A QUAKER TO A SALOONKEEPER

Several persons, among them a Quakor were crossing the Allegheny mountains in a stage. A lively discussion arose on the subject of temperance and the liquor business, and those engaged in it were handled without gloves. One of the company remained silent. After enduring it as long as he could he said: "Gentlemen, I want you to understand that I am a liquer dealer. I keep a public house at ----, but I would have you to know that I have a license and keep a decent house. I don't keep loaf-ers and loungers about my place, and where a more have on our have not no when a man has enough he can get no more at my bar. I sell to decent people and do a respectable business. He thought he had put a quietus on the subject, and that no answer could be given. Not so. The Quaker said: "Friend, that is the most damnable part of thy business. If thee would el] to drunkards and loafers they would help to kill off the race and sothee clety would be rid of them. But thee takes the young, the poor, the inno-cent and the unsuspecting, making cent and the unsuspecting, making drunkards and loafers of them. When their character and money are all gone thee kloks them out and turns them over to other shops to finish off, and thee ensnares other and send them on the road to ruin."

Forty-two Vessels in Harbor and 13,000 People on Shore June 21. Washington, July 7 .-- The following report of the condition of affairs in the Alaskan gold, fields has been received at the war department from Gen. Randail dated Anvil City, June 21: "Forty-two vessels in harbor, about 13,000 neople estimated, on shore. Quiet prevalls. Transport Rosecrans in at-tempting to make her way through the ice, fields was driven aground on the flats off the mouth of Tukon river. Had to be partially unloaded; later the re-ports from her says she is off and reloading, no injury or loss of life reported. She is expected in this port within four days. Athenian arrived safely, discharged animals here and proceeded to St. Michaels before my arrival. Two salling vessels, barks Hunter and Eclipse, reported wrecked in vicinity of Rosecrans. Lawton was left in Dutch Harbor; expected to ar-rive at St. Michaels today."

Rich Shipments Compared.

The Denver Post has the following to say of a rich shipment of ore from Stratton's Independence: On a single day last week the Independence under consideration shipped 300 tons of five ounce ore, which means $100 a ton for the lot. The Cripple Creek papers think this beats the record, but it doesn't. Ask Irving Howbert of the First National at the Springs about the extraordinary and unprecedented raise on the Robert E. Lee of Leadville back in the early '80s-silver in-stead of gold, it is true, but nearly solid silver in the form of 80 or 90 per cent straight chloride-but it ran into more thousands of dollars than this much-heralded strike in the Independence. But, no matter, it is solendid, all the same, the only drawback he-ing that it rejoices the hearts of Brit-ish instead of American stockholders. For the week ending June 28th this mine produced 3.010 tons of an average value of four ounces gold to the ton; gross value for the week, $157,000. Grand, beautiful, inspiring, and the profit was 75 per cent of the total. Now, if we only had two or three dozen web readjuants. But here is a fact Now, if we only had two or three uses such producers. But here is a fact which has followed the history of ev-ery mining district in the State-one or two, sometimes three, but never a greater number, and among the earliest discoveries in each camp, have invar-lably led all the rest. Strive as they would, no competitors for first place have ever won it, while the original lamps held out to burn.

In its weekly review the Bingham Bulletin says: Work of recapping the Highland Boy tram towers is progressing very satisfactorily. week. The lew that have taken place are all of the small order, with prices so low that neither buyer nor seller cared to state them. It is a fact, how-ever, that several offers at 13 cents were made without takers."

Dave Cook and partner are leasing on the Dora, adjoining Julia S. In Carr fork, and have a nice showing of ore. Colonel A. E. Wall is pushing development at the Yampa with a force of seven or eight men. He says the property is looking well for a "prospect." Silver Shield was on the market with two cars of concentrates and one car of crude ore Monday. We learn from reable source, the mine this month is to clipse all her previous shipping records, Highland Boy to pay more attention in future to the deposit of lead ore which cuts through the immense coppe for which this magnificent property is so justly noted.
