JOSEPH'S BILL KILLED.

CONTRACTS SIGNED.

Another lively discussion took place over the consideration of H. B. 303, by Joseph, prohibiting professors in educacussed at the last meeting of the western trunk lines, when it was agreed that waiting on the wool men as had been the custom, was really a discrimination in their favor as against other shippers, and there was no reason why this policy should obtain any more than that special favors endeavor will be made to induce the business men of the upper end of Main street to agree to the same.

Havana, March 13 .- The idea that foreigners shall be allowed to vote on municipal elections has greatly in-consed the Liberals. They are sure that such a course would revive the bitterness between the Cubans and the Spaniards. The matter has been tem-porarily set aside by the electoral com-mission, which has recommended that a general census be taken so that prop-ce electoral lists may be prepared. A plan for this proposed census has been laid before Gov. Magoon, so that the census may be begun without delay since the work will take a long time. municipal elections has greatly in-

It is also alleged that the government will at-tempt to show by some of the in-dictments which it expects to secure that in running the lines for some of the gigantic irrigation projects the lines were incorrectly run with the al-leged purpose of securing lands other than originally intended to be placed upon the ditch. These cases, it is said, if proven, and the government thinks they will be, will spell ruination to many a settler who has spent his all in the purchase of irrigation acreage.

on the other, A week ago Saturday he feit the grap of a cold taking hold of him; but his work seemed so argent that he determined to try and fight it off with bromo-quining and other home remedies. Sumaay night he had an appointment in the Sixteeach ward to sing and feeture; he was barely able to fill it. Then came Monday's work at the Latter-day Saints' university, followed by the rehearsal of the festival chorus; the latter day Saints' university, followed hy the rehearsal of the festival chorus; the latter day of the works. "The Messiah," and "Song of Dramatha," in preparation, could not well be laid adde even far a night. This al-most prostrated him, and it way as a real invalid that he tock charge of the conjoint rehearsal of the festival and tab-ernacic choir on Thurday night. They worked two solid hours on the difficult music, however, and on Friday he at-tended his university work as usual. On Saturday he was obliged to cut the ju-venile class short, and was quite ill Sun-day, though at his post in the taberna-cie. After the chorus pracifie Monday night he has remained at home where he now is, though he expects to conduct Thursday's rehearsal. Mr. Noel Prat has greatly aided him with his work, especially in conducting at the morning devolutes at the L. D St U., for the past 10 days.

A substitute motion was made that the report be rejected and the bill placed on the calendar. Joseph charged some of the committee members with having experienced a change of heart on this bill, as he had been given assurances that the report would be favorable. He said the need for such a law was imperative, in view of the experience of the present legislature.

Jensen said the measure was un-Scheel and the measure was one constitutional, inconsistent and un-American, and that the legislature had no right to any what any professor should or should not do. Bower said he had had no change of hour and the had had no change of heart, or head either, on this bill and said he would not support it. Jackson favored placing the meas-ure on the calendar so that the house

ure on the calendar so that the house might vote on its merits or demerits. Mills took the same view, saying that he had amendments enough up his sleeve to make a good bill out of it. Westphal and Pedersen favored the bill, and Clerg opposed it, saying it was class legislation, and if such a bill was to be enacted it should include railroad lobbyists, bank presidents and all others who had had a part in lobrailroad lobbyists, bank presidents and all others who had had a part in lob-bying on measures during this session. Thompson said there was a law on the subject already, and no need exist-ed for any special law. Critchlow, Parry, Benson and McMillan also op-posed the bill on similar grounds. Jensen claimed that the object of this measure was to play to tha grandstand. "I like to talk to the grandstand myself," said Jensen, "but I hope I shall never come to the point

A communication was received from Mrs. Tari, widow of the late Seth Tari, asking that the personal effects of the late representative be sent to her at Thurber. On motion the ser-genticat-arms was instructed to com-ply with the request and ship the ef-fects of Mr. Tari to Wayne county. At 13 c'clock the house took a recess until 2 p. st.

Word reached the offices of Samuel Newhouse today that Mr. Newhouse had signed the contracts, on Saturday last, the date on which he sailed for Europe, with the Thompson-Sterritt Building company for the erection of the Boston and Newhouse blocks at the corners of Exchange Place and Main corners of Exchange Place and Main street. Mr. Sterritt, the president of the building company, has left for Salt Lake, so that he will be here by Fri-day, to take immediate charge of the construction, and with him is Mr. Goodfellow, consulting engineer for Architect Cobb.

Surveyors are now going over the locations of the buildings and the new streets, so that no time will be lost in starting the excavating, and cutting starting the excavaling, and cutting through the new streets, Exchange Place from Main to State streets, and Cactus street from Fourth South street to Exchange Place. The Thompson-Street company is said to be the heav-iest concern of the kind in the country; it is erecting at present 20 buildings in San Francisco, six in Chicago and eight in New York. Conferences will be held at an early date between the Newhouse building people and the city engineer building people and the city enginee with reference to grade lines, sower excavations, etc.

COLONEL IS BUMPED.

Managing Editor of Tribune to be Relieved of a Government Snap.

William Nelson, colonel. and Tribune managing editor, gets a little bump this month from the federal government. The colonel is dropped from a position which he has held for years and years till the memory of those who knew that such a position existed, runneth not to the con-rary.

memory of those who knew that such a position existed, runneth not to the con-trary. Colonel William has held undisputed possession of a post as "statistical agent for litah of the department of agricul-ture." for nearly a decade. His paper was at one time a Republican organ, but now it is pretty well known in Wash-ington as in Utah as something else. What that something else is need not be entered into at length here, except enough to explain that a resignation from a post-held tenaciously for 20 years would not be expected to come in a voluntary fashion, and with entire free will. Senator George Sutherland stated this moraling when asked about the resigna-tion, that he had been expecting it for some time, but that he did not care to discuss it. The position, he said, pays for per month, and the duties amount to something, as its holder has to furnish the department with certain specified re-ports. A new appointee is expected to be annonced in the near future.

form system of lighting the business districts. A petition is already before the city council by the firm mentioned and oth- ers, asking for the privilege of install- ing cluster lights on the east side of Main from South Temple to First South, but the petition has been held up pending a decision as to what kind of poles shall be used and what distance they shall be set apart. It was the gen- eral sentiment of the committee and others present today that 39 feet apart for poles, as proposed by the petitioners, would be entirely too close, and that it would be a hard matter to induce property owners on the lower part of the street to follow such a plan.
