury Panel Completed.

After recess yesterday, the District Court resumed business at three o'clock in the afternoon. There was a delay of one hour on account of the non-arrival of Mr. Jesse E. Murphy, who had been drawn as taleman and summoned by the Marshal to appear in Court, but who failed to come to time.

The Court ordered that the name of Mr. Murphy be laid aside and the Marshal draw another. The name of William S. McCormick was then drawn. As he was absent from the city another was drawn, and this time it was William C. Lewis, late of Richmond, Cache Co., but now, according to the statement of a person in Court, he resided in Franklin, Idaho. The name was laid aside and that of Edmund Eldredge was drawn, but as he could not be got to Court today, his name was laid aside and that of Thomas A. Jenney was drawn, but as there was an apparent haste to get the jury full, and he not being handy, his name also was laid aside. That of W. Casper was drawn, and for the same reason, met similar fate, and so did that of Lucius Livingstone.

The Marshal next drew from the box the name of Ephraim McLaughlin, and he being a man supposed never to leave town, the Marshal was ordered to summon him forthwith. He soon appeared in Court and was sworn.

In answer to the question as to whether he had any conscientious scruples about finding an indictment in cases where the punishment inflicted might be death, he said that when persons were guilty of murder they ought to be punished; and when asked whether he would be willing to find indictments against parties under the law of 1862, against polygamy, he said he would not understand that question fully.

"Do you believe polygamy to be a crime," said the prosecuting attorney.

"Well," said Mr. McLaughlin, "I would rather be excused. I am willing to do all I can, but really I have no much business to attend to, having a country with Camp Douglas, that I don't know how I could get along. I would rather be excused."

This case was considered a marriage in Court.

Mr. Carey said it was for the Court to pass upon the matter. The Court said the law did not make press of business a sufficient cause for excusing him, the gentleman was excused on that ground a similar privilege would have to be granted to others who had made private application to be excused. Men who had plenty of time to serve were generally the kind that were not wanted for jury service. The Marshal had to select from a list of business men who had interests in society were just the kind of men who were wanted. No doubt the Attorney General would be pleased to accommodate those who had pressing business to attend to during the term of the jury. Mr. McLaughlin could not be excused.

The Marshal then drew twenty-three, being now full, the clerk called the roll, all answering to their names.

The Court, addressing the jury, informed them that after they were sworn, which would be to-morrow morning at ten o'clock, and after that time they would have their charge to them, they would have to go to work immediately, and it was probable they would have to work hard during their term.

Court was then adjourned till to-morrow (Wednesday) at 10 o'clock.

TO-DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

The Court opened again, at ten o'clock this morning, and some time before that hour the doors were surrounded by an eager crowd, anxious to gain admittance. The Court room was soon filled to capacity, every available inch of standing room being occupied. We noticed among the spectators a number of ladies, who occupied the box constructed for petit jurors.

The Court said that only one among the persons summoned as grand jurors appeared, and the Court decided to proceed with the case. Mr. Jesse Murphy, that gentleman had, however, also explained the cause of his absence, stating that it was non-judicial and unavoidable. Had it been otherwise the Court would have punished him. It should be distinctly understood that no process of the Court could be disregarded with impunity, and those who chose to treat such process with disrespect would have to take the consequences.

The Clerk called the roll of the grand jurors, all answering to their names, excepting John Alexander. After some delay the Court ordered the Marshal to call the name of that juror at the door, to which he finally answered, and after the Court had lectured him, the clerk administered the oath to the grand jury. The Court then delivered the charge, for a copy of which we are indebted to the courtesy of James S. McKee.

After the delivery of the charge a number of the spectators applauded and were rebuked by the Court, who said that however appropriate such demonstrations might be in political gatherings they were out of place in a Court of justice.

The foreman of the grand jury, John Chislett, was appointed to appoint one of his deputies to conduct them to their room and to wait upon them.

The Court then went into the business of naturalizing aliens, a large number of applicants being present.

The Grand Jury.—The following is the list of the complete grand jury:

1. John Chislett (Foreman).
2. John Alexander.
3. Wm. L. Perkins.
4. Ichel Waters.
5. Wm. H. H. H.
6. S. S. Ransohoff.
7. Christopher Delih.
8. Jesse Elliot.
9. Enos A. Wall.
10. Oliver H. H.
11. James Horrocks.
12. Thomas E. Hicks.
13. Abraham Zundell.
14. H. H. H.
15. Francis Platt.
16. Frederick Auerbach.
17. Charles B. Townbridge.
18. H. H. H.
19. William R. Judd.
20. William F. James.
21. Julius Malach.
22. Lafayette Granger.
23. Ephraim McLaughlin.

