SALT LAKE CITY, March Isth, 1985.

The Salt Lake Herald of the 16th inst. outains a very interesting article in "M ," which I think well deserves the writer's name in full.

When I was a boy of only 13 or 14 years and that was in the year 1833 or 1834 -1 had the inestimable privilege of fixing my eyes upon a young man of about 28 summers, and I never was so impressed either before or since that time by the visage of mortal man. And when I heard him speak words of inspiration and revelation, to me he spake as I never heard a man speak before. As a result, the memory of his appearance present a secrety in the market, and is and also of many of his words is most and also of many of his words is most widly impressed upon my mind, and clings to it as the by does to the majestic oak of the forest, around which it is entwined. It lodged in the esophagus, about half way down, and re-mained there for four days and nights. Dr. Beane, of Earle Rock, was sent for, but could do nothing for the little sufferer. The only nourishment taken for four days and nights was a little milk, as no solid food could pass the batruction. Wednesday evening, the 11th inst., she died in great agony.

There are a few cases of measles here, but with this exception the health of the people is excellent. We are about 300 inhabitants in this ward, and there has not been a death from sick-ness of any kind for twelve months, how is that for a healthy country?

ST. GEORGE STAKE QUARTER-LY CONFERENCE.

A series of meetings comprising the st. George Stake Quarterly Conference President John D. T. McAllister presided, and was supported by his Counselors, and a very full representa-tion from the wards of the Stake, both dlicers and people. The meetings began at 2 p. m. Fri-lay, the 15th inst., by a Conference of he Relief Societies and Young Ladies Mutual Improvement Associations; this was followed by the Conference of be High Priests at 4 p. m. The usual 'onference business and reading of reports were attended to, and pertinent astructions given.

At 10 a.m. Saturday morning, the Stake Conference began its sessions, which were continued through the day and during Sunday.

The preaching from various promient brethren was excellent.

The usual business of reading quar-erly reports and presenting and voting or authorities was attended to. Bishops of the wards, without ex-seption, reported their people as in an improved spiritual condition, increasng in union, in faith and good works, decided advance being generally aparent in obeying the Word of Wisdom Sunday Schools, Primaries, Improve ment Associations, Relief Societies and acting Priesthood, were all shown to be in an active condition.
