

WEATHER AND CROP BULLETIN.

Conditions Favorable for All Kinds of Farm Crops.

UNUSUALLY WARM WEEK.

Local Showers Occurred Over Northern Part of State—Strawberries are Getting Ripe.

Salt Lake City, Utah, May 29, 1900.

The week ended May 28th was unusually warm. The mean temperature for the State was about 66 degrees, or between 6 and 7 degrees above the normal. The maximum temperatures generally ranged between 80 and 90 degrees. A few local showers occurred during the northern half of the State on the 22nd but were too light to be of much service. The ground had become very dry at the close of the week and very few crops needed rain. In Juab and Millard counties, dry farm grain was suffering and unless rain comes it will be nearly a failure. Much irrigation was done during the week. Lucern is coming into blossom and some of it is being cut. Wheat and oats continue in excellent condition. Sugar beets are growing nicely. Corn and potatoes are getting ripe and some have been picked and marketed.

INCREASE ON SALARY ROLL.

Eighth Grade Teachers May Get More Pay on Their Merit.

RETAIN HIGH SCHOOL CORPS.

School Board Casting About for a Principal to Succeed Prof. Clark.

The board of education met last evening as a committee of the whole, and modified the wage schedule of teachers somewhat, and passed upon other matters of importance to the teachers. The entire complement of high school teachers was re-employed with an increase of salary in some instances. Nothing was done, however, in relation to the principalship, as the board desire to exercise care and judgment in appointing a successor to Principal Clark. It was thought that one of the teachers in the school would be called to the position but as all those whose names were associated with the position have been retained as instructors, it would seem to preclude any teacher from the school, and therefore the choice may fall upon some one outside of the city.

The three heads of departments were retained, with a slight increase of salary. They are: Mathematics, L. M. Gilliland, salary $15 a month; Latin, Miss J. A. Rowe, salary $105 a month; English, Miss Ella M. Dukes, salary, $105 a month. The names of the high school teachers are as follows: German and English, May U. Critchlow.

Advanced Latin, Alice E. Rowe. Advanced English, Ella M. Dukes. Commercial department, A. H. Beaver.

Physics and psychology, A. R. Hager. Chemistry and mechanical drawing, Lester Stanley.

Biology, Susan G. Stokes. Assistant biology, Mary E. Hall. Beginners' Latin, Eleanor K. Peterson.

French and English, Ellanore Cowperthwaite. Beginners' Latin, Anna E. Buchanan. English, Jesse Goddard.

Parsons' mathematics, Marjorie R. Paine. Drawing, J. T. Harwood. Advanced mathematics, L. M. Gilliland.

Beginners' mathematics, Mary M. Yardley. Algebra and English, W. A. Wetzel. Algebra and history, J. E. Woolley. Civics and history, Ira D. Travis.

Military and English, Elizabeth M. Burgen. The maximum salary paid to the eighth grade teachers was raised to $80 as against $70, which was the maximum heretofore. The teachers will reach the maximum at the rate of an advance of $2.50 a month, according to merit and time of service. The maximum in the other grades will remain at its present standard of $70 a month.

The Quinby, Lowell, and Grant schools, being inadequate to the increase of children, the board authorized the buildings and grounds committee, to solicit bids and award contracts for erecting two basement rooms in each of these buildings, and for placing the lavatories in an annex to the main buildings. These improvements will cost about $13,500.

The claim of Primary Superintendent Holton for the sum of $88.25, to bring her salary to $1,350, the figure agreed upon at the beginning of the year, was allowed. The claim of Drawing Supervisor Elliott for three weeks' additional salary was not allowed.

Such janitors whose services will be required during the summer months, will be continued on half pay, until the opening of school next fall.

The fourth event, a five-furlong sprint, produced the sensational event of the day. The well-known California-Columbia man, Billy Buchanan, was the favorite, and would have won, but for a careless act of Jockey Buchanan in the home stretch.

Ed L. 190 to 1, Yellow Tail and Frank Bell were lapped on the run home from the sixteenth pole, with Yellow Tail between the others. He was in such a position that he could not force through, and Buchanan's record of 1:17, 8 inches, held. Yellow Tail was fouled, but Buchanan failed to claim a foul.
