THEY TOOK A TRAIN.

But Soon Reached It, and Went on Their Way Again.

Considerable excitement was experienced in official circles in this city last Monday evening, when our police officers were notified that the Industrialists entombed at Thistle had taken possession of a H. L. W. freight and had been ditched before they succeeded in getting away from the city. On Tuesday Marshal Knight, Sheriff Brown and Deputy Sheriff Davies and Birney went to the scene of disturbance. When they arrived they found the Industrialists in possession of the train, and they refused to leave. Yesterday morning the Industrialists concluded to return to the cars. About half of them marched and as far as Clear Creek were followed by the remainder yesterday evening.

Notes.

About one hundred teachers and students of the H. Y. Academy were entertained Monday evening at the academy by the students of the Sunday school class of the academy. The exercises were a success, and the students and their parents were highly pleased.

An elegant function was planned,

Congress Barton, editor of the "Deseret," is confined to his room, suffering with a severe attack of asthma.

Harry Sawyer's company is filled for the 25th at the Provo open house, when they will present the "World."

Alex Williams, formerly a resident of Provo, died at Payson Monday afternoon from heart failure. He was about fifty years of age. The funeral took place today at the home of Mr. Williams' understanding partner, Mr. Witham. His latter was one of the early settlers and well known to the citizens.

A little six-week-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Bessey, of the Second Ward, was buried Monday afternoon. He died Sunday forenoon. The infant has been sickly from birth.

NEPHI.

NEPHI, UTAH, - May 22, 1898.

Court Proceedings.

In Judge Smith's court, testimony and arguments were yesterday heard in the Evans-Evans trial case.

H. E. Price, Republican judge, admitted, testifying for the defense, that Mr. Irvine, printing industry association, after the shooting of the polo player, two bullets in his pocket. When asked why he did so, Irvine told him to make his business; the bullet are there. (In his pocket) and there they will stay. Witness did not see Irvine put the bullet in his pocket.

A statement from Judge J. D. Jones was read to the court, that the officer who shot the bullet, was very honest and might easily have been exonerated without breaking the seal of privilege. The officer who shot the bullet was discharged December 1st. The two bullets (Democratic) were in the box. They were in the middle of a pile of Republican ballots.

A number of claims of Evans & Barnes, Jr., to the city council, were filed by Evans as chairman of a committee, were introduced to show that the firm has been guilty of reprehensible business methods.

Irreconcileable contradictions testimony was offered.

Several witnesses for plaintiff testified that Mr. Irvine only passed the bullet in his pocket temporarily, that he took them out and passed them to the bullet box at the time of the shooting.

The case was signed and went to the jury.

REVIEW OF PROSECUTION.

A short extract of previous case, "Teacher vs. Salvatore La Rosa, for the recovery of $10,000, was tried. The plaintiff testified that defendant had engaged him to teach Italian language. Defendant had betrayed her, and a child was born. Correspondence testimony was offered by the girls mother. In this is now in the possession of the prosecution a letter from the girl, without testimony for the defense or argument. The jury returned a verdict of $5,000 for plaintiff.