Theatrical.—The Royal Marionette performances were attended by a larger audience last night than on Monday evening, and the performance went off even more spiritedly.

The Marionettes appear again to-night, and there will be matinees tomorrow and Saturday.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Thermometer 77 degrees F. in the shade, at 1 p. m. to-day. Fine. Some clouds.

Pleasant.—This is the pleasant time of the year, neither uncomfortably hot nor uncomfortably cold. Let us enjoy it and be thankful.

Term Calendar.—By courtesy of Joe F. Nounan, Esq., clerk of the Third District, we have received a copy of the regular term calendar, for the October term of that Court. It is printed in pamphlet form, and is so arranged as to be exceedingly handy for members of the bar, each of whom is supplied with copies, as well as to all interested in the Court business of the District.

District Court Proceedings of Yesterday Afternoon.

The Grand Jury Panel Completed.

After recess yesterday, the District Court resumed business at three o'clock in the afternoon. There was a delay of one hour on account of the non-arrival of Mr. Jesse E. Murphy, who had been drawn as taleman and summoned by the Marshal to appear in Court, but who failed to come to time.

The Court ordered that the name of Mr. Murphy be laid aside and the Marshal draw another. The name of William S. McCormick was then drawn. As he was absent from the city another was drawn, and this time it was William C. Lewis, late of Richmond, Cache Co., but now, according to the statement of a person in Court, he resided in Franklin, Idaho. The name was laid aside and that of Edmund Eldredge was drawn, but as he could not be got to Court today, his name was laid aside and that of Thomas A. Jenney was drawn, but as there was an apparent haste to get the jury full, and he not being handy, his name also was laid aside. That of W. Casper was drawn, and for the same reason, met similar fate, and so did that of Lucius Livingstone.

The Marshal next drew from the box the name of Ephraim McLaughlin, and he being a man supposed never to leave town, the Marshal was ordered to summon him forthwith. He soon appeared in Court and was sworn.

In answer to the question as to whether he had any conscientious scruples about finding an indictment in cases where the punishment inflicted might be death, he said that when persons were guilty of murder they ought to be punished; and when asked whether he would be willing to find indictments against parties under the law of 1862, against polygamy, he said he would not understand that question fully.

"Do you believe polygamy to be a crime," said the prosecuting attorney.

"Well," said Mr. McLaughlin, "I would rather be excused. I am willing to do all I can, but really I have no much business to attend to, having a country with Camp Douglas, that I don't know how I could get along. I would rather be excused."

This case was considered a marriage in Court.

Mr. Carey said it was for the Court to pass upon the matter. The Court said the law did not make press of business a sufficient cause for excusing him, the gentleman was excused on that ground a similar privilege would have to be granted to others who had made private application to be excused. Men who had plenty of time to serve were generally the kind that were not wanted for jury service. The Marshal had to select from a list of business men who had interests in society were just the kind of men who were wanted. No doubt the Attorney General would be pleased to accommodate those who had pressing business to attend to during the term of the jury. Mr. McLaughlin could not be excused.

The Marshal then drew twenty-three, being now full, the clerk called the roll, all answering to their names.

The Court, addressing the jury, informed them that after they were sworn, which would be to-morrow morning at ten o'clock, and after that time they would have their charge to them, they would have to go to work immediately, and it was probable they would have to work hard during their term.

Court was then adjourned till to-morrow (Wednesday) at 10 o'clock.

TO-DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

The Court opened again, at ten o'clock this morning, and some time before that hour the doors were surrounded by an eager crowd, anxious to gain admittance. The Court room was soon filled to capacity, every available inch of standing room being occupied. We noticed among the spectators a number of ladies, who occupied the box constructed for petit jurors.

The Court said that only one among the persons summoned as grand jurors appeared, and the Court decided to proceed with the case. Mr. Jesse Murphy, that gentleman had, however, also explained the cause of his absence, stating that it was non-judicial and unavoidable. Had it been otherwise the Court would have punished him. It should be distinctly understood that no process of the Court could be disregarded with impunity, and those who chose to treat such process with disrespect would have to take the consequences.

