FLOATING FRAGMENTS.

A snow storm is approaching. On Wednesday evening the benefit concert tendered to Conductor Beasley will come off at the 19th Ward school house. On Wednesday evening, November 1st, Dwight S. Dow will repeat his lecture on "The Secrets of the Counting Room," at the City Hall.

This morning Judge Hunter sustained the demurrers and quashed the writs in the mandamus cases. It was the only legal and consistent decision that could have been rendered.

We note with pleasure the appearance on the street of Mr. J. W. Alford, who has been literally at death's door for more than a year. His complaint was pneumonia, and of such a serious nature that the doctors have repeatedly given him up as beyond their skill. Mr. Alford is as emaciated and weak from his long sickness that his nearest friends can hardly recognize him.—Heaver Utahan.

When the day is clear, Venus is visible in the southern heavens to the naked eye. Although the sun is shining brightly it can be seen plainly by all whose eyes are not dimmed by age or disease. It will be visible about November 1st, and on December 6th it will cross the sun's disc, which will be the last transit of Venus that will be seen by anything now living on the earth, as it will not occur again for over two centuries.—Ez.

W. W. Butler, in the Idaho penitentiary, is the inventor of a new patent barbed wire fence. A patent has been granted him. He has been in the penitentiary for eight years; his time expires next March. Since he has been a convict he has invented the barbed wire fence and a tug hook. He is at work now on several other inventions; a patent has been applied for on the tug hook. A penitentiary is no place for such men; still they will get there sometimes.—Walla Walla Watchman.

A gentleman came to Montana last spring and rented a farm on South River, giving over half the product for rent, tams, seed, etc., furnished. This fall he sold his share of the grain crop for $1,700 and returned to the States. He had on the farm hired man during the summer, but he nearly earned his wages in the hay field. Of course he incurred some expense in harvesting and threshing, but it is safe to say he cleared $1,000 in five or six months without investing any capital. We give this example to show what a good farmer can do in Montana.—Husbandman.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

A Worthy Man.—A notice appears in to-day's issue of the death of Brother John Hendry, of Wells, Cache County. He was First Counselor to Bishop Wm. Maughan of that place, and a very worthy man, esteemed for many excellent qualities of head and heart.

Sunday Drunkenness.—Branches of the ordinance against selling liquor on Sundays are constantly increasing, and the number of cases of wretched drunkenness are becoming correspondingly plentiful in this city, until it has reached the nature of a glaring evil and nuisance. The ordinance should be enforced.

The Far South.—Brother Luther C. Burnham, writing from San Juan, near Farmington, New Mexico, says: There are but few families at this point and we are in need of help from a number of faithful saints. I can recommend this place as a good opening for families of young men who wish to make money.

Bountiful Ratification.—The People's Party ratification meeting in the Bountiful Tabernacle, on Friday night, was a rousing affair. The house was crowded. Mr. David Willey was in the chair and W. S. Muir, Jr., secretary. Telling speeches were made by Messrs. B. H. Roberts, James T. Smith, and John Fisher.

A Nimble Thief.—There is a night-prowling thief in Boise City who not only eludes every attempt to capture him, but the Democrat asserts he has been shot at times innumerable. He has been frequently hit at short range, but dances off nimbly, as if nothing ailed him. It is thought that he wears bullet-proof clothing. The Boise people are anxious for his capture.

The Beaver Mandamus Cases.—The mandamus cases of the Governor's appointees for the offices of Probate Judge and County Clerk of Beaver County were to be heard at Beaver by his honor Judge Twiss, to day. Messrs. Dickson, Christian and Anderson are counsel for the "appointees," and Messrs. Merritt, Kirkpatrick and Kenner were appear on the side of the incumbents of the offices.

The Late Nellie T. Wilder.—Among the statements made regarding Nellie T. Wilder, lately shot and killed in this city by Jessie Walton, was that she had a child in San Francisco. It transpires that this was not the case. A lady writes from that city to Coroner Taylor, informing him that the deceased was passionately fond of a little two-year old daughter of her's, and that Mrs. Wilder had written to her stating she would shortly be in San Francisco. She afterwards read the account of the homicide, which she says greatly shocked her. The writer of the letter to the coroner says she knew of the frailty of the deceased, but had a great regard for her on account of having treated her with great kindness when she was ill. The statement to the effect that the deceased intended visiting San Francisco shortly corroborates the testimony given at the inquest on that point by Joseph Beasley.

One of the leading ladies connected with the Convent of Mercy, at Bangor, Maine, has also written to Coroner Taylor for full particulars of the homicide. The deceased was formerly an inmate of the convent. It appears from another communication from A. G. Bowes and Co., of Denver, that Mrs. Wilder was possessed of a good deal of means. Her name before she was married was Nellie T. Maloney.

A PROPER DECISION.

THE COURT SUSTAINS THE DEMURRERS IN THE MANDAMUS CASES.

This morning, in the Third District Court, in this city, His Honor Chief Justice Hunter delivered his decision in the mandamus cases of George C. Douglas and Arthur Pratt. The former is the Governor's appointee for Territorial Auditor of Public Accounts, and the other for Sheriff of Salt Lake County. The application was for peremptory writs to compel the incumbents to vacate, that they might be installed. The incumbents having demurred, the decision of the Chief Justice sustained the demurrer and denied the writ. One of the grounds of the ruling is that there was nothing in the pleadings to show that the applicants had filed their bonds or taken the oath of office, as prescribed by the statute. The Judge read the statute, showing that it had not been complied with. As an illustration he cited his own case. He had been nominated for Chief Justice of Utah by the President and confirmed by the Senate of the United States. The United States' statute required that he should take the oath of office in Utah and had he not complied with this requirement he would not now be Judge of the Third District Court.

