It is the understanding of the war department that Major General MacArthur has sent officers of the army to various points in China under instructions to learn of the fitting out of filibustering expeditions.

The information will at once be communicated to the naval authorities, who will take measures for the capture of expeditions. In addition to looking out for the expeditions, it is expected that the officers in China will report upon the situation so as to keep the authoritles advised of the feeling among the the Tribune from London says: The Boer commandos in the Free State, commanded by Dewet and Olivier, probably muster about five thou-sand men. Opposed to them there are about six divisions, exclusive of the troops lining the failway, Gen, Col-ville, with the ninth division, is at Heilbron; Gen, Meth an with the first, at Lindley; Gen. Chermslde, with the third, at Kroonstad; Gen. Rundle and Jen, Brabant, with the eighth and colonial divisions, at Mcksburg; Gen. Gen. Clements, with the twelfth brigade at Senekal, and Gen. Kelly Kenny, with another brigade of the sixth and prob-ably other forces, at Bloomfontein.

There must be thirty thusand British troops available for operations against Dewet and Olivier, and each of these six columns is too strong to be at-tacked. Only two of the six columns are supplied directly by the railway and the remaining four are either de pendent upon convoys or endeavoring to live off the country. The difficulties of transport were serious enough to cripple these scattered forces, and when Gen. Roberts was cut off from communication with Kroonstad there were six generals awaiting orders, and there was nobody in supreme com-mand in the Free State. There is no official news from any of these columns. Dewet could hardly hit upon cleverer tactics for throwing the British plans into confusion,

In some cases the external signs of Contagious Blood Poison are so slight that the victim is firmly within the grasp of the monster before the true nature of the disease is known. In other cases the blood is quickly filled with this poisonous virus and the Wrecks. swollen glands, mucus patches in the mouth, sorea, ou scalp, uncers on tengue, sore throat, eruptions on skin, copper colored splotches, and falling hair and eyekrows leave no room for doubt, as these are all unmistakable signs of Contagious Blood Poison. Doctors still prescribe mercury and potash as the only cure for Blood Poison. These poisonous min-erals never yet made a complete and permanent cure of Contagious Blood Poison. These powering ininerals produce mercurian rheumatism and the most effensive sores and ulcers, causing the joints to stiffen and finger nails to drop off. Mercury and potash make wrecks, not cures, and those who have been dosed with these drugs are never after free from aches and pain. S. S. S. acts in an entirely different manner, being a purely vegetable remedy; it forces the poison out of the system, and instead of tearing down, builds up and invigorates the general health. S. S. S. is the only antidote for this specific virus, and therefore the only cure for Contagious Blood Poison. No matter in what stage or how hepeless the case may appear, even though prenounced incurable by the doctors, S. S. S. S. S. S. is not a new, untried remedy ; an experience of nearly fifty years has proven it a sure and unfailing cure for this disease. It is the only purely vegetable blood medicine known.

Mr. H. L. Myers, no Mulberry St., Newark, N. J., says: "I was afflicted with a terrible blood disease, which was in spots at first, but afterwards pread all over my body. These soon broke out into sores, and it is easy to imagine the suffering I endured. Before I became convinced that the doctors could do me no good I had spent a hundred dolfars, which was really thrown away. I was greatly improved, and was delighted with the result. The large, red splatches on my chest began to grow paler and smaller, and before long disappeared entirely. DANGER IN PEKIN.

There are thirty-one foreign war ves-sels at Taku. A message from Pekin to the admirals asserts that the situation is hourly growing more dangerous for foreigners. All those at Pekin have taken refuse in Legation street. The civil males are under arms to fight with the regulars if necessary.

The approaches to Legation street are surrounded by howling mobs of un-disciplined soldiery, with cannon and bayonets. The International Guarda were holding off the mob, which screamed insults and threats. This was the situation yesterday (Saturday) when the couriers got

It is be-lieved that merchant vessels will be prompt to adopt the route. There is

It is understood, of course, that the United States can obtain more expedi-tious results by co-operating with oth-er nations. The rapidity of the advance of Lord Roberts cannot have permitted him to accumulate large reserves of stores. Therefore an interruption of the rail-way, even for a week, must embarrass the army, and may bring the forward operations to a standstill.

Nothing has been heard from Lord Roberts for three days. This raid on he railway, the strenuous opposition to Gen Rundle and the nimble escape of ommandant Gen. Botha's division, have forced the war office observers to the reluctant conclusion that the War is not yet over, although even the oc-casional civilian Boer sympathizers cannot see how the Boers will be able to do anything to change the result.

The war office has received the following dispatch from Sir Redvers Bul-Sth: We halted yesterday to get our trains up the pass, which is very steep, I found the enemy were about 2,000 strong, in a very carefully prepared position, which they must have been very disheartened not to have held longer than they did. They have all retired about tweny-six miles to the north-west. I find our casualties were more than I first thought. They were one officer wounded and two men killed and thirteen wounded.'
