THE regular monthly meeting of the general officers of the Deseret Sunday School Union will be held next Monday, the 26th inst., at 5 p. m., in the usual place. L. W. RICHARDS, Secretary.

A VARIETY entertainment will be given in the Fifth Ward Hall on Friday evening, May 24. The programme consists of an olio, in which competent local talent will take part, and the farce "I'm not myself at all."

NEXT Thursday evening there will be a gymnastic exhibition by classes from St. Mark's school in the Theatre. The performance will consist of exercises with dumb-bells, Indian clubs, rings, wands, etc. See the advt. elsewhere.

As will be observed by the advertisement of Dr. Foote, Senior, he will close his rooms on Wednesday afternoon. To-morrow (Sunday) his rooms will be closed for the day, but he will be pleased to see his friends and patients on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, of next week, between the hours of 10 and 3 o'clock.

As will be seen by an advertisement published elsewhere, a competent book-keeper and stenographer, who can give the best of references as to character and ability, is in want of a situation. He is a worthy young man and would be a valuable acquisition to any business firm requiring the services of such a person. Apply at this office.

THE Bishops of the several wards of the city and the Superintendents of the Sunday Schools are requested to announce in their respective meetings to-morrow the grand free concert to be given in the Tabernacle on Monday, to extend a general invitation to the public to attend, and to caution all to be there in time as the doors will be closed at 8 p. m., the time for the exercises to commence.

YESTERDAY two prisoners confined in the Penitentiary made an attempt to escape, while on their way to work outside of the walls, but they were soon overtaken and brought back, and will hereafter be kept in close confinement. Their names were George W. Davis and Charles J. Newman, both serving a term for grand larceny, the former having been sentenced to four years, and the latter to two years' imprisonment.

NORMAN J. COLEMAN, U. S. Commissioner of Agriculture, has issued a circular calling a convention of delegates from agricultural colleges and allied institutions, in the various States and Territories, to meet in Washington on the 24th of June, and discuss questions pertaining to agriculture, such as the teaching of this branch in the public schools, the establishment of agricultural experiment stations, the avoidance of loss from planting impure or imperfect seed, etc.

LOCAL NEWS.

The excursion over the D. & R. G. W. will leave this city at 5 a. m., tickets good for three days.

That Corruption Charge.—Following are the instructions of Judge Powers to the grand jury yesterday morning, which were read in a special telegram which was published yesterday. We copy from the Ogden Herald:

Gentlemen of the Grand Jury.—My attention has been called to a paragraph in a public paper, which, it seems to me, makes a direct charge of corruption against certain United States officials in this Territory. It is alleged, in substance, that a ring has been formed among the Federal officers and an agreement entered into by which they will pool the money obtained in the prosecution of offenders under what is known as the Edmunds Law. Perhaps I had better read the paragraph referred to.

[The Judge then read the following paragraph from the Ogden Daily Herald of May 14th:]

It is understood that the circumstances now go to prove that McKay, Dickson and their favorite deputy marshal are in a conspiracy to pool all the booty which they can get out of the anti-Mormon crusade business, and in coming to Ogden they are only carrying out a scheme of monopolizing the polygamy and unlawful cohabitation business in which they are engaged.

Such charges are well calculated to shake the confidence of the community in the integrity and honor of its officials. If the charge is true, those engaged in such business should be removed from office and punished. If the charge is untrue, the Federal officers in this Territory should no longer rest under such a cruel imputation. Therefore direct you to make a searching investigation into the charge I desire you to go to the bottom of the whole matter, and if there is any substance to it bring it to the light. We cannot afford to allow such charges to pass unnoticed. A public office is a public trust. And he who accepts such a trust should be above suspicion.

It may be that the paragraph was prepared by the writer, without a full appreciation of the serious charge it contains. There is considerable interest manifested in this Territory at the present time, and the editors and reporters of the newspapers may not be as careful as they should be. I trust that the charge has no foundation in fact, but I instruct you to give a thorough examination and not cease until you have ascertained that no further light can be obtained.

An Explanation.—Judge Powers evidently does not want to be understood that he is aping the example of the notorious Judge Dudley, of New England colonial days, who used to say to his packed juries: "Now, worthy gentlemen, we expect a good verdict from you to-day," and get such a verdict as he desired every time.

The Ogden Daily News, in its account of the indicting of James Taylor, Moroni Brown and Francis A. Brown, for unlawful cohabitation with their wives, says, that when the indictments were brought into court the Judge said to the grand jury: "Gentlemen, you have done well. You will now retire to your room and continue your good work."

According to the Ogden Herald, the Judge yesterday took occasion to state in open court, "for the benefit of the public, that the report as rendered was incorrect, and he did not wish to have it inferred that he was more pleased with any conviction than another, or that he was here to make a crusade on the people. All men before the Court are considered innocent until they are proven guilty, and he wished to be so understood."

"Incorrect" is rather a mild term to use if the language attributed to him was not his. Possibly, though, it is the inference that would naturally be drawn from the language that he intended to repudiate rather than the language itself.

