"I hardly know how to answer that question, except to say that his man ner was that of a commander-in-chief."

The judge advocate then asked: "What impression did the admiral's manner in that engagement make upon you

Mr. Raynor, counsel for Schley, ob-jected to this question, and after some ontention the question was withdrawn. Judge Advocate Lemley stated before withdrawing the question that he con-sidered the point as embraced in the precept and said that while the test was a disagreeable one he considered it his duty to press it and intimated that he would do so at another time. "Why did you not go in and des-troy the Colon in the engagement on May 31?" Judge Advocate Lemly asked the witness. "Because we were not ordered to do so," replied the witness.

Later on the witness volunthered the statement. "I think the Colon could have been destroyed where she lay at anchor that day.

Admiral Higginson stated, in reply to questions from Capt. Lemley, that there were no written orders and so far as he could recall, the only verbal or-ders were to "go in."

HIGGINSON'S REPORT OFFERED.

Judge Advocate Lemley then offered Admiral Higginson's report of the 5th of August, saying the report had been made in line of duty, Judge Wilson of counsel for Admiral Schley said no objection would be made but that counsel for the applicant did not de-sire the unobjected acceptance of the report to operate as a precedent.

Capt. Lemly announced that he had no further questions to ask of Admiral Higginson and counsel for Admiral Schley stated they had no questions to It was then stated by Capt. Lem put. y that the court had some questions of its own to present.

These were written. The first was concerning the elevation of the guns during the bombardment of the Colon on May 31. The reply was that at first they were 7,800 feet and latterly 9,000 they were (300 feet and latterly 3,000 feet. The next question was as to "whether there was any place of shel-ter near Santiago where the flying squadron could have coaled after its arrival at Santiago?" Admiral Higginson replied that Guantanamo was only forty miles to the cert

SOMETHING OF A SENSATION. SOMETHING OF A SENSATION. The third question, coming as it did from the court, created something of a sensation, which was added to by the reply. The question was: "Was every enort made by Admiral Schiey to destroy or capture the Span-ish steamer Colon, as she lay at anchor in the harbor at Santiago, between the 27th and 31st of May?"

MAJOR WOOD TESTIFIES.

Maj. Thomas H. Wood, of the marine corps, who commanded the marine force on the Massachusetts during the Span-ish war, testified to the circumstances connected with that vessel's operations during the slege of Santaigo. He said that the second day after Santiago bay was reached by the flying squadron, he had seen the Cristobol Colon lying inside the harbor: that there was at that time another Spanish vessel, of the Viscaya class, partly visible. He thought both were in view for three or four days. The witness also said that when Admiral Schley had a me aboard the Mussachusetts previous to the bombardment of the Colon, on May 31, the he had heard that officer say to Capt. Higginson;

Devoted to a Review of Important Questions-Secy. Long May Resign-Mr. Cortelyou Will be Private Secretary. Washington, Sept. 20 .- After a sus- | quest, will retain his position as his pension of three days as a mark of respect to the dead President, the business of the government at Washington was resumed at 9 a. m. today. The train bearing President Roosevelt and train bearing President Roosevelt and chair long occupied by his predecessor. the members of his cabinet arrived at The gloom and solemnity which charthe Pennsylvania station at 9:20 o'clock, and fifteen minutes later the President entered the White House, and going at once to the elevator, proceeded to the cabinet room, where President McKinley was wont to do the greater part of his work. When the new chief execu-tive reached the White House he walked briskly to the big front door, which swung wide open to receive him. He spoke pleasantly as he passed to the watchman and other employes of the mansion, and reaching his office, was joined almost immediately by Secy. Long, who did not go to Canton to take part in the funeral ceremonies. Soon after Senator Cullom called to pay his respects, and following him came Senator Proctor, one of the President's close personal friends. Secy. Long informed the President as to the condition of affairs in his office, and was asked as to the work in the Schley court of inquiry. With Senator Culiom President Roosevelt exchanged pleasant greetings and received the as-surances of the support of the Illinoia senator. With Senator Proctor there was a similar exchange of expressions secretary. At 11 o'clock all the members of the cabinet had arrived at the White House and soon were seated around the familliar table. President Roosevelt occupled a seat at its head and in the acterized the meeting was not unbefitting the occasion.