The decision in a nutshell is, in both cases, that the demurrers are sustained, reserving questions of tenure of office and form of remedy. The Court held it requisite that plaintiffs should allege and prove approval and filing of bond; and if the approving board or officers refuse to act, plaintiff must first resort to mandamus to compel action. Plaintiff's attorneys have taken time to consider whether to amend or appeal.

THE OGDEN MANDAMUS CASE.
 DEMURRER OVERRULED AND PEREMPTORY WRIT OF MANDAMUS TO ISSUE.
 By special dispatch to the News from Ogdin we learn that in the mandamus case of J. N. Kimball, appointee of the Governor for Probate Judge of Weber County, as against Judge F. D. Richards, the incumbent of the position, Judge P. H. Emerson, this morning, overruled the demurrer and ordered that a peremptory writ be issued. A stay of proceedings was granted till 2 o'clock to hear arguments on supersedeas.

We are not yet informed as to the grounds upon which the remarkable decision is based. The pleadings of the plaintiff alleged that the incumbent of the office of the Probate Judge was a polygamist, but it can scarcely be presumed that the ruling was made on that ground, there being nothing upon that point before the court beyond the bare allegation of the fact.

LATER.—We learn by another dispatch that, this afternoon, Judge Emerson granted a stay of proceedings and appeal in the case.

"A Relic of Antiquity."—Elder Geo. O. Noble, who lately returned from a mission to the United States, brought with him a red sandstone boulder, about one foot in length, ten inches in breadth and eight feet high. It was found three inches under the surface of the ground, in digging the foundation for a warehouse on the premises of Mr. Oliver Shelby, two miles from Covington, Fountain County, Indiana, on the banks of the Wabash and Erie Canal, and presented by the above named gentleman to the Deseret Museum. The peculiarity about the rock is that its upper surface is covered with characters generally uniform, in horizontal rows. There are between sixty and seventy of these characters, extending all over the flat surface of the rock. They are evidently only a portion of the inscription or writing, the rock being irregular in shape and broken off at the edges. There is a great similarity in the characters, a number somewhat resembling the letter V receding, others approach nearer a circle or a square.

Suicide of a Lady of Butte.—We learn that a Crockerford, late of this city, committed suicide at Roseman last Friday. The unfortunate lady lost her husband, to whom she was devotedly attached while here, and the calamity nearly crazed her at the time. It is thought that her loss preyed upon her mind until the chords of reason were broken, and in a fit of temporary aberration she secured a revolver and sent the leaden messenger of death crashing through her brain. The bullet produced a frightful wound, the front part of her head being torn away. She lived an hour and a half in a state of coma after the infliction of the wound.—Butte Miner.

Returning Home.—This morning Apostle C. G. Rich, who has been in the city since the beginning of the present month, left for his home in Paris, Bear Lake Valley, accompanied by five members of his family. By going east as far as Granger and taking the Oregon Short Line from that point he will be enabled to travel comfortably on the cars to Montpelier, about eight miles from his residence. We wish him a safe journey, and hope soon to learn of an improvement in his health.

Change on the U. P.—The following order has been telegraphed westward along the line to Ogdin: Ogdin, Oct. 27.

Until further orders, E. Dickinson, with the title of general superintendent, will have charge of the line from Cheyenne (including the yard at that point), to and including the Ogdin yard, and the Echo and Park City branches. His headquarters will be at Laramie, Wyoming. The order to take effect Nov. 1, 1882.

Hot Shot.—The facts and figures in relation to taxes paid, or rather not paid by the appointees of the Governor for various official positions of trust and emolument, and leaders of the "Liberal" party generally, has caused a great deal of teeth gnashing and squirming among the carpet-bag fraternity.

About Election Returns.—Judges of election in all parts of the Territory, should be careful, when they forward the returns to the Secretary of the Commission, to endorse on the outside, "Election returns from (here name the precinct). This precaution is necessary to avoid the opening of the returns before the canvass is made. Unless thus marked on the outside the papers are liable to be opened with other documents before the canvass is entered upon.

Y. M. H. A.—The presidents of the above Associations of this State are requested to report their reorganization, and time of meeting at once to the State superintendent, so that a list may be printed for the convenience of visitors. Also procure the new roll and records and commence using them with the beginning of the present season. Appear at the meeting this week and commence visiting at once. The 21st Ward ending visit to the First Ward, the First to the Second, etc.

Jos. H. FELT,
 JOHN W. TAYLOR.

CARD.

To the Public and Whomever it may Concern:

I have this day sold to the John W. Lowell Wagon Company, of which I am President and principal stockholder, my good will and stock in trade and buildings.

I take this occasion to tender my sincere thanks to the public at large for their generous patronage for the eleven years I have been in business here, and especially to those warm friends who have taken such an interest in my welfare. But few days have elapsed for years without some new customer saying to me: "I was recommended to come to you by Mr. , a friend of yours." Kind friends, your friendship, sympathy and assistance will never be forgotten.

Messrs. Justin E. Morse, John Farmer, Martin O. Johnson and Carlin D. Josley, who are the other directors and own the balance of the stock of the new company are all young men who have been in my employ from four to seven years, and are pretty well known to the general public. We shall continue the same line of business as heretofore, and I trust that the John W. Lowell Wagon Company will merit and receive a fair share of public patronage.

Yours, very respectfully,
 JOHN W. LOWELL.
