LOCAL NEWS.

FROM TUESDAY'S DAILY, JAN. 4.

The Jury List.—This afternoon Probate Judge E. A. Smith and Clerk McMillan, of the Third District Court, selected 200 names of persons to serve as grand and petit jurors for the Third District for 1887. The list was not completed in time for publication in this evening's News.

Congregational Singing.—We are pleased to learn that the practice of congregational singing is likely to be resumed in our meetings, at least in the New Tabernacle. We are informed that President Angus M. Cannon heartily favors the proposition, and Prof. E. Beesley, conductor of the Tabernacle Choir, is willing to rehearse suitable pieces with such members of the congregation as desire to join in singing, as soon as arrangements can be made for that purpose. The singing of an opening hymn by the congregation, when effectively rendered, will greatly aid in awakening an inspiring feeling in the audience and speakers.

Sparks Outgenerated.—The Billings Gazette is authority for the story that a well known scout and hunter, who has traveled over almost every trail in Montana, sent a report to the Interior Department to the effect that on a great many of the principal streams he found large quantities of green timber cut down; the small timber—less than eight inches—was used for building houses and making dams, while the large timber was left to rot on the bank. Commissioner Sparks immediately sent a special agent to investigate the matter, which he did, and reported; but as the beavers are a very numerous family in Montana, there have been no damage suits instituted by Commissioner Sparks.

Arrests at Mill Creek.—Early this morning Deputies Greenman, Cannon and Sprague visited the house of Levi North, at Mill Creek, Salt Lake County, and made two arrests on the charge of unlawful cohabitation. These were Levi North, seventy years of age, and his son, Irlam B. North, of Provo Valley, Utah County. The accused were brought before Commissioner McKay, pleaded guilty, and were placed under $1,000 bonds each to await the action of the grand jury, the witnesses being notified to appear before the inquisitors on February 11th. The sureties for Mr. North, Sen., were W. W. Caspar and John Cook, and in the other case Jesse Murphy and Addison North.

Last Night's Fire.—About half past ten o'clock last night the bottling works of the Boca Brewing Company, at 24 s. Third West Street, were discovered to be on fire. The alarm was telephoned to the City Hall, and in a very short space of time the firemen were at the place. The large building being entirely of wood, was in flames, and it was utterly out of the question to hope to save any portion of it. A small house on the north side, and quite close to the burning building, caught fire but was saved by the firemen from any material damage. A small boiler, some machinery, a light wagon and a number of other articles were also destroyed. The building made a big blaze, and drew a large crowd from various parts of town. The loss will probably reach $2,000, on which there is $1,750 insurance. The bottling works have been shut down for some time, a portion of the warehouse being used as a stable. The origin of the fire is unknown, though it is supposed to have been the work of a tramp or incendiary.

Racing Accident.—The Southern Utahian was the following from a letter written by D. M. Tyler, from Hebron, Washington County, under date of Dec. 26th:

"We had quite an exciting time here last evening for a few minutes; four boys started to run horse races, two from each end of town, about the same time; when they were at full speed two of the horses (one from each way) came in contact with each other, when horses and riders came to the ground together. One horse was killed and the other badly crippled. The boys miraculously escaped with a few scratches and bruises. Had they come against each other at the speed they were going, instant death to both must have been the result."

Similar cases of horse racing seldom occur in the principal thoroughfares in this city, but the incident suggests that fast driving is becoming altogether too common in the streets. Narrow escapes frequently occur, where pedestrians have to be pretty lively to get out of the way of teams, whose drivers seem to think it their undoubted privilege to drive over street crossings and around corners at a furious rate of speed.

Millard Stake Academy.—We are in receipt of the report of the Millard Stake Academy for the past year, which, being too lengthy to present entire, we give a synopsis of. It is addressed to the trustees, and signed by Alma Greenwood, principal. The preparatory department is in his charge for the first seven weeks, then of Miss Alice Merrill for eight, after which time it is conducted by Joshua Greenwood for five weeks; it has 12 classes with 53 weekly recitations, the highest membership in any class being 54, in penmanship, and in physiology. The advanced department is in charge of Alma Greenwood, has 10 classes and 53 weekly recitations, the highest class membership being 50, in theology. The residences of students are as follows: Fillmore 51, Meadow 6, Deseret 5, Kanosh 2, Scipio 1, Salt Lake City 1, Garfield County 1, total 71. There are, in addition, a musical department and a polytechnical society, the progress made throughout being very gratifying. The exhibition of the Academy took place in the Court House at Fillmore on the 24th ult., when an interesting programme was well rendered before a large and appreciative audience. We are pleased to observe from the report that the institution is conducted after the progressive plan rapidly growing in favor among the Latter-day Saints.

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY, JAN. 5.

More Diphtheria.—Two cases of diphtheria have been reported to-day, one at Mr. Wm. Groesbeck's, 27 e. Fourth South Street, and another at Mrs. Woodbury's, 242 w. Fifth South Street.

Fireman Hurt.—Last night a fireman, Peter Hansen, was working at the Baptist schoolhouse fire, when the chimney fell, and he was struck by one of the bricks, which crushed in his heavy hat, and cut a gash in his head. He received attendance, and though the injury is very painful it is not serious.