The Clerk called the roll of the grand jurors, all answering to their names, excepting John Alexander. After some delay the Court ordered the Marshal to call the name of that juror at the door, to which he finally answered, and after the Court had lectured him, the clerk administered the oath to the grand jury. The Court then delivered the charge, for a copy of which we are indebted to the courtesy of James S. McKee.

After the delivery of the charge a number of the spectators applauded and were rebuked by the Court, who said that however appropriate such demonstrations might be in political gatherings they were out of place in a Court of justice.

The foreman of the grand jury, John Chislett, was appointed to appoint one of his deputies to conduct them to their room and to wait upon them.

The Court then went into the business of naturalizing aliens, a large number of applicants being present.

The Grand Jury.—The following is the list of the complete grand jury:

1. John Chislett (Foreman).
2. John Alexander.
3. Wm. L. Perkins.
4. Ichel Waters.
5. Wm. H. H. H.
6. S. S. Ransohoff.
7. Christopher Delih.
8. Jesse Elliot.
9. Enos A. Wall.
10. Oliver H. H.
11. James Horrocks.
12. Thomas E. Hicks.
13. Abraham Zundell.
14. H. H. H.
15. Francis Platt.
16. Frederick Auerbach.
17. Charles B. Townbridge.
18. H. H. H.
19. William R. Judd.
20. William F. James.
21. Julius Malach.
22. Lafayette Granger.
23. Ephraim McLaughlin.

Theatrical.—The Royal Marionette performances were attended by a larger audience last night than on Monday evening, and the performance went off even more spiritedly.

The Marionettes appear again to-night, and there will be matinees tomorrow and Saturday.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Thermometer 77 degrees F. in the shade, at 1 p. m. to-day. Fine. Some clouds.

Pleasant.—This is the pleasant time of the year, neither uncomfortably hot nor uncomfortably cold. Let us enjoy it and be thankful.

Term Calendar.—By courtesy of Joe F. Nounan, Esq., clerk of the Third District, we have received a copy of the regular term calendar, for the October term of that Court. It is printed in pamphlet form, and is so arranged as to be exceedingly handy for members of the bar, each of whom is supplied with copies, as well as to all interested in the Court business of the District.

District Court Proceedings of Yesterday Afternoon.

The Grand Jury Panel Completed.

After recess yesterday, the District Court resumed business at three o'clock in the afternoon. There was a delay of one hour on account of the non-arrival of Mr. Jesse E. Murphy, who had been drawn as taleman and summoned by the Marshal to appear in Court, but who failed to come to time.

The Court ordered that the name of Mr. Murphy be laid aside and the Marshal draw another. The name of William S. McCormick was then drawn. As he was absent from the city another was drawn, and this time it was William C. Lewis, late of Richmond, Cache Co., but now, according to the statement of a person in Court, he resided in Franklin, Idaho. The name was laid aside and that of Edmund Eldredge was drawn, but as he could not be got to Court today, his name was laid aside and that of Thomas A. Jenney was drawn, but as there was an apparent haste to get the jury full, and he not being handy, his name also was laid aside. That of W. Casper was drawn, and for the same reason, met similar fate, and so did that of Lucius Livingstone.

The Marshal next drew from the box the name of Ephraim McLaughlin, and he being a man supposed never to leave town, the Marshal was ordered to summon him forthwith. He soon appeared in Court and was sworn.

In answer to the question as to whether he had any conscientious scruples about finding an indictment in cases where the punishment inflicted might be death, he said that when persons were guilty of murder they ought to be punished; and when asked whether he would be willing to find indictments against parties under the law of 1862, against polygamy, he said he would not understand that question fully.

"Do you believe polygamy to be a crime," said the prosecuting attorney.

"Well," said Mr. McLaughlin, "I would rather be excused. I am willing to do all I can, but really I have no much business to attend to, having a country with Camp Douglas, that I don't know how I could get along. I would rather be excused."

This case was considered a marriage in Court.

Mr. Carey said it was for the Court to pass upon the matter. The Court said the law did not make press of business a sufficient cause for excusing him, the gentleman was excused on that ground a similar privilege would have to be granted to others who had made private application to be excused. Men who had plenty of time to serve were generally the kind that were not wanted for jury service. The Marshal had to select from a list of business men who had interests in society were just the kind of men who were wanted. No doubt the Attorney General would be pleased to accommodate those who had pressing business to attend to during the term of the jury. Mr. McLaughlin could not be excused.

