CLOSED.-It is pleasing to notice that our principal merchants have closed their steres during Conference. We are convinced that this policy is the right one and no person will lose anything by carrying it out.

Brother Geo. D. Keaton, of this city, writing under date of April 4th, says:

"Thomas Edwards, of Ogden City, was born in Wales in the month of January, year, and has lately had a new set of double teeth grow in his head, (not having lost the (ront opes). He cut the new teeth about the same as children generally cut theirs; his gums swelling and being very painful at and impassioned rema hair still retains its natural color-jet-black.

A FOOLHARDY ENTERPRISE.-We learn that some men belonging to this city purpose starting eastward, in a few days, on foot, packing most intense excitement, not alone in their provisions with them, to travel to the nearest point where work is being prosecuted on the railway, in order to find employment. it is not because they can not find work here, training of Nero began. but because of a certain dread that work may place, to make money rapidly, fail to do so, and return poorer than if they had remained here, then its lessons have not been properly understood. The time spent in going and returning alone, from one season, even supposing wages were a great deal higher, would more than counterbalance all the difference. But if they do not return at the end of the season, the cost of wintering, and the peculiar circumstances under which men so situated would have to there is no Latter-day Saint, who realizes the object he had in view in coming to these valleys, who would seriously contemplate the placing himself in such a position, where he would be subjected or exposed to contaminating influences, where wickedness and iniquity would hold high carnival around him, and obscene. profane and blasphemous language would sainte his ears morning, noon and night. Money could not tempt him to place himself in such a situation and thus imperil all his prospects for salvation.

Yet apart from this view of the matter, there is another that speaks more immediately, and in some cases more directly, to those who might be found contemplating such an attempt. At part of Nero. this season of the year travel, even for stages, is exceedingly difficult. Melting snows, high waters, sudden storms in the mountains, all tend to impede travel, and make journeying on foot almost if not altogether impossible in places. The district of country, too, lying between here and the end of the track, is more or less infeated with Indians. And for a small party of three or four men to start on such a lone with his coveted dinner of three Crushed Sugar,... arty of three or four men to start on such a journey, in such a manner, if they could make the trip over horrible roads and across swollen and angry waters, would be offering an invitation to the Indians to come and take their scalps. We would fain hope that none can be found so unwise as to venture on such a des- grinders. perate and poor-paying enterprise.

A little lar-sightedness of this kind, on the part of the andience, will increase the noise and make things more uncomfortable than they naturally otherwise would be. Heavy stogs boots and screaming, squeaking shoes, are recommended as preferable for this boot.

FLAGE.—The star spangled banner is waving from the tops of many of our principal houses, in commendation of April 8th, 1800, the dispensation of the dispensation of the fulness of times.
