"Much Ado About Mothing."-This phrase received a vivid Hlustration in the town of Oxford, Idaho, in the northern part of Cache Valley. Last Monday and Tuesday an old man named Darby was missed from his home, at Five Mile, about six miles from Oxford, a diligent search was instituted, but to no avail. Rebert W. Taylor, who was related to Darby by marriage, was at once condemned by public sentiment as Darby's murderer. He was accordingly arrested. The evidence showed that the wife of the accused had run away with another man, and in consequence he had carried about a miniature arsenal. consisting of a "tomahawk, two pistols and a couple of knives." These facts appear. ed to the angry populace conclusive, and public feeling ran high against Taylor. The sensational bubble was, however, suddenly bursted, by the reception of the following dispatch, which was read in court:

Logan, July 11, 1838. Willard Crawford, County Attorney, Oxford, Idaho: Do you want E. Darby in court?

SANDWICH ISLANDS MISSION CONDITION OF THE WORK-THE GOVERNMENT-A FIRE AND ITS

EXTINGUISHMENT - MEW MEETING HOUSE. The following is extracted from letter from Elder Edward Partridge, President of the Sandwich Islands Msalon, to a friend in this city:

The report from the Elders who ver. lands are generally encouraging. Some additions are being made, enough, perhaps, to make up for those who die or apostatize, which is pretty fair. If we can manage to hold our own in the present condi-tion of the people, I think we are doing tolerably well.

The opposition of foreigners to Mr. Gibson's administration still continues, which apparently has but little effect, however upon the present in-cumbents in office, except Mr. Pres-ton, the Attorney General, who was Mr. Gibson to that office, ad and a half, when Mr. John Mellon C. M. I.. or W. J. Bateman, U. C. the office of prime minister, is president of the board of health, president of the board of education and the bear demond as a set of make a accredited with managing or mis-managing the whole machinery of convenient pond for the animals to the government, squandering the water. From this spring runs a public funds for coronation and other stream, which sinks and rises choldish pastimes, which bids fair to bankrupt the little kingdom or throw it into the arms of some responsible empties into City Creek in a ower who may have the inclina- tiny rivulet. Notwithstanding that tion to reach out and save it from the stream is pretty well filtered by complete run. Of course a good deal of bombast is indulged in, but past experience indicates that pos-sibly there may be some substantial reason for so much outery.

We try to attend to our own affairs and not bother about politics, and as a result are allowed to pursue the quantities, in diluted form, in the even tenor of our way without elfo- water they drink. Mr. Mellon iting any particular opposition from any on; the old missionary party being out of power and influence with the government can only an-noy us in a petty way, that has no torship of the land, but on being ad-

We have had a very dry season: the cane has suffered for the want of good to remove the herd to a more rain. Everything looked dry and suitable place, he promised to do so parched, with scarcely any water in the guiches for the stock. Last week a fire got started in the grass in the field which threatened the Rudy that carcasses of dead sheep destruction of our cane. The people all turned out, saints and sinners, men, women and children, natives and foreigners, but it appeared that they could not subdue the fire. The natives worked like heroes, going on found but one, the body of a sheep the burnt stubble and into the fire with their bare feet, but it appeared that the fates were against us, and the fire was within a few feet of the cane, perhaps not more than two feet, when the wind suddenly veered get the upper hand of an old file and nortions of a tip one the upper fire at that point. But it still raged toward the sea and was near burning a native thatche but when all at once, without ap arent preparation or warning, a hower of rain descended, puttin out the fire and giving the people good wetting, which was a grateful onsummation of the performan as many were nearly ready to melt with the heat of the fire and their exertions in trying to subdue it. Since that we have had several nice showers, causing things to look different and wear a more pleasing we are getting along slowly with our new meeting house. It will be all we can do to get it ready for ded ication by October Conference, but we want to have it dedicated then, as we want to have it dedicated then, as the people are making great pre parations, and there will no doubt be many here at that it is a doubt be many here at the same at t be many here at that time. The event is expected to rival the coro-nation of the King in importance; out you know the character of the The Elders all appear to enjoy the spirit of the mission and are willing to labor in any place or in any manner they are required to, which makes it pleasant for all parties. I expect that when the meeting house shall be finished it will be all paid for. I must say that I never le and how easily they are car paid for. I must say that I never saw a people so willing to donate as the natives, considering their financial circumstances. I consider it wonderful. The cash donations have amounted to about $4,500 for that building.

The Wool Trade.-On Thursday will be spreially interesting to disreturned from a trip along the western exid of the U. P. R. R., in the wool/business interest of Mr. H. B. Clayson. He was absent eight days and succeeded in making a considerable purchase, amounting to about 200,000 pounds of wool. About 92,000 pounds of this quantity was bought at Hilliard from the well-known sheep raisers, Mackay & Reading, Richardson & Grant, Mr. D. miel Simpers and Mr. Goodman. As a rule this season the wool is in good oon lition. Notwithstanding the late loss of Mr. Clawson by firs he is strengling successfully to hold his business together and is doing quite a large trade in wool. We are pleased to note the fact.