The Marshal then drew twenty-three, being now full, the clerk called the roll, all answering to their names.

The Court, addressing the jury, informed them that after they were sworn, which would be to-morrow morning at ten o'clock, and after that time they would have their charge to them, they would have to go to work immediately, and it was probable they would have to work hard during their term.

Court was then adjourned till to-morrow (Wednesday) at 10 o'clock.

TO-DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

The Court opened again, at ten o'clock this morning, and some time before that hour the doors were surrounded by an eager crowd, anxious to gain admittance. The Court room was soon filled to capacity, every available inch of standing room being occupied. We noticed among the spectators a number of ladies, who occupied the box constructed for petit jurors.

The Court said that only one among the persons summoned as grand jurors appeared, and the Court decided to proceed with the case. Mr. Jesse Murphy, that gentleman had, however, also explained the cause of his absence, stating that it was non-judicial and unavoidable. Had it been otherwise the Court would have punished him. It should be distinctly understood that no process of the Court could be disregarded with impunity, and those who chose to treat such process with disrespect would have to take the consequences.

The Clerk called the roll of the grand jurors, all answering to their names, excepting John Alexander. After some delay the Court ordered the Marshal to call the name of that juror at the door, to which he finally answered, and after the Court had lectured him, the clerk administered the oath to the grand jury. The Court then delivered the charge, for a copy of which we are indebted to the courtesy of James S. McKee.

After the delivery of the charge a number of the spectators applauded and were rebuked by the Court, who said that however appropriate such demonstrations might be in political gatherings they were out of place in a Court of justice.

The foreman of the grand jury, John Chislett, was appointed to appoint one of his deputies to conduct them to their room and to wait upon them.

The Court then went into the business of naturalizing aliens, a large number of applicants being present.

The Grand Jury.—The following is the list of the complete grand jury:

1. John Chislett (Foreman).
2. John Alexander.
3. Wm. L. Perkins.
4. Ichel Waters.
5. Wm. H. H. H.
6. S. S. Ransohoff.
7. Christopher Delih.
8. Jesse Elliot.
9. Enos A. Wall.
10. Oliver H. H.
11. James Horrocks.
12. Thomas E. Hicks.
13. Abraham Zundell.
14. H. H. H.
15. Francis Platt.
16. Frederick Auerbach.
17. Charles B. Townbridge.
18. H. H. H.
19. William R. Judd.
20. William F. James.
21. Julius Malach.
22. Lafayette Granger.
23. Ephraim McLaughlin.

Theatrical.—The Royal Marionette performances were attended by a larger audience last night than on Monday evening, and the performance went off even more spiritedly.

The Marionettes appear again to-night, and there will be matinees tomorrow and Saturday.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Thermometer 77 degrees F. in the shade, at 1 p. m. to-day. Fine. Some clouds.

Pleasant.—This is the pleasant time of the year, neither uncomfortably hot nor uncomfortably cold. Let us enjoy it and be thankful.

Term Calendar.—By courtesy of Joe F. Nounan, Esq., clerk of the Third District, we have received a copy of the regular term calendar, for the October term of that Court. It is printed in pamphlet form, and is so arranged as to be exceedingly handy for members of the bar, each of whom is supplied with copies, as well as to all interested in the Court business of the District.

District Court Proceedings of Yesterday Afternoon.

The Grand Jury Panel Completed.

After recess yesterday, the District Court resumed business at three o'clock in the afternoon. There was a delay of one hour on account of the non-arrival of Mr. Jesse E. Murphy, who had been drawn as taleman and summoned by the Marshal to appear in Court, but who failed to come to time.

The Court ordered that the name of Mr. Murphy be laid aside and the Marshal draw another. The name of William S. McCormick was then drawn. As he was absent from the city another was drawn, and this time it was William C. Lewis, late of Richmond, Cache Co., but now, according to the statement of a person in Court, he resided in Franklin, Idaho. The name was laid aside and that of Edmund Eldredge was drawn, but as he could not be got to Court today, his name was laid aside and that of Thomas A. Jenney was drawn, but as there was an apparent haste to get the jury full, and he not being handy, his name also was laid aside. That of W. Casper was drawn, and for the same reason, met similar fate, and so did that of Lucius Livingstone.

