Stirring Last-Day Scenes at Camp Taft This Morning and Afterneon Before the Break Up.

THE VISIT OF GOVERNOR CUTLER

General Geoghegan Talks Straight to The Men-No Room in the Guard For the Discontented.

(Special to the "News.") Manti, Utah, Sept. 11 .- Camp Taft began the last day of its actual life this nerning. Tomorrow the men will muster for pay, and begin early the arducus duries of packing equipment. It is planned to get the special train away as early as possible Tuesday morning as it will be a heavy one and the grades make fast travel impossible. six hours is allowed for the trip, which should land the men in Sait Lake in time for a daylight parade to the The inconvenience of the down trip will not be repeated, as three extra passenger cars have been ordered, LAST DAY SCENES.

Camp life today was very ordinary following the great effort of the Satunday review and the social events which occurred Saturday evening and sunday to make "Governor's day" me-

OUTLOOK IS BRIGHT.

In passing into history Camp Taft fors so with the brightest future apparently ahead of the guard. It was made pisin at the Sinday officers' meeting that Adit. Gen. Joseph Geoghegan will not allow an officer to retain his commission whose attitude is that of the chronic grumbler, or who is not the kind of officer to build up his command. What the state must have he poloted out definitely, is a Naficial Guard of which the state may be proud, and if one set of men carnot make it, nother set of men must be found. The officers and men in camp be found. The officers and men in camp have pretty well gotten rid of the shirlt of dissatisfaction.

FROM THE RANKS.

the new policy was maugurated Saturday at the election in A company, to all the vacancy caused by the resignation of Capt. Hyde. Some of the men were discussing the bringing in of an outsider, and Col. Geoglegen ference that was objectionable to ne to go ahead. He stated in a brief talk that he hoped to see the day in the National Guard when no man could secure a commission—without having served for a long time, and when every promotion both in the line and on the staff came as the result of military service. "Now," he went on, "in your company, why bring men from the outside when you have good men? Use your best men, and reward them always, letting new men prove them-selves with service in the company."

OFFICERS' MEETING.

At officers' meeting Sunday, a great many points were talked over between Governor Cutler, Adjutant General Geoghegan, and the officers of the guard. In addition Captain Hassing Toblas read reports helr trip to Sea Girt. Adjutant Ger h team would go to the internations match next year and that two weeks of larget practise on the *Fort Douglas range, open to all guardsmen, would be secured he shoot. If permission could be secured he stated that the men would amp on the range while the practise Was in progress.

NEW ARMORY PLANS.

With Captain E. A. Kneass of Ogden the adjutant general discussed at length the plans for a new armory, and a defi-nite understanding of just what is re-quired was arrived at.

POINTS TO REMEMBER. In summarizing the results of this en campment, the following figures indi-cate its successful nature: Nincty-one per cent of the guard at-oded, against 82 per cent for last

AN EMPTY HOSPITAL.

The hospital corps had little to do besides condemn the water supply when the camp first went into existence. After that pure water hauled in sprinkling carts to Camp Taft, and distributed in barrels at convenient intervals, prevented sickness from bad water. An ample ration prevented stomach troubles, so that sickness was an unheard of condition. an unheard of condition.

WHERE PRIZES WENT,

The medals for which competitive drills were held for the first time this frills were held for the first time this year, brought out keen competition to excel. Company H won the $50 cash prize for pitching its tents according to regulation, in the quickest time. Company B of Ogden won the gold medal and $50 prize for the best drilled company H of Salt Lake. Company B came near winning the tent contest too, and in the drill for the best private,

It is promised that next year the same prizes will be offered, but that the cash in each case will be doubled.

The visit of Governor Cutier to the camp had extensive social as well as camp had extensive social as well as military features. Of the latter class military features. Of the latter class the review preceding retreat parade Saturday afternoon was the most brilliant of any National guard encampment. For the first time the regiment lined up under its regimental colors. The troop of cavalry and the battery completed an imposing spectacle to the left of a long line of infantry drawn upon the immense parade ground. With guidous fluttering in the wind the parade got under way and the critical time of the camp began. One after one the six lifantry companies marched around six infantry companies marched around the square and past the reviewing officers, who were mounted. Each one maintained an unbroken line, and passed in perfect form. Then came the cavairy and it was expected there would be breaks as both men and horses were green before Camp Taft began, but the breaks did not occur. Four days' of hard drilling told heavily on the of hard drilling told heavily on the men's condition, and as they passed the infantry in their front broke into dou-ble time to return to the point of ba-ginning. The battery too passed on the walk, and then as assurance increased the two mounted branches returned again to pass in review once on the trot, and finally on the gallop.

CAPTAIN ELY'S COMPLIMENT. The last exercise was done in such perfect form by the battery that it won unstinted praise. Capt. Ely of Fort Douglas even riding up to Capt, Barton battery that a bire on the battery to congratulate him on of the battery to congratulate him on his wonderful success.

In speaking of the camp to the "News" Capt. Ely stated that while it was unusual for officers of the army to allow themselves to be quoted in newspapers, still be felt that every praise was due the men who had gone into Camp Taft for the apirit of will-into Camp Tatt for the apirit of willingness and the good form they had showed. He feit that every day of the camp life had brought out a maximum amount of military experience, and that not a single criticism could be expressed from the most technical military standpoint on any appointment of the camp.

