DEATH CLAIMS

RICHARD J. TAYLOR

Extremed and Prominent Citizen
Of Ogden Succumbs to Long Illness.

BOARD OF EDUCATION MEETING.

Italian Pedlar Arrested for Attempted
Criminal Assault—Injured Railroad Men May Recover.

Ogden, Utah, March 18.—We regret to have to record the death of Richard Taylor, which occurred at the family residence, 2364 Jefferson avenue, yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. He had the historical distinction of having been the second boy born in Utah. He was born February 4, 1848, at Salt Lake City, and removed to Ogden in the year 1875, where he has resided up until the time of his demise. He was a churchman staunch and true, and to quote his own words, "was a great lover of mankind—God's sons and daughters." He was a true gentleman, extremely quiet, courteous, and unobtrusively careful of the feelings of his friends and associates. He never permitted himself to forget, even for a moment, that he was a citizen of the great Republic of the United States, and that the President John Taylor, his great-grandfather, was a man of his own kind. He was a man of his own kind. He was a man of his own kind.

Prof. Clark recitals—Garden City Briefs and Personalities.

Provo, March 18.—Fred Lott, 21, of Pleasant View and Bitha Norton, 18, of Nephi, were married here yesterday by Judge Childister.

PROF. CLARK'S RECITALS.

Prof. S. H. Clark gave two dramatic recitals in college hall yesterday, attended by large and thoroughly delighted audiences. In the afternoon he gave recitals of "Richard III." and a miscellaneous program in the evening.

The Clark recital closes a series of lectures given by the auspices of the Brigham Young University Polytechnic society, all of which have been greatly enjoyed, and for which the students of the university and the people of Provo are greatly indebted to the society.

GARDEN CITY NOTES.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Wm. F. Bieley will be held tomorrow (Sunday) at the Congregational church commencing at 2 o'clock.

WANT STAKE ORGANIZATION.

Jury List—Church Improvement—Band Concert—Mine Accident.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

Eureka, March 16.—The following persons have been summoned to act as jurors in the Fifth judicial court at Nephi:

Eureka—Walter Lott, William Carleton, Major Church, William Emberton, J. G. Berlin, Charles Shillings, Charles Brown, Ernest Watkins, and P. J. Hendrick. Mammoth—Frank Harrison, E. Young, William Gillespie, Hyrum Flanders and Thomas Gregerson. Silver City—Thomas Garfield.

The people of the L. D. S. Church will expend $500 in improving the grounds surrounding the new church this spring. A two-foot wall will be built around the property, and the ground planted with grass and trees. Water will be piped into the building and grounds.

A meeting of the people of the Eureka ward was held at the L. D. S. church Monday evening for the purpose of framing a petition, asking that a separate stake be made out of the wards of Tintic district, consisting of Mammoth, Silver City and Eureka. These wards are now a part of Juab stake, which also includes Nephi and other towns in the east end of the county. The two sections are so widely separated that it is quite an expense to the officers to make visits when necessary.

The members of the L. D. S. choir are practicing nightly on the musical numbers they will render at the concert to be given by the Eureka band on March 27. So popular are both organizations that already over 600 tickets have been sold for the entertainment necessitating the musicians and singers to repeat the concert as the church cannot accommodate all ticket holders.

The members of Tintic lodge No. 711, P. O. Elks, gave a reception this week in honor of Mr. Watson M. Nesbitt of Pocatello, Idaho, one of the charter members of No. 711.

MINE ACCIDENT.

On last Saturday, while at work in the Ajax mine at Mammoth, Harry Baunister, a miner, was struck on the head by a falling rock, which made him lose his balance and fall, fracturing his ribs and receiving several bad bruises about the body. The wounded man was removed to the Tintic hospital and her clothes badly torn, and then told her father that Pesco had attempted to commit a criminal assault upon her. She also complained that he had handled her very severely. The father then reported the matter to the police. Evidently Pesco had feared trouble, as Sergeant Chambers and Detective Pender worked on the case for several days before they could locate him. Yesterday, however, Capt. Brown learned of his whereabouts with the result that he and Detective Pender succeeded in arresting him shortly after.