The Marshal next drew from the box the name of Ephraim McLaughlin, and he being a man supposed never to leave town, the Marshal was ordered to summon him forthwith. He soon appeared in Court and was sworn.

In answer to the question as to whether he had any conscientious scruples about finding an indictment in cases where the punishment inflicted might be death, he said that when persons were guilty of murder they ought to be punished; and when asked whether he would be willing to find indictments against parties under the law of 1862, against polygamy, he said he would not understand that question fully.

"Do you believe polygamy to be a crime," said the prosecuting attorney.

"Well," said Mr. McLaughlin, "I would rather be excused. I am willing to do all I can, but really I have no much business to attend to, having a country with Camp Douglas, that I don't know how I could get along. I would rather be excused."

This case was considered a marriage in Court.

Mr. Carey said it was for the Court to pass upon the matter. The Court said the law did not make press of business a sufficient cause for excusing him, the gentleman was excused on that ground a similar privilege would have to be granted to others who had made private application to be excused. Men who had plenty of time to serve were generally the kind that were not wanted for jury service. The Marshal had to select from a list of business men who had interests in society were just the kind of men who were wanted. No doubt the Attorney General would be pleased to accommodate those who had pressing business to attend to during the term of the jury. Mr. McLaughlin could not be excused.

The Marshal then drew twenty-three, being now full, the clerk called the roll, all answering to their names.

The Court, addressing the jury, informed them that after they were sworn, which would be to-morrow morning at ten o'clock, and after that time they would have their charge to them, they would have to go to work immediately, and it was probable they would have to work hard during their term.

Court was then adjourned till to-morrow (Wednesday) at 10 o'clock.

TO-DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

The Court opened again, at ten o'clock this morning, and some time before that hour the doors were surrounded by an eager crowd, anxious to gain admittance. The Court room was soon filled to capacity, every available inch of standing room being occupied. We noticed among the spectators a number of ladies, who occupied the box constructed for petit jurors.

The Court said that only one among the persons summoned as grand jurors appeared, and the Court decided to proceed with the case. Mr. Jesse Murphy, that gentleman had, however, also explained the cause of his absence, stating that it was non-judicial and unavoidable. Had it been otherwise the Court would have punished him. It should be distinctly understood that no process of the Court could be disregarded with impunity, and those who chose to treat such process with disrespect would have to take the consequences.

The Clerk called the roll of the grand jurors, all answering to their names, excepting John Alexander. After some delay the Court ordered the Marshal to call the name of that juror at the door, to which he finally answered, and after the Court had lectured him, the clerk administered the oath to the grand jury. The Court then delivered the charge, for a copy of which we are indebted to the courtesy of James S. McKee.

After the delivery of the charge a number of the spectators applauded and were rebuked by the Court, who said that however appropriate such demonstrations might be in political gatherings they were out of place in a Court of justice.

The foreman of the grand jury, John Chislett, was appointed to appoint one of his deputies to conduct them to their room and to wait upon them.

The Court then went into the business of naturalizing aliens, a large number of applicants being present.

The Grand Jury.—The following is the list of the complete grand jury:

1. John Chislett (Foreman).
2. John Alexander.
3. Wm. L. Perkins.
4. Ichel Waters.
5. Wm. H. H. H.
6. S. S. Ransohoff.
7. Christopher Delih.
8. Jesse Elliot.
9. Enos A. Wall.
10. Oliver H. H.
11. James Horrocks.
12. Thomas E. Hicks.
13. Abraham Zundell.
14. H. H. H.
15. Francis Platt.
16. Frederick Auerbach.
17. Charles B. Townbridge.
18. H. H. H.
19. William R. Judd.
20. William F. James.
21. Julius Malach.
22. Lafayette Granger.
23. Ephraim McLaughlin.

Theatrical.—The Royal Marionette performances were attended by a larger audience last night than on Monday evening, and the performance went off even more spiritedly.

The Marionettes appear again to-night, and there will be matinees tomorrow and Saturday.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Thermometer 77 degrees F. in the shade, at 1 p. m. to-day. Fine. Some clouds.

Pleasant.—This is the pleasant time of the year, neither uncomfortably hot nor uncomfortably cold. Let us enjoy it and be thankful.