Nearly all the members of the present cabinet are quite sure to remain dur-ing Mr. Roosevelt's term, but it is very probable that Secy. Long will retire within the next few months. He feels that he can resign without embarrass-ment to Mr. Roosevelt and therefore it is thought that within the next few months he will ask the President to permit him to retire to private life. The cabinet was in session about an hour and a half, all of the time being spent in a general review of the more important questions which will require the attention of the new President. All the members were present except

Judge Raynor asked:

'May I ask the court if, according to the method of procedure here, the court has ruled that we are not at liberty to object to any question at all, that may be asked?"

RIGHT TO ASK QUESTIONS.

Admiral Dewey replied: "While this court is ordered to in-vestigate all the facts, we have the right to ask any question that will bring out the facts. One of the charges against Admiral Schley, is whether or not every effort incumbent upon the commanding officer of the fleet under such cirucumstances was made by Commodore Schley to capture or de stroy the Spanish cruiser Colon, as she lay at anchor in the entrance at Santiago harbor, May 27 to 31, inclusive. We have asked that question and we have his (Admiral Higginson's) opinion. This court by the precept is obliged to give an opinion upon the conclusion of the investigation. Now in the opinion of the court, and in order to form our opinion, we wanted Admiral Higginson's opinion on that subject."

JUDGE WILSON'S VIEW.

Judge Wilson-I understand that precept, reading it through from end to end, to be simply this, that there shall be an investigation to get at the facts. And when you have gotten at the facts then you express your opinion, but you are not called upon, as I must respect-fully submit, are not permitted to take somebody else's opinion. You have a right to get all the facts you can and that is what we want, but otherwise you will see at once that you might have a great variety of opinions and all the opinions of subordinates. In other words the precept don't call for any-body's opinion except the opinion of the honorable court.

DEWEY'S OPINION.

Admiral Dewey-In the opinion of one member of the court, and perhaps of the others, we do not ask his opinion, but for a statement of a matter of fact. 'was everything done." We ask don't say in your opinion.

Judge Raynor made an extended argument, quoting many legal author-tites against the advisability of opin-lons of witnesses and he was speaking when, at 1 o'clock, the court took a re-cess of an hour for luncheon.

COURT CALLED TO ORDER.

Promptly at 2 o'clock the court was called to order by Admiral Dewey and Mr. Raynor resumed his argument in opposition to the admissibility of questions intended to call out the opinions of witnesses. He contended that if testimony giving opinions should be admitted the in-quiry would be interminable. If, for instance, opinions were to be taken as to the propriety of the loop made by the Brooklyn, practically the entire navy could be summoned, as all its members were experts and each would have his opinion. Witnesses were expected to opinion. Witnesses were expected to reinte facts; the court to give opinions. Replying, Judge Advocate Lemly quot-ed the record in the trial of Admiral Kepphel, arguing that it was entirely within the discretion of the court to decide whether the opinion of a witness who had been on the ground should be called for by the court. He thought, however, that "the weight of authority" was against asking the opinion of a witness

QUESTION WITHDRAWN. The court then withdrew its question as to Admiral Higginson's opnion as to whether Commodore Schley had done all that could be done to destroy the Colon while that vessel lay at anchor in Santiago bay. Another question put by the court was as to the distance the squadron lay out from Santiago and the reply lay out from Santiago and the reply was that it was three or four miles out during the day time and two or three miles out at night. In reply to a ques-tion he said that after the bombard-ment of May 21 no forther effort had been made to destroy the Colon because the vessel had gone inside the harbor. Admiral Higginson was then excused and Capt. C. N. Chester, who command-ed the Cincinnati, and who is now in
