The hotel and money building is rising—just a few stories.

The district school of Utah, which opened at Hill's park, and had a good time.

The fight between T. Silverthorn of Ogden and Jim Williams of Salt Lake taken place at the Junction City tonight.

An electric wire on the street railway at the corner of Fifth South and Second West street gave way this morning and blocked traffic on the line for some time.

The City Council will make another attempt at holding a meeting tonight. It is expected the application by Mr. Jones for a franchise to distribute electric light, power, and heat, will come up for consideration.

Mr. Berta, a resident of Fifth East, between Fifth and Seventh South, was to undergo an amputation in the Probate court this afternoon in regard to her mental condition.

In the Probate court tomorrow morning the accounts of the executors in the estate of the late Frank Dyer, deceased, will be heard and approved or disapproved by the court on behalf of the widow.

Two Utah commission dealers this morning in a sort of skirmish. Without the assistance of the Probate court, the dealers asked for their plates generally, as a preliminary to future action. No subjects were actually considered.

Two building societies are doing a good business for the season thus far. The reputation of building is not so large, however, as it will be when the summer season comes in. Many contractors are now coming to the fore, and the building trade is expected to be a busy one.

A little more than a year ago a tax was levied on the City Council, and the city councilmen were asked to pay the same. The councilmen were asked to pay the same, and the city councilmen were asked to pay the same.

There is a great deal of complaint on the part of the public and long waiting lines on the part of the city drinking fountains. The city councilmen are asked to pay the same, and the city councilmen are asked to pay the same.

There were many inquiries by the delegates of the Utah Deputies to the convention today regarding Mr. E. R. Dyer, the young Utah delegate who attended the convention at St. Louis last year, and who succeeded in securing an adjournment to this city. Mr. Dyer is now stationed at St. Louis, and was undoubtedly sent away. Central region was expected at his absence.
