

EMINENT DOCTORS SHUN THE CAMERA

Gynecological Convention Shies Away From Man Who Would Take Their Pictures.

RECITAL THIS AFTERNOON.

Tonight the Distinguished Visitors Will Be Entertained at a Banquet in The University Club.

The second session of the Western Surgical & Gynecological association convened in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium this morning, and listened for three hours to papers on technical matters pertaining to the profession:

This afternoon from 3 to 5 the Holmes cigar room is open to the inspection of the physicians, and at 5 o'clock a special organ recital has been arranged for the benefit of the visitors. Tonight they are banqueted at the University club, and tomorrow their session begins with another meeting at the auditorium. Yesterday afternoon a visit to Saltair completed the day which began with the opening session, in the morning.

This morning 10 papers were read, each followed by an informal discussion by the very eminent specialists assembled, and tomorrow there will be 10 more. The aim of the association has been to assemble all the western physicians and surgeons who have done signal work in their profession, and out of the common pooling of interest in the annual meetings, to develop the general standard of excellence in the profession. Incidentally a good time has not been overlooked, especially by Dr. Baldwin of Salt Lake, who is master of ceremonies, occurring out of the convention hours. He has secured an open key to the city for the eminent guests within its gates, and nothing has been overlooked in the process of making them happy.

WOULDN'T POSE FOR PHOTO. The physicians themselves overlooked a chance this morning, however. The vigilant reporter who rings the hospitals at night and who endeavors to the best of his ability to secure news that is legitimate, and often foolishly suppressed, knows that only one thing excels the modesty of a physician when he is given a chance to have his name in the paper, and that is the wrath of the same physician as having done work to which he has a claim for credit.

This morning a well directed news enterprise effort was made by this paper to secure a group picture of the eminent surgeons on the platform of the building in which they were in session. Thinking Dr. Baldwin's request as chairman of the reception committee would count for something, he was asked last night if the delegates could be assembled on the steps this morning, when the convention assembled. Sure they could, only there would hardly be a full showing there so early, and maybe a photograph a little later would be better.

PRESIDENT SAYS NO. So the photograph staff and a member of the reportorial staff awaited the convenience of the eminent surgeon, promptly at 9, and at 9:45 the humble wish was conveyed by Dr. Baldwin to the very eminent chairman in his very eminent chair.

"I do not approve of having our pictures taken," said the very eminent chairman in a very low tone to the assembled delegates, but a newspaper wishes us to pose for our picture. I will leave it to the meeting if we shall adjourn for this purpose."

HUSH WAS OMINOUS.

A very profound silence fell upon the distinguished gathering, broken by Dr. Baldwin who stated that the photographer was ready on the stairs below, and the picture could be taken in a very few minutes. Then another painful hush fell upon the gathering, and it was broken by a very eminent voice from the very historic floor, which said in low, calm and beautiful, yet sonorous tones, "I move, Mr. Murray, that we do not adjourn." The incident was closed with a dull thud, and a brilliant discussion of "Massage of the Heart in Apparent Death" was resumed. The reporter escaped and led the photographer back to his shop to await some future convenience of the eminent surgeon.

TODAY'S PAPERS: This morning the papers read were as follows:

Dudley Tait, San Francisco, "The Control or Elimination of Pneumothorax During Operations on the Chest." D. S. Falcidell, Des Moines, "Massage of the Heart in Apparent Death from Anesthesia with Report of a Case."

Harry M. Sherman, San Francisco, "A Consideration of Technic Laminectomy."

C. H. Mayo, Rochester, "Extracranial vs. Intracranial Operations for The Douden-Auer."

J. Clark Stewart, Minneapolis, "Anurism Varix."

A. L. Wright, Carroll, Iowa, "A Case of Suture of the Axillary Artery, With Perfect Result."

Bun Bures Knott, Sioux City, "Treatment of Traumatic or Foudroyant Gangrene."

F. Gregory Connell, Salida, Colo., "Sarcoma of the Male Breast With Report on Case."

FIVE DOLLAR BANQUET.

The admission to the banquet this evening will be $5 for local physicians, and members of the association who are visitors will be counted as its guests. The presentation of papers was limited to 20 minutes each by a provision of the bylaws, and this rule will hold to the end. As accepted after being read, each paper is ordered printed in the journal of the association.