PLAIN CITY.

WARD REUNION.

Two Days' Festival in Honor of Pioneers and Anniversaries.

Special Correspondence. Plain City, Weber Co., March 16.—Yesterday and today have been days long to be remembered by the people of Plain City, being the occasion of one of the grandest reunions ever held here.

The object of the reunion was of a three-fold nature, first to commemorate the 46th anniversary of the birth of Plain City as a ward, secondly to celebrate the first of the pioneers of the relief society; thirdly as a time of general rejoicing over the liquidation of the ward debt under which the people have struggled so long.

On the morning of the 15th, the meetinghouse was beautifully decorated with plants and natural flowers and 13:30 found the house packed to overflowing with an appreciative audience.

After the morning session, the choir sang and Chaplain H. J. Garner offered the opening prayer.

A distribution of badges was then made to the honored guests of the day, all of whom had been seated on the ecclesiastical board, and those over 70 years of age.

A most interesting program was then rendered, consisting of special addresses, songs and recitations, the speakers were: John A. Taylor, chairman of the finance committee, Bishop G. W. Bramwell, president of the ecclesiastical board, and the orchestra, the oldest pioneer of Plain City; Joseph S. Geddes, formerly of Plain City, but now of the Oneida Stake presidency; B. G. Taylor and Bishop Levi Taylor of Hartsdale.

Prizes, contributed by the merchants of Ogden City, were then distributed among the pioneers by Counselor P. M. Folkman, and after singing by the choir and prayer by the pastor, a grand march was made to the amusement hall, where the tables groaned under the weight of the sumptuous repast there awaiting all.

After dinner was cleared away the company was entertained by dancing with an occasional song or recitation, until about 6 p. m., when a lunch was served, the aged, and the entertainments continued until 8 p. m., when all members of the ward over 16 years of age engaged in a dance until the midnight hour.

As the capacity of the amusement hall was not great enough to accommodate all the guests, many of the guests of the date all on the 15th, all under 16 years of age met together on the 16th.

At 1 p. m. the hall was thronged with the children, nearly 300 participating in the feast, all were prepared for them and their little hearts were made merry by the music of the phonograph while they ate.

After dinner was cleared away 150 children formed in a grand march. The dancing continued until 3:30 p. m., when with light hearts and happy faces the youngsters bade their final adieu wishing that Plain City reunions might occur oftener.

A CREAMY FOOD

Scott's Emulsion is cod liver oil prepared as a food—not a food like bread or meat, but more like cream; in fact, it is the cream of cod liver oil. At the same time it is a blood-maker, a nerve tonic and a flesh-builder. But principally it is food for tired and weak digestions, for all who are fat-starved and thin. It is pleasant to take; children like it and ask for more.

HANNAH B. MILLER.

Daughter of Jacob Bigler and Elizabeth Harvey, born June 24, 1821, in Harrison county, Virginia. Her father and family accepting the Gospel, moved to Far West, Mo., in 1838; thence to Adams county, Ill., in 1839; thence to Bear Creek, four miles from Carthage, Hancock county, Ill., in 1840. She married Daniel A. Miller, then a widower with five children, Dec. 29, 1840, moved with the Saints to Kanawha, Iowa, in 1846, and to Utah, locating at Farmington in 1848. During the latter journey she died a heroic death and was laid to rest in the cemetery at that place, in which she left five children. While rearing her family and caring for the other five and later for two other motherless children, she was a devoted wife and mother, and for her husband's and also for other relatives, she met unflinchingly and uncomplainingly all the varied vicissitudes of pioneer and frontier life. Her death in her 83th year, March 14, 1905, at 3:40 a. m., may be called of old age. She sat at table for breakfast the morning before her death, and during the day she was cheerful and welcome to her relatives and friends, and said she was not suffering any pain, was well and contented, and had no regrets. There has been born to her 10 children, 50 grandchildren, 103 great-grandchildren, 104 great-great-grandchildren, 20 great-great-great-grandchildren, and 20 great-great-great-great-grandchildren. Her oldest, a daughter, died 17 days before her death. She was a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, and a kind father and affectionate husband. He was a member of the "Tuelier brothers' quartet, and many will remember their sweet singing, especially the Swiss song (warbled). He leaves a wife and seven children, four sons and three daughters, to mourn his departure.