Stay Insane.—Jos. H. Stay was subjected to a medical examination this morning at the City Hall, Drs. H. J. and J. S. Richards being present as physicians. His conduct and appearance were such that there was no doubt as to his insanity. The matter has been taken hold of by the County Court, and Stay will probably soon be placed in the Territorial Insane Asylum, where he will be unable to do further damage.

Cost of Insects.—The Country Gentleman says: "The yearly loss by the depredations of insects in the United States has been variously estimated at from two to three hundred million dollars; but although the amount of crops has been continually increasing, we have no doubt the insect losses have decreased through the knowledge of cultivators to elude or destroy them. A late scientific writer says there is no doubt it would be wise economy for every State in the Union to have a properly qualified officer charged with the study of insect injuries and benefits, and that many times his salary would be saved to the State."

Going East.—J. H. Erickson, President, and J. E. Clinton, Superintendent of the Wool Growers' Association of Southern Utah, leave for the east on Friday morning, on business connected with the wool growing interests in this section. They will visit Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia and other business centres, with a view of finding a market for this year's wool clip. Being energetic and reliable business men, and representatives of a substantial industry, they will doubtless be successful in their object. The members of the Association now own nearly a quarter of a million of sheep, from which are produced annually over a million and a quarter pounds of wool.

Looking Up Information.—At noon to-day, two persons of the female gender entered the residence of Mr. James Russell, in the Eleventh Ward, and representing themselves as peddlers, wanted to sell Mrs. Russell some lace, asking therefor a dollar a yard; as none was wanted, they offered to drop the price to fifty cents, but still failing to effect a sale, they proposed to let enough of the lace go to pay for a dinner. About this juncture Mr. Russell entered and the women were about to take a hasty departure, when he asked them to stop and take dinner, but they suddenly had business elsewhere; they went out and dropped in to a neighbor's where, as has since been ascertained, they asked the same series of impertinent questions put to Mrs. Russell, about the members of the family, who the little girl's father was, etc. Mr. Russell, after they had left the neighbor's, confronted them on the sidewalk and accused them of being spies, which they, or rather the elder of the two, denied; he asked what religious faith they professed, when she replied with hesitation that they were Catholics; the fact that her conversation was pretty freely punctuated with vile profanity belied her, however, and showed that if she belonged to any church she had no right to claim it. Undoubtedly some Kate Field sneak business is on hand, and we trust our friends will be constantly on the lookout against all such.

Baptist Schoolhouse Burned.—About half-past twelve o'clock last night the schoolhouse owned by the Baptists, and immediately west of their church at the corner of Second South and Second West Streets, was discovered to be on fire. The whole interior of the south end seemed in a blaze, and the flames were forcing their way to the outside. It was probably ten minutes before the alarm reached the fire department, and in another ten minutes the hosecart was on the ground and a stream of water was turned on from a hydrant. The school house doors were burst in, but the inside of the building was all on fire, and it was useless to attempt to get anything out. The flames were prevented from spreading to the church, and the fire was finally extinguished, the building, with organ, school furniture, etc., being a total loss.

The damage will amount to about $2,500, with an insurance of $800. The building was comparatively new, constructed mostly of wood, on a good rock foundation, several feet high at the south end. The fire evidently started in the schoolroom, near the stove, but in what manner is unknown. Everything seemed perfectly safe when school was dismissed in the afternoon, and whether a defective flue or coal of fire had smoldered for hours and finally grew to a flame, is only a matter of conjecture. A new building will probably be erected on the site of the old one.

Shelter the Stock.—The following remarks by the Prairie Farmer, would be of benefit to many in this Territory, if given proper consideration:

"It is painful to take a trip through the country on a wintry day and see both cattle and young horses standing and shivering with cold, on the lee side of the building, straw stack, or clump of bushes. Such stock is being wintered at a loss to the owner, to say nothing of cruelty to the animals. At the end of winter they will weigh less than at the beginning; the hair will be rough and the whole system enfeebled, and the owner have no return for the large amount of food consumed. The chances are that the owner of such exposed stock is fully aware of all this. He intends to provide additional shelter, but neglects to do so. And thus the matter runs, year after year and he makes no money from his stock. The little expenditure of time and money used in providing shelter would probably be returned in the food saved in one year, and certainly the load taken off the conscience ought to count as something. Such shelter, once prepared, lasts for years, and proves a continued source of satisfaction and profit to the owner. It need not be elaborate or expensive. A tight shed or lean-to can be constructed on the side of the barn at a small expense.

In various parts of this Territory many farmers have provided what they call a shed for their animals, which is as bad or worse than no shelter at all. Two rows of posts are set up and a roof of straw made, while ends and sides are left open, thus exposing stock to the full force of the chilling blasts that sweep through the valleys. Such places afford less protection than would a high board fence, and should have at least the sides from which the most severe winds come covered in. Stock has been greatly improved in this region during the past few years, but there is plenty of room for advancement in providing better shelter.

THE REGULAR PANEL

FROM WHICH TO SELECT JURORS FOR THE THIRD DISTRICT FOR 1887.

The following is the list of jurors selected yesterday afternoon by H. G. McMillan, Deputy Clerk of the Third District Court, and Elias A. Smith, Probate Judge of Salt Lake County, to serve on grand and petit juries during the year 1887, as provided by law. The odd numbers were selected by Clerk McMillan, and the even ones by Judge Smith:
