MEETS NEXT IN CLEVELAND.

Great Fight Will be on the Adoption OF the New Constitution and By-Laws

Los Angeles, July S .- The thre most important matters to come be fore the National Educational associa tion during its 1907 convention, an which will be finally voted upon Wednesday, were practically settled tonight. E. G. Cooley, superintendent of schools of Chicago, will be the next president of the association, suc ceeding Nathan C. Schaeffer of Philaceeding Nathan C. Schaeffer of Phila-delphia, incumbent, who retires. W. O. Thompson, president of the Ohio state university, who has had very large support among the delegates as a presidential candidate, will retire from the race in favor of Mr. Cooley, and will probably place the latter in nomination before the convention. The secret of this move is to disarm the opponents of Mr. Cooley in his home city, who have hoped to defeat him for the presidency, thus giving the teachers' federation or "inber union" idea among the teachers the credit of a victory.

idea among the teachers the credit of a victory. The next national convention of the association will go to Cleveland in 1608. The Cleveland partisans have overwhetmed all opposition, and that city will probably be chosen by a unanimous vote. Deriver has made some small effort to arouse adverse sentiment in its favor, but its adher-onts will not be able to muster enough votes to make a showing. Some other cities have been mentioned, but no effort to speak of has been made in their behalf.

NEW CONSTITUTION.

Lastly, the new constitution and by-

Lastly, the new constitution and by-laws will be adopted by a heavy ma-jority. The sentiment in this regard is practically unanimous. It is anticipated that a vigorous fight will be made against its adoption, but its supporters will be disappointed if it does not carry by a very large majority. Miss Margaret Haley of Chicago, who is expected to lead the fight against adoption and also in favor of the "union labor" idea of beachers, has not arrived in the city, so far as is known, and some are say-ing tonight that she will not attend the convention.

so far as is known, and some are saying tonight that she will not attend the convention. "World peace" was the rallying cry at the opening session of the fiftieth strand convention today. The 4,000 delegates listened intently to the address of President Nathan C. Schaeffer upon the subject of "How Can the School Ald in the Peace Movement?" and applauded vigorously his strong demunciation of war. At its conclusion the convention received and restricted to the committee on resolutions a strongly-worled resolution favoring ment and other international reforms. Two sections of the resolutions were abled to the American delegates at The Hague.

CALLED TO ORDER.

CALLED TO ORDER. At 9-30 President Elmer Brown, Unit-ed Storts commissioner of education, called the national council to order in Beeran hall. He announced that of the 56 living members of the council, 35 had indicated their intention of being pres-ent at the convention, of which num-ber 26 had given notice of a desire to speak on various topics assigned. In his address to the council, Mr. Brown expressed the hope that "while this convention is meeting on the east-ern edge of the Pacific, it will do all in its power to aid that great gathering.

Brown expressed the hope that "while this convention is meeting on the cast-ern edge of the Pacific, it will do all in its power to aid that great gathering, the second Hague peace conference, now assembled on the eastern shore of the Atlantic, in accomplishing the peace of the world." He recommended the appointment of a committee, with Mr. Harris as chairman, to confer with the teachers of other lands with a view of arranging a "world-wide co-operation for the-common good." The matter of appointing a commit-tee to bring about a world-wide co-operation among educators, the speak-er asked to be referred to a department committee for a full and careful inves-tigation of the idea involved. The mat-ter will be taken up later and the spe-cial committee appointed. The death of three active and three honorary members of the national council was noted with appropriate re-marks by President Brown. Members who have died since the last meeting; William R. President Schaeffer answered the question, "What can the school do to aid the peace movement?" He said in part did the peace movement?" He said in part: "The greatest problem of the twen-tieth century is the boy, with one ex-ception--the girl. As soon as the girl takes up the study of history, she be-gins to wish that she had been born a boy. Her text-book magnifies the achievements of men and devotes very little space to the deeds of women. "It seems to me that our text books, our examinations and our instruction should glorify the arts of peace above the art of war. It other words, his-tory should be soft from a more ra-tional point of view. Whilst it would be wrong to rob the soldier of a just share of glory, whilst it would be a mistake to minimize the sacrifice and services of flie army and the navy, it will nevertheless be wise to emphasize the victories of peace above the vic-tories of war, and to teach history in such a way that the pupil will write the name of the poet, the orator, the artist, the inventor, the educator, the in a place as conspicuous in the temple of fame as that occupied by the name of the victorious general or the successful admiral. "Whilst the teacher is inculcating proper ideals of patriotism, heroism and public service, the pupil can be taught to despise not only the bully who is ever anxious to pick a quarrel with weaker companions, but also the nation.

"The fact that boys at the age of 13 can learn to shoot with marvelous accuracy should be correlated with the accuracy should be correlated with the fact that at the same age, and even earlier, boys can be taught all sorts of break-neck acrobatics. If not for national protection, we shall need an army and a navy during coming centuries, but, as soon as the three and a half millions of teachers in the schools of the civilized world shall begin in earnest and with skill to inculcate sentiments of peace and the principles of justice and fair dealing in the treatment of weaker na-tions, we may hope for the limitation of armaments and the dawn of an era of heace that is worthy of the disciples of the Prince of Peace." SC PURIFIES Bad blood is responsible for most of the ailments of mankind. When from any cause this vital fluid becomes infected with impurities, humors or poisons, disease in some form is sure to follow. Boils, Pimples, etc., while they show on the skin, have an underlying cause which is far deeper—an impure, humor-infected blood supply, and until this is corrected, and the blood purified, the distressing itching and burning symptoms will remain. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Blood Poison and all other blood disorders, are the result of a vitiated, pol-luted circulation, and will continue to grow worse unless the poison is re-moved from the blood. In all blood and skin diseases S. S. has proved itself a perfect remady. It goes down into the circulation and removes all itself a perfect remedy. It goes down into the circulation and removes all waste matter, humors or poisons, and makes the blood pure and health-sustaining. Nothing reaches inherited taints and old chronic troubles like S. S. S.; it cures because it purifies the blood and restores lost properties to the impoverished circulation. Not only is S. S. S. a blood purifier of the highest order, but a tonic and appetizer without an equal. Book on the blood and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write.
