

COOL PAIR PRODS CAFE

Customers Thought the Holdup Men Were Employes of The Place.

UNMASKED FOR INSPECTION.

"Get a Good Look at My Phiz," Said One of Them As He Was Leaving.

A Policeman Saw the Two Run Away, But as Usual He Failed to Land Them.

One of the coolest and most daring robberies that have occurred in Salt Lake City for a long time was pulled off this morning at 5:30, when two holdups got away with $12.25 from the Finch & Rogers cafe at 25 east Second South street.

The holdups entered the cafe from the rear entrance, each holding a revolver. Both wore masks. One of the holdups handed his gun to his companion, saying:

"Hold these guys against the wall, and plug any man that moves a muscle."

George Shellcross, the chef, turned around from the range, where he was preparing a dish for a customer, and faced two shining pistols.

"Throw up your hands, and back into that corner," ordered the holdup.

"Shellcross," obeyed with alacrity, Joseph Sander, the head waiter, Earl Bagghman, a waiter, Joseph Stone, the yardman, and John Fisher, the dishwasher, were in turn held up and forced into the corners of the kitchen, where they stood with hands up, beside the chef.

USED NOVEL METHOD.

The other holdup then calmly took off his mask, coat and hat, and after laying them on the kitchen table, proceeded to the front of the cafe.

"What's the matter with that other waiter? Holy smoke! I've been waiting here a long time for the rest of my order, and I want to get out in a hurry."

The holdup was going through the cash register, coolly counting the coin and bills.

"All right, pal. I'll see that you get it right away," he said.

Robbers picked up a newspaper on the counter and began reading.

The holdup, after rilling the cash register, started to look around for something else. He seemed greatly interested at not being able to find what he was after, and cursed several times.

KEY WEST IN HANDS OF THE MILITARY

City Jail Overflowing With Looters Who Began Operations When Storm Abated.

Key West, Fla., Oct. 12.—It was to the commanding officer of the coast artillery reports a shortage of vegetables and fresh meat.

March 12, according to the local police, the result of a combat with the hurricane. Two barracks buildings are unsafe and not considered repairable. The hospital and the commissary and the supplies for that institution badly wrecked.

The confining plant was wrecked and all the buildings belonging to the army were flooded.

Many of the vessels which had been swept from their moorings during the blow yesterday afternoon managed to ride out the storm during the night and came back to their berths this morning, but between 10 and 15 boats of all descriptions were wrecked. It is feared a number of lives were lost on these vessels.

The city jail is filled to overflowing with looters captured by the militia and police during the night. Thieves began operations as soon as the fury of the storm had abated, the wrecking of the electric light plant having plunged the city in darkness.

The mayor immediately proclaimed martial law. The Key West guards were called out and patrolled the streets during the night. The U. S. government also has been called for assistance. Hundreds are homeless today and are being cared for in churches, schools and other roomy structures.

NO FURTHER DANGER. Washington, Oct. 12.—All danger to points on the Gulf of Mexico and Atlantic coast from the West Indian hurricane, which wrecked Key West, Fla., yesterday and swept northwardly over Florida, has passed, according to the weather bureau today.

The tropical storm after passing over Key West, crossed the Florida peninsula and went out to sea at Miami. The disturbance is now continuing with unabated force northwardly along the Gulf stream and is heading toward the Bermuda.

At Key West this morning the storm had spent its force. A northwest wind was blowing and rain falling. The thermometer registered 42 a 2 o'clock. Reports from Tampa, Fla., indicated that the storm was little felt there, the disturbance having passed somewhat to the south of that place.

The hurricane blew 60 miles an hour and continued six hours.

EFFECT IN GUBA. Havana, Oct. 12.—Communication between this city and interior points, which was interrupted when yesterday's storm tore down telegraph and telephone wires, had not been renewed today.

Reports from nearby places indicate that the property loss, especially in the westward, has been heavy but that there were few fatalities. Four bodies have been discovered amid the ruins of fallen homes here and it is now believed that 12 lives were lost in this city.

At least half of the fighters that were in the harbor were sunk or lost their moorings.

There being no observer of the weather bureau at Miami, no reports of the effect of the hurricane in that city have been received here.

All storm warnings on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts have been ordered discontinued.

Acting Secy. Oliver of the war department has directed that the commanding officer of the coast artillery at Key West, Fla., be instructed to render such assistance as may be requested by the mayor of that city in maintaining order.

Evidently the question of food for the sufferers is not as serious as at first expected. There are 15,000 rations,

VETERANS GREET PRESIDENT TAFT

He Congratulated Them on Giving In Garden Spot of the United States.

Los Angeles, Oct. 12.—President Taft was greeted by 2,600 veterans at the Saxville Soldiers' home today and was given a hearty cheer when he arose to speak. He was presented to the soldiers by former Gov. H. B. Markham, as their commander-in-chief.

"I am your commander-in-chief," said the president, "and as such I am entitled to your loyalty and support. I do not plead or feel as a matter of course, for I know that I have it anyway. I never stand before an audience like this that I do not feel a thrill and long for words to express the gratitude that I feel that I have been spared to undergo such an experience and that we have through the country such institutions as this, where those who were exposed to the dangers, and the wounds and the sufferings of a great war may rest in peace and enjoy their remaining days at the hands of a grateful country."

"I congratulate you veterans especially that it is your fortune to live in this great struggle of the United States. I am sure that the hospital life here is smaller and more comfortable than any other home in the country. And I warrant I can prove it by our residence in Los Angeles, or of southern California."

"It is an inspiring opportunity to stand before an audience like this and to think what you represent. No one is in favor of war. No one is in favor of suffering and no one is in favor of any obstacle to living that we have to undergo. But after war has passed after we have passed through four years of loss of life and treasure, and of suffering, we see that in that great struggle the United States for the United States to show the metric of which her citizens were made and the sacrifices they were willing to make that the government might live."

"The great war could not be avoided. Some people seem to think that it might have been but I do not. There existed a cause which could be removed only by an operation such as the war afforded."

"In speaking of the war, it is only just that we should give those who opposed you credit for their magnificent courage and the magnificent fight they made for their right as they saw it. It is the greatest tribute that can be paid to you to recognize the fact that you had an enemy worthy of your steel. Out of the history of the war has come to all of us a common interest and a common pride."

On the way to Saxville and back, the president was cheered by throngs at every little suburban station through which his special car passed.
