With a few notable exceptions social activity has given place to the holiday spirit, and few functions have taken place. Next week, however, will see a number of notable events, among them the entertainments to be given by Col. and Mrs. E. F. Holmes, at their resi-'dence, and the ball at Christensen's by Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Harris, which promise to be of the brilliant events of the season. . . .

No more charming wedding has taken place in Salt Lake than that of Miss Emma L. McMillan and Gusty Luellwitz on Tuesday night. The home of Mr. and Mrs. McMillan on east South Temple street was transformed into a foral bower for the event, the decor-ations done by the Salt Lake Floral Company being most beauliful and claborate. The hall was lined. company being most beautiful and elaborate. The hall was lined with palms, and the arched doorway leading into the par-lor was decorated with feathery pampas fastened with cream ribbons, while hasked of American Provide Decorated while baskets of American Beauty roses hung between the doorways. The tables and mantels in the parlor were also and mantels in the partor were were adorned with roses, and a canopy of green, with vines interlacing, stretched from the chandeliers to the bay win-dow, in the center of which hung a wedding bell of roses, violets and smilax with smaller ones on each side. Two means and the optrace to the will gates crossed the entrance to the win dow, done in pink and white roses, and begonia, with smilax intertwined. The ibrary was decorated with American Beauty roses and palms, and the dining room was in pink and green. Miss McMillan leaned on the arm of her father, and was attended by Mrs. S. C. Adams, matron of honor; Miss Leta McMillan, maid of honor; and Miss Elizabeth Dern, bridesmald. Mr. W. H. Cunningham was best man, and Mr. William Skinner groomsman. Little Donald McMillan carried the ring in a calla lily. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. M. Pader, the Mendelssohn march being played at its close. The bride wore a beautiful crea-tion of white barred net over taffeta. with trimmings of real lace and chiffon. and the costume was completed with a long vell of tulle, fastened with a dia-mond pin, the gift of the groom. Mrs. S. C. Adams wore white mousseline de sole over taffeta, with pink ribbons. Miss McMillan yellow chiffon over taffeta, and Miss Elizabeth Dern was attired in blue panne sailn. Mr. and Mrs. McMillan were assisted Mr. and Mrs. Meaningh Were essentiation in receiving by Mrs. William Chisholm, Mrs. M. K. Parsons, Mrs. A. F. Hayden and Mrs. R. H. Terhune. In the dlning room Mrs. J. T. Harris, Miss Dern, Miss Form Mrs. J. C. Bartis, Miss Nebba Porter, Miss Lena Preston, Miss Noble and Miss Dooly served refreshments, and Misses McGrath and Ivers presided at the punch bowl in the library, where the wedding cake was also distributed by Misses Based and Mildred McMil by Misses Bessie and Mildred McMil-lan and Mary Sherman. Mr. and Mrs. Luellwitz were the recipients of many beautiful presents, which were displayed in a room upstairs. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs H. G. McMillan of this city, and one of Salt Lake's most popular young women, and the groom is a prominent business man of Spokane, being manager of a flourishing lumber business there. Mr. and Mrs. Lueliwarz left after the wedding for an eastern trip, after which they will go to Spokane to reside. Tonight, another of Salt Lake's fair daughters will be wedded, the mar rlage of Miss Emma Lunt and Dr. W S. Ellerbeck, to take place this evening at 6:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Julia Lant on First North street. The ceremony will be performed by Dishop O. F. Whitney, and a large reception to their many friends will follow later. The bride will be attended by Miss Geneive Ellerbeck, the groom's sister, and Dr. A. S. Bower will act as best man. The bride is one of the Salt Lake's most beautiful and charming belles, and her popularity is an attested fact in the community in which she has grown to womanhood. Among other flattering tokens which have been no-corded her, was her choice for queen of the Pioneer Jubilee some years sinc together with other propositions of a similar nature in which she has been first choice. The groom is the son of Mrs. Etta W. and the late Thomas Ellerbeck, and is a popular young physician of this city. Both have hosts of friends who will extend sincere congratulations and wishes for their happiness. On Thursday morning the marriage of Miss Alice M. Adams, of Eureka, and Mr. F. W. Woods, of San Fran-cisco took place at the home of the bridd's aunt, Mrs. Nelson Empey, Bishop Empey performing the eero-mony in the presence of the immediate relatives and friends. The bride wore an exquisite rown of gray crepe ove pink taffeta, the skirt being beautifull over the entire skirt with the pink sill showing through. The bodice had shirred yoke of white liberty slik edged with applique lace through which pini mirror velvet was laced, and the sleeves had full puffs of the white slik with the same trimming, a belt of pink mirror velvet completing the charming effect white slik trimmings. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Adams, of Eureka, and the groom is the inventor of the new ore tries.

Becker returned home this rence will be held. Fourteen great nations of the world now have either well defined woman suffrage move-ments or well organized woman suffrage associations, and these have been all invited to co-operate in the Inter-national meeting. Seven of these, England, Canada, Australia, India, Russia Germany and Sweden have promised to send delegates, and the invitation awaiting action at the regular meeting of official' boards in Norway, France and Holland.

The civilized nations of the world are slowly but steadily acknowledging the benefits and the justice of self-government. The suffrage has been widely extending in all, within the last fifty years, until in the most of them there is either universal suffrage for men or suffrage with but limited restrictions, All civilized nations have likewise kept pace with the United States and Eng-land in the agitation which has insisted that the fundamental principles of self. government, "Taxation without repre-sentation is tyranny," and "Governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed." logically ap-ply to women as well as to men, and there are few European nations in which women do not enjoy some form of suffrage. In Belgium, one of these, there is an energetic woman suffrage movement, and in another, Holland, there is a woman suffrage organization, which will doubtless be represented in the international conference.

The representative of each nation will resent a report, setting forth clearly he educational, legal, industrial, social, surgious and political status of is own veneu. If feasible, an international webban suffrage association may be followed to further the cause of the enfranchisement of women throughout the clylized world.

Whatever may be its results, this great meeting will unquestionably stand as a significant, historical mile post in the progress of the world.

All distinguished guests are welcomed, with the dance everywhere they may go, throughout the nation. At the Tuillerles and at all the courts of Europe are strangers honored in the dance. So it is at the inauguration of our President, and scarcely a wedding is solemnized without a reception and ball. Not only at large balls and parties does the fashionable world dance, but even if, upon making an evening call a few friends should accidentally meet, a dance is at once proposed as a relief to the gossip of the day. "How long will it take to learn to dance? is a question often asked. That depends on the aptitude, the patience, the perseverance and attention of the pupil, as well as the ability of the master. Le'st some persons might infer that they cannot learn to dance, I would say, all can learn, except the badly crippled and infirm, providing they be patient, persevering and attentive. With these good qualities, aptitude and an ear for music can be cultivated. ROBERT L. LANDRUM, Utah School