Of the social features attending the governor's visit there were many. In the first place it was a gala holiday for all of Sanpete county, and part of Juab. Family parties mounted on hay racks drove in from all surrounding roads, and a special train came over from Nephi. With waternelon huxters they thronged the outskirts of Camp Taft, and enjoyed to the full the military parades. Lary parades.

Then the procession moved to Manti, where in the evening the Commercial club rooms and two dance halls were throughd to their full capacity.

WIVES OF STAFF OFFICERS.

The ladies in the governor's party were Mrs. Cutter, Mrs. Geo. Hansen, wife of the commissary general Mrs. Kesler, Mrs. Irvine and Mrs. Lund. They made their headquarters at the home of Mr. Crawford of Manti, but spent considerable time in camp. Saturday they watched the parade from regimental headquarters, and with the staff members were guests at dinner in the field Saturday evening. Sunday State Senator Larsen of Manti took the party to drive about the city.

Manti Temple, sitting high above Manti Tempie, sitting high above the city on a ledge of grey bock with the binff out of which it was built, jutting out behind it, and the terraces stretching in its front to the bottom of the hill, proved a center of attraction. The high level bluff comprising the temple grounds was made use of by the signal corps to practise flashing messages to Camp Taft, and as the corps was operating when Gov. Cutler and party arrived at the scene, a message congratulating them on their successful encampment was prepared by the ful encampment was prepared by the governor and flashed across the valley. The party, including Adjt.-Gen. Geoghegan, who went to Camp Taft a day before the rest of the staff, returned to Salt Lake last night.

FURNACE BLEW UP.

Explosion of Gasoline Blow Stove Causes Excitement and Damage.

The sudden explosion of a gasoline slow stove, at the cornice and tin works of J. A. Johnson, 141 east Second South street, at 8:45 o'clock this morning, caused considerable excitement, an alarm of fire and a few burns on John Johnson and a helper.

Johnson was burned about the face and neck, while his helper was burned on the hands. Upon the arrival of the fire dearrings. fire department, Chief Bywater applied oil to the burns on the men and advised them to consult a physician. Mr. Johnson, proprietor of the place, stated that no damage whatever was done, and that the injury to the two men will not prevent them continuing their works.

FIRST DAY OF SCHOOL.

Enrollment Up to Noon Reached a Grand Total of 12,500.

Up to moon today a total of 12,500 pupils ad been enrolled in the city scho ear ago. This augues well for a be ttendance throughout the year, and is ighly gratifying to Supt. Christensen and ide, who have been busy during the day aids, who have been busy during the day getting everything in shape to begin active work tomorrow morning.

The heaviest envollment was at the Grant school, where 27 pupils made application for admission. As the building is hardly large enough to accommodate all, some will have to be transferred to the Lincoln, the nearest school in the vicinity, so that an overcrowded condition will not provail. The reason for the heavy enrollment at this school is largely on account of the closing of the Whittler school, which was sold some time ago to the Pioneer stake. The high school starts out with an enrollment of 25, as agains, 725 for the first day last year. Supt. Christensen anticipates that some pupils will have to betransferred from the Riverside and the Franklin to the Onequah. The ifamiliton will likewise give relief to the Summer and the Bryant will draw some from the Lowell. With this slight readjustment the school children will be quite evenly apportioned among the various buildings. The comparative curollment of this year and a year ago is as follows:

fell upon it, crushing out the lives of the passengers.

Owing to this open switch the first car of the Ninth evenue train took the switch just barely staying on the rails and turned into Fifty-third street instead of going down Ninth avenue. The switchman, it is alleged, when he saw his blunder, turned the switch back again as if send the train on the straight track down Ninth avenue. As soon as this was done, the owing to the switch changed, was thrown off the track. It fell into the street, turned completely over and nding upside down, The fourth and fifth cars also left the fourth car struck with terrific force against the buildings at this southwest corner of Ninth avenue and rested against the fire escape. This building is owned by a Mrs. Crowe whose family was at breakfast. The passengers in the fourth and fifth cars were able to save themselves and to get to the street in safety by climbing through the windows of Mrs. Crowe's apartments om the fire escape against which the ourth car rested.

Policeman Edward Moran who was njured was standing beneath the dructure when the accident happened.

He keaped when he heard the crash "I turned around and saw the car iming to the street," he said. "It fell ith a crash on its forward end. The ottom cracked and the sides shivered and opened out. The people were ammed forward, holding to the straps and mixed up together.

"When the side broke out they were scattered all over the street. These were the lucky ones. Those who could not get out were the worst injured.

"I saw there was awful work ahead, so I ran to Fifty-first street and turned in an alarm. Then I sent in a call for all the ambulances and asked for police reserves.

As I ran back I called for help from wagons of all sorts. When I got back the street was strewn with injured people. We lifted them into grocery wagons, trucks, anything handy, and hurried them to Roosevelt hospital, Many of them were women. They had

In the forward car the men, deeming the motorman was responsible for the wreck attacked him and tried to get at him. He was dragged from his seat, but shouled for fair play, and convinced the crowd that it was the switchman and not he that was responsible. Coroner Scholer, who was early on the scene, says that the dead will be at east 10 or more. The injured will number 25 to 49.

Coroner Scholer has caused the arrest of J. W. Johnson, the conductor of the train; Timothy Higginson, J. M. McDavitt, W. L. Berry and D. Clark, the four guards.
