Stolen Horses Shipped to Utah-Revenue Collector Edward Calllister has been asked by the sheriff of Colfax, N. M., to keep his weather eye open for 27 head of horses stolen Septy 1 last, from the ranch of S. M. Chase and shipped into Utah.

Co., the Omaha wholesale house in writing to their representative in Salt Lake, Mr. W. R. Butler, used the following complimentary language: "I wish to thank you very much for the Christmas number of the Deseret News which has just come to hand. It is certainly a splendid issue and re-flects great credit, not only on the management of the paper itself, but on the thriving city of Salt Lake and the State of Utah.

Glass Broken Too Often—A metal-lic roof is being put on the conserva-tory on the south side of the temple, instead of the glass covering long in use there. The glass had to be fre-quently replaced, as it was constantly breaking. The beams used as raft-ters are of iron, and in summer the expansion and contraction cause by heat and subsequent cooling would play havoc causing warps and breaks, Metal answers the same purpose as glass, and at the same time is much more durable. Glass Broken Too Often--A metal-more durable. Inaugural Ball Plans—Plans for the inaugural ball to be tendered Governor-elect William Spry were discussed at a meeting held yesterday in the office of Postmaster A. L. Thomas. It was deided to hold the ball in Odeon hall on the evening of January 25, the Armory floor not being in good condition. It was at first planned to hold the affair in the Armory. The executive committee in charge of the function consists of Gen, E. A. Wedgwood, Col. George A. Seaman and Col A. P. Kesler of the governor's staff and Col. George B. Squires, deputy secretary of state. Conference not Abandoned—The During November $864 Was Collected And for First Twelve Days of December $600 Came In. As a commentary on the former laxty in the conduct of some of the municipal offices, where the revenues of the city have been handled, a little digging into the system at present employed in keeping track of poll-tax collections and delinquents, develops some facts worthy of consideration. Conference not Abandoned-The The most impressive fact of all in project of a conference between the his connection shows that until last project of a contraince between the secretaries of the various commercial bodies of the far western states, started last March by Manager Harris of the Salt Lake Commercial club, and for the time set aside by Mr. Harris' illness, has not been aban-doned. Within the next few months, the maritar will be original assidered June there has never been any record kept of the delinquents on the poll-tax list, other than what could be learned by a reference to a list of the names of those who paid their tax, and a suppledoned. Within the next few months, the matter will be seriously considered again, and if Mr. Harris' health admits it will be carried out. It is believed that much good will come from such a conference to all the communities including the commercial bodies re-formed to mentary reference to the voters' list, a comparison showing the names of those who were delinquent. This, however would not have shown the real delin-quents because the voters' list would have contained the names of all those have contained the names of all those who were exempt from the payment of the tax because of the age limit. As the matter stood, according to the showing made by Chief Clerk Law-rence, of the street department, prior to last June, when the present sys-tem was inaugurated, there was prac-tically no way of telling who the della-Sheep Man a Bankrupt—A petition in bankruptey has been filed in the federal court by John D. Anderson, n farmer at Mt. Pleasant, Sanpete a farmer at Mt. Pleasant, Sanpete county. His liabilities are scheduled at $5,194.16, of which amount $3,-951.16 is represented by a judgment secured against petitioner by C. W. Anderson, for moncy loaned and ren-tal on sheep. To the Sanpete Co-secured against petitioner by C. tem was inaugurated, there was prac-tically no way of telling who the della-quents were. This left the city in the position of taking what revenue it could get from this source, as, in the absence of knowing who the della-quents were, there was no way of forcing payment, and it would be a metter of liftle difficult to show that tal on sheep. To the sample co-operative company is owing a con-siderable amount. The bankrupt's assets are placed at $4,294.50, of which sum $3,633 is claimed as be-ing exempt from execution, being the value of a homestead and some per-ramel perpendicular matter of little difficulty to show that the city had lost many thousands of dollars from its just revenues in this sonal property.

Mrs. Hoy has never been to China. She is a graduate from the Idaho City High school and speaks English well. Hoy is the owner of several laundries and hotels in Idaho and Montana and says he is worth about $100,000.

Texan Getting Pointers-Texan Getting Pointers-Secretary Ensign and the directors of the State Fair association feel highly compli-mented by what Secretary Kinne of the El Paso, Tex., Chamber of Com-merce said of the association, while here yesterday. Mr. Kinne told of Ensign that the high reputation of the Utah State Fair association has reached Texas, and one of the main reasons for his stopping over here was to secure information as to how the Utah fair was conducted, and learn -Secretary Utah fair was conducted, and learn of its methods of administration. The secretary spent over an hour with Mr. Kinne giving him all the information he desired, and which he was glad to get. Many of the features of the Utah management will be adopted at the next Texas fair in which El Paso s represented.

INCREASE IN PAYMENTS. The books containing the data from which information can be drawn for the basis of legal collections, are being compiled by J. P. Keate, who has charge of the poll-tax department of the city business, and working with him are two assistants, necessary from him are two assistants, necessary from the fact that every effort is being made to prepare these lists complete as soon after the first of the year as possible. Regarding the matter of present poll-tax collections, Mr. Lawrence said that they were coming in much faster of late than they had ever done before, which fact is attributed largely to the number of suits recently filed by Asst-City Atty Rogers, the effect of which is easily discensable in the increased is easily discernable in the increased payments shown in the cash account of the office.

DELINQUENTS NOW LISTED.

During the month of November the total revenue derived from this source amounted to $854, and up to the 12th of the present month, to which time only the books have been posted, the poll-tax payments had amounted to $609, and a glance at the daily blotter figures from that to the present time shows that the revenue from this source has amounted to approximately $50 a day, which will make the present month a record breaker.