The winter has been unusually mild, apart from that general cold snap the 11th and 12th of February.

The weather has been springlike for some time; snow is all gone, and gardening and farming work is well advanced. It is already past the middle of the season, and the balance is already past. A home-stead will cost about $16. The water is estimated to cost $26 per acre, to be paid for in 10 annual installments. But there is a fair chance for the price of the water to be cut down some. The soil is good; some of it is heavy clay, while other portions are sandy loam. There is but very little mineral in any of the soil.

The water supply in the Carson river runs short in the latter part of the season, for that reason the government has cut a long canal from the Truckee river into the Carson river, so there will be plenty of water in the future.

There is not any timber short of 25 or 30 miles off, except cottonwood, which is plentiful in the valley. Wood is sold in stave lengths sells at from $4 to $6 per cord. Coal costs about $12 per ton. The average yield of grain is about one ton per acre, and the average yield of hay per acre at each cutting is about two tons. Alfalfa can be cut three times per season with good care, but most people cut but twice and pasture the balance. Grain sells at from $25 to $40 per acre, and the alfalfa at from $40 to $50 per acre, and other products in proportion. Fallon, the county seat of Churchill county is situated about six miles from this place, and is near the center of the valley. It is a nice little town and is building up rapidly. It supports seven stores, two meat markets, one confectionery and about 12 saloons and two lumber yards. All kinds of supplies, building material and implements of all kinds are available at fair prices. Fallon is 16 miles from Hazen, a station on the Southern Pacific railroad.

There is considerable patented land here that can be bought at reasonable prices, some with water right and some without.

The water will be turned in the main canal from the Truckee river on the first of April, but as the materials are not completed there will be no water for much of the land that isn't already under cultivation until the latter part of the summer, and some of it not until next spring. The cost of this irrigation system is estimated at $10,500,000. There is not much range for stock, only as it is pastured in summer and

FRANKLIN, IDAHO.

Business Picking Up—Local Improvements—Delicate Surgical Operation.

Special Correspondence. Franklin, Oneida Co., Idaho, March 15.—Business is picking up and the prospects are for good times this summer.

On Monday next, March 20, the citizens of Franklin will meet to look into the proposed plan of putting water on the cemetery and for other improvements.

On Sunday evening the 13th, another child of Mr. and Mrs. George Foster died of pneumonia, the second that they have lost in a little over two weeks.

Mrs. Emmett Nash Lewis, the young wife of Grant Lewis of Lewiston, has just gone through a delicate surgical operation under the hands of Dr. Adamson of Richmond and Dr. States of Franklin, and she is doing well and soon will be up again.

LIBERTY, IDAHO.

HENRY HANCOCK DEAD.

Veteran of 92 Years Taken Off by the Grip—Other Burials.

Special Correspondence. Liberty, Bear Lake Co., Ida., March 10.—Henry Hancock died March 6 at the ripe age of 92. His final taking off was caused by the grip. He was an early settler of this valley, having come here in 1870. He left a wife and three daughters, two of the latter—Mrs. Beasley and Mrs. Collett of Salt Lake—came up to the funeral.

The remains of Mrs. Oliver Orr, who was born and raised here and who died in Canada, were brought here for burial. She was a nice little lady, beloved by all. She leaves a little daughter, 18 months old, husband, father, mother, brothers and sisters to mourn her demise.