Birthday Anniversary.—Yesterday, May 22nd, was the 90th anniversary of the birthday of Bishop W. L. Allen, of the 21st Ward. About seven o'clock last evening he was waited upon at his residence by a committee of members of the Ward, among whom were Counselor Foulger and Father William Paul, and the brass band. By these he was escorted to the school house, which was thronged with a joyous company, who greeted Brother Allen with cordiality and affection. In the large vestry a sumptuous supper was arranged upon two rows of tables extending the full length of the room. The display was tempting on account of the excellent quality of the viands, rendered doubly attractive by floral and other embellishments with which the tables were beautified. The whole affair was a complete surprise to the worthy Bishop who was visibly affected by the unmistakable manifestations of affection from the people among whom he is a faithful laborer. The evening was spent by the large gathering, which filled the hall, in dancing, the rendition of recitations and music, besides speech-making and other appropriate exercises. During the proceedings a handsome gold chain was presented by the members of the Ward to the Bishop, Counselor MacFarlane making the presentation speech. Sisters Higham, Castleton and other ladies took a prominent part in arranging and conducting the surprise, which was complete, and fairly overwhelmed Bishop Allen with astonishment. A feature of the affair was the reading of an original poem, suited to the occasion, composed by E. R. Smith.

Returned from Wales.—Elder W. D. Williams, of Ogden, who returned from a mission to Wales with the last company of immigrants, called last evening and gave us a brief account of his labors there and the condition of the work in that country.

He left home April 10, 1883, and has traveled nearly all over Wales during his absence. Most of his preaching has been done out of doors, and he has met with fair success. That country, which was once such a fruitful field for the missionaries, is now almost a desert, but few sheaves for them to gather. There is but one meeting house where regular services are held by the missionaries, as the different branches are too small and poor to pay the rent charged for them. Times are very hard and many suffer for the necessities of life. The slate works in the north have suspended operations and the employes have gone to South Wales to find work in the collieries. It is almost impossible for an elder without purse or scrip to travel or live in that country.

On two occasions, while in Pembroke, Elder Williams was mobbed and narrowly escaped violent treatment, but these were the only occasions during his absence that he was threatened with bodily harm. He held forty meetings, besides doing considerable preaching in a conversational way while there, and enjoyed his labors very much. He is well satisfied with his work abroad, and is pleased once more to mingle with his friends at home.

Bitten by Dog.—A miserable-looking, snarling, old, white, encephaloid animal, which seemed to be a pointer, was taken to Z. C. M. I., bit one of the cash boys of that institution on the calf of the leg quite severely to-day. The lady manifested considerable regret at the occurrence, but that does not cure the boy's wound, nor will it prevent the dog from making just such an unprovoked attack upon another child when it gets an opportunity. It should be promptly killed.

Primary Fair and Meeting.—The annual meeting and fair of the Primary Association of Big Cottonwood Ward was held yesterday, May 22nd, in the ward meeting house. Mrs. Ellen Sutherland presiding. Over one hundred children were in attendance, both sexes being about equally represented. Several brethren were also present, and quite a number of mothers of the children.

After singing, prayer was offered by Brother Mumford, when the children sang the Word of Wisdom.

The minutes of the last previous meeting and the yearly report were read, which showed the enterprise of the little people.

The programme was a good one, and was well rendered. At the conclusion, remarks calculated to encourage the children in obtaining a knowledge of the Gospel, and practicing its laws and precepts, were made by Sister E. C. Clawson, E. R. S. Smith, L. A. Wells, Camilla Cobb, E. B. Wells and Margaret Steele of this city, and Isabella McCallister of Mill Creek; also by the Bishop's Counselor, S. A. Castro, Brother Worthington, the President of the Sabbath School, and Brother Hanson, President of Y. M. M. I. A. of that Ward. Sister Ellen Sutherland, the President, also made a few closing remarks.

Sister Emily Stevenson was elected as an assistant to the President, and two Assistant Secretaries were also appointed. The benediction was pronounced by Master Francis McDonald.

The Fair, which was in an adjoining room, consisted of a great variety of children's work, such as sewing and fancy work, wax and wool flowers, quilts, rugs, fancy baskets, crochets and knitting work, also bread, butter, cakes, etc., all very nice indeed. The hand sewing by very small girls was very neatly executed. Several useful and ornamental articles in wood-work by the boys displayed ingenuity and skill in using tools, and there was one or two good specimens of iron work.

Tables were set in the hall after meeting was over, about two hundred and fifty, including the children; and a partook of a bounteous repast. The blessing was pronounced by Master George McDonald, a very little boy. Altogether it was quite a happy gathering, and will be long remembered by the children.

Teachers' Association.—The teachers of Salt Lake County met in the 14th Ward Assembly Rooms this morning, and after the usual opening exercises, Miss Edwina on recitations and their effects, said it was a difficult subject to speak upon, but that she had written her thoughts. The lady did justice to it and gave some excellent suggestions to teachers.

Miss Edwina, of the Primary Geography, said she worked from the unknown. Begins with the district, and so on, step by step.

