INJURED BY ENRAGED COW.

Brigham City Boy Seriously Hurt While Out With Booby Companions—Death of T. E. Cottle.

Ogden, March 29.—Last night was an unusually quiet night in the police circles in the matter of the caring for great numbers of unemployed men which the city has been called upon to do during the past few days. The coming of the various companies of men from the coast on freight trains has aroused the authorities and they now meet each train, take the men into custody and give them a night's lodging and a couple of meals and send them on their way—out of the city limits.

Saturday night a Southern Pacific freight train brought into this city 86 men from all points in California, Nevada and Washington. Upon arriving in this city they were met at the depot by the officers and railroad officials and 58 of them were taken to the police station where half of them were cared for for the night.

At the police station each member of the company was questioned and all those having money were allowed to go to the Twenty-fifth street lodging houses, the others were given something to eat and a place to sleep at the police station. The men represented at the station were taken to the police station every craft and a majority of them expressed an eagerness to secure work.

The men boarded the train Friday afternoon at Winnemucca and the headquarters of the division of the Southern Pacific was advised. The aid of the officers was solicited and when the train arrived in Ogden late Saturday evening a reception committee composed of policemen, sheriffs and railroad detectives met them and marched 58 of them to the police station back of the patrol wagon, 28 having succeeded in making their getaway in the dark. Members of the party stated that three gangs of men equally as large as theirs were enroute east on almost every freight train and would probably reach this city any day now.

The Southern Pacific company is considering the advisability of placing armed guards on each of its trains on the Salt Lake division for the purpose of affording protection to crews and property from the large number of tramps who are now traveling.

ORVILLE MERRILL HURT.

Receives Serious Injuries While Out With Booby Companions.

Ogden, March 29.—Orville Merrill, the 15-year-old son of Joseph Merrill of Brigham City, was seriously injured at the Hot Springs yesterday afternoon at about 2:20 o'clock by falling and striking his head upon a steel rail and inflicting an ugly gash which required four stitches to close. The boy was taken to the Hot Springs hotel, where temporary relief was afforded until the arrival of Dr. Joyce. After the dressing of the wounds the young man was brought to the Ogden General hospital. It was thought at first that the skull had been fractured, but after an examination had been made it was found that such was not the case.

Young Merrill and three companions drove to the Hot Springs and had left their horse and buggy at the hotel barn which is north of the sanitarium. They then started on foot for the bath house and it was while crossing the railroad tracks that the accident occurred. Merrill was walking arm in arm with two of his companions as they started across one of the tracks he stumbled and fell, and instead of helping Merrill to his feet, his companions let him fall and his head struck upon the rail with a thud. The injured boy's companions evidently thinking that he was shamming, did not pick him up, but a number of men from the hotel, including the "News" correspondent, who had seen the accident, were soon at the side of the injured boy, and he was taken to the hotel and medical aid summoned.

On examination of the buggy in which the boys drove to the springs, a pint flask of whisky was found. Later a farmer from north of the springs said that as the boys drove by his premises, they threw away an empty whisky flask. When questioned by the representative of this paper, the companions of the boy Merrill, who refused to divulge their names for fear of being arrested, at first claimed that they had found the flask, but upon further questioning said that they had purchased it at a Brigham City saloon. From the facts in the case it would appear that the law governing the sale of liquor to minors had been sadly neglected in Boxelder county, and that there was room for an investigation by the authorities.

INJURED BY ENRAGED COW.

Late Saturday evening while trying to separate a calf from a cow, Charles Stallings of Eden was attacked by the cow and knocked to the ground and his skull was fractured. The injured man was taken to his home and Dr. Shields of Huntsville summoned to attend him. At a late hour last night a report from the Stallings home was to the effect that Mr. Stallings was resting easily and was thought to be out of danger. The injured man is one of the most prominent citizens in Ogden valley and a member of one of the county's oldest families.

DEATH OF THOMAS E. COTTLE.

Ogden, March 30.—Thomas Edward Cottle of Plain City died at 10:15 p. m. Saturday from an obstruction of the bowels.