William H. Gambling of Sharon, a student of the Brigham Young college at Logan, contracted meningitis while at school, which developed into cerebral meningitis. His death was so sudden and unexpected that it was a great shock to all. He was a very promising young man, faithful to all his duties. His body was brought here for interment in the Liberty cemetery.

Mrs. J. A. Himes gave birth to a fine baby boy yesterday.

ST. JOSEPH, ARIZONA.

COSTLY IRRIGATION WORKS.

Small Community Spends Fortune to Secure Water—Horses for Japs.

Special Correspondence. St. Joseph, Navajo Co., Ariz., March 12.—The people of St. Joseph have had storms in plenty, yet their dam has stood all the freest so far. They have just completed their reservoir, that is to hold the winter water for summer use.

No community in the west has shown more determinate energy and perseverance than the small community comprising the town of St. Joseph. There are but 17 families here, yet in the last 28 years they have spent $70,000 or more in the construction of dams, ditches and reservoirs, and today they are reasonably well off, all living in good homes well furnished, with good prospects before them for the future. Horse buyers are here, who report that they have a contract to furnish the Japanese government with 100,000 horses. This is a good chance to unload the country of its surplus horses.

The continued wet weather has retarded spring work, but all are hopeful of a good season.

SNOWFLAKE, ARIZ.

BISHOP JOHN HUNT HONORED.

Two Months' Rain Soaks Up Parched Land—Excellent Crop Prospects.

Special Correspondence. Snowflake, Navajo Co., Ariz., March 9.—Today was the seventy-second anniversary of the birth of our beloved Bishop, John Hunt, and the good people of the ward have shown their appreciation of his worth and labors in a banquet and a well rendered program, in which the life and labors of the Bishop were represented by members of his numerous family. In the evening an amateur company presented the play of "Hazel Krik," and a drill of young girls.

The fields are beginning to look green. For the past two months it has been one continual rain. The mud has been so deep that teaming was impossible and the mail has been constantly delayed. Never in the history of this country has there been so much moisture, and the storms do not seem to be over yet.

Cattle and sheep owners are in high spirits over the feed prospects and expect some of the best crops of the country never before known.

ST. JOHNS, ARIZONA.

FLOODS MAY DESTROY.

Irrigation Reservoir—Impassable Roads Threaten Famine.

Special Correspondence. St. Johns, Apache Co., Ariz., March 6.—The people of St. Johns are very much concerned over their reservoir, as the water is rising rapidly and the overflow outlet is not completed. The overflow is being constructed in the solid rock and has to be blasted out, making progress very slow. It is feared that if the St. Johns reservoir gives way it will carry everything below it. The Meadows reservoir being here at full and the water is running over the overflow. Work is being pushed on the Hunt reservoir to bring the dam to completion. The sluice gate is open, so that the water is running out to prevent it rising to dangerous levels.

The unprecedented downpour continues and the gullies are all running streams of water.

The impassable condition of the roads threatens the people with a famine. As no freight has come from the railroad for so long the stores are all out of flour, sugar and coal oil. Teams expect to start tonight or tomorrow for the trip but at best they cannot make the trip in less than 10 days.

There is considerable sickness in the town. Three or four boys between the years of 10 and 15 are suffering from nervous attacks like St. Vitus' dance.

HOMESEKERS' OPPORTUNITY.

Government Project to Irrigate 250,000 Acres—Open to Homesteaders.

Special Correspondence. St. Clair, Churchill Co., Nev., March 16.—As parties from all parts of the country are asking for more information respecting opportunities for home making here your correspondent takes the liberty to reply through the "News."

The valley is about 30 miles each way. The government is taking out a canal from the Carson river to irrigate about 250,000 acres of this land. At least one-half of this amount can be taken up under the homestead act. The balance is already patented. A homestead will cost about $16. The water is estimated to cost $26 per acre, to be paid for in 10 annual installments. But there is a fair chance for the price of the water to be cut down some. The soil is good; some of it is heavy clay, while other portions are sandy loam. There is but very little mineral in any of the soil.