Class recitation in grammar, by D. R. Allen, followed. The gentleman said that he made the lesson manufacturing his pupils by making them do most of the work. He varied the exercises, although in order to do so he should leave a subject unfinished. He illustrated his method by presenting a few of his pupils, thus giving a better idea of his method. The teachers were quite interested and asked a number of questions.

Miss Grieves was excused on account of sickness.

Miscellaneous questions by the teachers were freely indulged in by them.

A ten minutes' recess was taken to enable the programme committee to decide about the Institute. After recess the chairman announced that there would be a two days' meeting, the programme of which would be announced through the papers.

After singing by the choir, benediction was offered by J. B. Morton.

The programme for June 9, 1883, is as follows: The relationship of teacher and pupil, Mr. G. M. Mumford; object class recitation, Miss Lynch; select reading, Ella Dallas; organ solo, Maggie Crismon; class in vocal music, A. M. Woolley; how to interest primary pupils, Mrs. W. E. Perry; Critic, Edward Orin.

The Concert on Monday Night.—The programme for the free concert to be given in the Tabernacle on Monday evening by Evan Stephens and 200 of his pupils has been published in sheet form and will be distributed on the evening of the performance. We did intend to give it in full in our column, but it has been crowded out. Suffice it to say that it embraces 16 of Brother Stephens' best productions in the shape of instrumental pieces, anthems, choruses, duets, etc., which will doubtless be rendered in excellent style, and constitute one of the best entertainments ever offered to the public in this city.

Parents are requested to keep their children under 12 years of age with them in the assembly and to leave their babies at home. The gates will be opened at 7:30, and will be closed when the performance begins at 8 p. m.

District Court Proceedings.—In the case of M. S. Aschelm vs. Frank Chambers, the defendant moved that the plaintiff be compelled to elect upon which count he will rely at the trial, and to disavow the other count, claiming that there ought to be but one cause of action. The motion was overruled and an exception taken. The matter was referred to R. T. Sprague to take testimony, etc.

The grand jury having ignored the charge against John Kelly and his bail was exonerated.

Robert Naylor, of England, was admitted to citizenship.

In the case of R. L. Brown vs. H. S. Campbell et al., was closed and given to the jury. At 2 p. m. the jury entered with a verdict of $1,041.81 in favor of the plaintiff.

Professional.—The professional card of Dr. Ellen B. Ferguson appears in to-day's issue. She is one of the oldest lady practitioners of this city, and her ability is of a high order, this fact having been established in her practice. The Doctor gives special attention to certain classes of complaints, which are enumerated in the advertisement. The afflicted should read the list that they may learn to whom they can safely apply for relief.

"Divorcement."—The closing performance of Mlle. Almee's engagement was witnessed last evening by a fair-sized audience, who seemed to thoroughly enjoy the rendition of this popular French comedy. It was in many respects a better play than "Mam'zelle," although the foreign accent of the talented actress was much more noticeable last evening than on the former occasions.

The play has a good plot and abounds in interesting situations and sparkling passages of conversation. Mlle. Almee was ably supported by Messrs. Harrows, Whitaker, Chisnell and others.

Broken Nose.—About noon to-day, while Mr. Robert Williams was riding his saddle horse along First South Street, the animal reared, throwing him to the ground. The frightened animal kicked Mr. Naylor in the face, breaking his nose.

TERRITORIAL ITEMS.

CULLED FROM LATEST EXCHANGES.

The news from the Rio Grande strikers at Denver shows no signs of weakening on their part, and, on the other hand, the railroad company is filling up its shops and making a strong fight to get along with the small force they have secured.

On the 19th inst., two men were killed while at work on a dune which crosses Warm Spring Creek, Idaho. The trouble work on which they stood was about 48 feet above the ground, and giving way unexpectedly, one of them, Thomas Greenland, was precipitated to the ground, where he struck on his head, instantly killing him. Ross, his companion, fell into the creek, sustaining injuries from which he died in an hour or two. Greenland has a family in Finland.

Last Tuesday afternoon a freighter named Jack Williams met with a sad and painful death near Glendale, M. T. He was coming down what is known as "Dead Man's Hill," with his wagon heavily loaded with freight. He was on one of them, attending to the mule, when it gave way, and the unfortunate man was thrown under the wheels, and one of the wagons passed over his body, completely crushing him. He died after about fifteen minutes of terrible agony.

About 5 o'clock in the afternoon of last Tuesday two boys about 12 years of age were struck by lightning near Speedville, Idaho. It was raining at the time, and they were on horseback. The lightning killed both of the horses instantly and completely stripped one of the boys of all his clothing. The other boy escaped unharmed. The last who was hurt was taken to a house near by, and a physician sent for. He arrived an hour later, and attended to the injuries of the boy, who is now doing as well as could be expected.

Visitors.—We had a pleasant call this morning from H. H. Halden, dealer in wool, grain, etc., of Colorado Springs, Colorado; Robert Bleakie, woolen manufacturer of Hyde Park, near Boston, Massachusetts; and G. F. Lincoln, conductor of the Boston and Providence Railway, who is also a resident of Hyde Park. These gentlemen are on a brief visit to this city, and were introduced to us by Brother John W. Snell. We trust they will enjoy their stay.