LABOR DAY AT SALTAIR.

Last day of the season. Thirty trains. Forty-five minute service. Matchless bathing. Good music, fine dancing.

BIDS NOT OPENED.

Note Were Submitted For the Strawberry Valley Tunnel.

There were no bids opened yesterday afternoon, for the construction of the Strawberry valley tunnel, for the good and sufficient reason that there were none to be opened. The government engineers present in Prof. Swendson's office were surprised, and notified the secretary of the interior, who will decide on the future course of action. The cause of the non-bidding is believed to be the fact that all of the great construction companies have work ahead that will keep them busy from one to two years, and the uncertain character of the ground which may present conditions likely to result in a penalization which is always attached to government work of this kind if not finished in time. The west portal of the tunnel has been opened for 40 feet, and timbering set up. The action of the secretary is awaited with much interest.

BROTHERS ARRESTED.

Hon and Steff Marshall in Toits for Forgery.

Hen Marshall and Steff Marshall, brothers, were arrested yesterday, on complaints charging them with forging and passing worthless checks. The boys are aged 22 and 20 years respectively, and hail from Deseret, Utah, where it is said their parents reside. For several days the youths have been "doing" the town, and all at some one else's expense. Money was obtained by passing checks upon saloon men and merchants, which checks, when presented at banks upon which they were drawn, were found to be worthless.

Among the names signed to the checks are those of F. G. Anderson, F. W. Williams, C. H. Johnson and C. M. Williams. In all $150 was secured by the Marshalls, and they were very successful in the unlawful practise, although the work was done in a bungling manner.

AMUSEMENTS.

Orpheum—Tonight is society night at the Orpheum and a good house is already assured as the bill this week is one of the best to date. The announcement that Wilfred Clarke and company will be retained next week when a new comedy sketch will be presented is received with satisfaction.

Grand—That the best wine had been kept until the last, or in other words, that the choicest production of Miss Georgia Harper and her company had been retained as a farewell present was apparent to patrons of the Grand last night. The company has pleased its audiences from the commencement of its engagement, and the manner in which "Camille" was performed Thursday evening was a fitting climax to a successful season. It is known to theater-goers, the role of "Camille" is a difficult one to essay. The part is one of love, tenderness and contrition, sorrow and tears characterizing the greater part of "Camille's" short life. Miss Harper's rendition left no room for adverse criticism, and she was recalled many times.

The Armand Duval of Joseph Detrick was a close second. In the fourth act, when he believes that he has proof of Camille's perfidy, the denunciation that follows was so powerful and impassioned as to strongly sway the audience. Lovewell and Lamblike Detrick, for once, were in top form. As the audience left the building, expressions of approval and satisfaction for the manner in which "Camille" was rendered were heard on all sides.

"Camille" goes for the remainder of the week, and closes the Harper engagement.

AT THE RESORTS.

Murray at Wandamere—The Murray city band and the choir of Murray and South Cottonwood and their friends to the number of about 2,000, made a pilgrimage to Wandamere yesterday and spent a most enjoyable day. In the afternoon the band played and everybody got busy enjoying themselves. Nines representing Murray and Bountiful dispensed on the baseball diamond and when the smoke of battle cleared Murray carried off a tight game to the tune of 7 to 6. In the evening dancing was indulged in while at intervals the choir sang. Today the Sunday schools of Liberty stake are having their outing at Wandamere.

Picnic at the Salt Palace—The women of Woodcraft yesterday afternoon and evening held a picnic at the Salt Palace. At 6 o'clock all sat down to cold collation and afterwards the members of the Silver Leaf circle in all the pomp and glory of white waist, red skirts and white hats, went through the evolutions of the guard drill on the floor of the dance hall. Later all hands treaded the mazy measure to the strains of the orchestra. Among the notables present was Mrs. J. Bryan of Portland, grand organizer, who was the guest of honor.

The railroad operating in Utah propose to raise rates for all the coming year, however, it is necessary first, however, to grant to delegates before the railroads to reduce before the rates can be increased.

The gain was due largely to the increases made upon the big rate, that in turn were due to the increase in the cost of living.

It is necessary first, however, to grant to the railroads to reduce before the rates can be increased.