Term Calendar.—By courtesy of Joe F. Nounan, Esq., clerk of the Third District, we have received a copy of the regular term calendar, for the October term of that Court. It is printed in pamphlet form, and is so arranged as to be exceedingly handy for members of the bar, each of whom is supplied with copies, as well as to all interested in the Court business of the District.

District Court Proceedings of Yesterday Afternoon.

The Grand Jury Panel Completed.

After recess yesterday, the District Court resumed business at three o'clock in the afternoon. There was a delay of one hour on account of the non-arrival of Mr. Jesse E. Murphy, who had been drawn as taleman and summoned by the Marshal to appear in Court, but who failed to come to time.

The Court ordered that the name of Mr. Murphy be laid aside and the Marshal draw another. The name of William S. McCormick was then drawn. As he was absent from the city another was drawn, and this time it was William C. Lewis, late of Richmond, Cache Co., but now, according to the statement of a person in Court, he resided in Franklin, Idaho. The name was laid aside and that of Edmund Eldredge was drawn, but as he could not be got to Court today, his name was laid aside and that of Thomas A. Jenney was drawn, but as there was an apparent haste to get the jury full, and he not being handy, his name also was laid aside. That of W. Casper was drawn, and for the same reason, met similar fate, and so did that of Lucius Livingstone.

The Marshal next drew from the box the name of Ephraim McLaughlin, and he being a man supposed never to leave town, the Marshal was ordered to summon him forthwith. He soon appeared in Court and was sworn.

In answer to the question as to whether he had any conscientious scruples about finding an indictment in cases where the punishment inflicted might be death, he said that when persons were guilty of murder they ought to be punished; and when asked whether he would be willing to find indictments against parties under the law of 1862, against polygamy, he said he would not understand that question fully.

"Do you believe polygamy to be a crime," said the prosecuting attorney.

"Well," said Mr. McLaughlin, "I would rather be excused. I am willing to do all I can, but really I have no much business to attend to, having a country with Camp Douglas, that I don't know how I could get along. I would rather be excused."

This case was considered a marriage in Court.

Mr. Carey said it was for the Court to pass upon the matter. The Court said the law did not make press of business a sufficient cause for excusing him, the gentleman was excused on that ground a similar privilege would have to be granted to others who had made private application to be excused. Men who had plenty of time to serve were generally the kind that were not wanted for jury service. The Marshal had to select from a list of business men who had interests in society were just the kind of men who were wanted. No doubt the Attorney General would be pleased to accommodate those who had pressing business to attend to during the term of the jury. Mr. McLaughlin could not be excused.

The Marshal then drew twenty-three, being now full, the clerk called the roll, all answering to their names.

The Court, addressing the jury, informed them that after they were sworn, which would be to-morrow morning at ten o'clock, and after that time they would have their charge to them, they would have to go to work immediately, and it was probable they would have to work hard during their term.

Court was then adjourned till to-morrow (Wednesday) at 10 o'clock.

TO-DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

The Court opened again, at ten o'clock this morning, and some time before that hour the doors were surrounded by an eager crowd, anxious to gain admittance. The Court room was soon filled to capacity, every available inch of standing room being occupied. We noticed among the spectators a number of ladies, who occupied the box constructed for petit jurors.

The Court said that only one among the persons summoned as grand jurors appeared, and the Court decided to proceed with the case. Mr. Jesse Murphy, that gentleman had, however, also explained the cause of his absence, stating that it was non-judicial and unavoidable. Had it been otherwise the Court would have punished him. It should be distinctly understood that no process of the Court could be disregarded with impunity, and those who chose to treat such process with disrespect would have to take the consequences.

The Clerk called the roll of the grand jurors, all answering to their names, excepting John Alexander. After some delay the Court ordered the Marshal to call the name of that juror at the door, to which he finally answered, and after the Court had lectured him, the clerk administered the oath to the grand jury. The Court then delivered the charge, for a copy of which we are indebted to the courtesy of James S. McKee.

After the delivery of the charge a number of the spectators applauded and were rebuked by the Court, who said that however appropriate such demonstrations might be in political gatherings they were out of place in a Court of justice.

The foreman of the grand jury, John Chislett, was appointed to appoint one of his deputies to conduct them to their room and to wait upon them.

The Court then went into the business of naturalizing aliens, a large number of applicants being present.

The Grand Jury.—The following is the list of the complete grand jury:

- 1