

misrepresent the situation. The killing of Chung Ying by a highlander in Chinatown is positively stated to have been done because he underbid other Chinese firms on government work.

The monitor Monadnock will sail for Manila at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The collier Nero will also start about the same time. The war vessel will go to Honolulu under her own steam. After being coaled there she will be towed by the Nero 2,000 miles toward Manila, when she will be cast off and make the rest of the way by herself, the Nero standing by to be of assistance if necessary. The Monadnock is fully equipped for the voyage and is under command of Captain W. H. Whiting.

General Merritt received orders Wednesday from the war department at Washington to organize the troops of the Philippine expeditionary force into an army corps to be known as the Eighth, whenever he deems such action advisable, and is instructed to turn over his command to Major General Otis. The new corps will consist of three divisions, two to be made up of the troops of the first, second and third Manila expeditions and the third division to be composed of all the troops going with Major General Otis on the fourth and last expedition. Brigadier General King will probably be the commander of this division.

Rev. John Bryan, a young Methodist divine recently assigned to labor in the Big Horn country, Wyo., has been drowned in the Gray Bull river.

The first battalion of the Washington volunteers consisting of four companies—two from Seattle, one from Spokane and one from Yakima—has moved from its quarters in the Fontana warehouse, San Francisco, to the Presidio, where it now occupies the two center double brick barracks vacated by troops C, H, I and K of the Fourth cavalry, who have gone into camp on the lower parade grounds. This battalion of Washington volunteers in command of Major J. J. Weisenberger, will begin full garrison work today (Friday).

The chamber of commerce and board of trade of San Francisco have telegraphed to Senator Perkins at Washington, declaring "that Major Oscar F. Long has stipulated in all contracts that only white labor should be employed in manufacturing the supplies required for the army, and that whenever facts have been laid before him showing that contractors have deviated from requirements, he has at once cancelled the contracts." The labor commissioner's office and bodies of organized workmen, however, still insist that soldiers' uniforms are being made by Chinese.

News has reached San Francisco from Honolulu, that opium is being smuggled on a large scale from Victoria, B. C., to the Hawaiian islands. It is said that the men engaged in the business own the schooners Henrietta, Lena and C. Salvador. The first two are reported to have landed their cargoes and sailed away, but C. Salvador was caught. A search revealed 1,000 tins of opium on board and Captain John H. Aake with a man named Albert Weinrich were landed in jail. The Salvador, which was ostensibly on an otter hunting expedition, has gone ashore and will probably be a total wreck.

According to the latest advices obtainable, the next expedition to the Philippines will sail not earlier than Monday or Tuesday next and Gen. Merritt will follow a day or two later on the Newport. The entire battalion of the Third artillery now at the Presidio will go with this squadron of transports. The offer of the naval reserves to man the tugs purchased by the government has been accepted. The cruiser Philadelphia is still short of men but efforts are being made to complete her complement so she may soon sail for Manila. For the purpose of exercising the 300 horses which will be taken to the Philippines, it is proposed to construct a long treadmill on their ship to which they may be assigned. An order appointing seventy corporals and three sergeants has been issued by Col. Loper of the Fifty-first Iowa. Frank Martin of company F, who has been appointed aide-de-camp on the staff of Brig.-Gen. Lincoln has left for Mobile to report to his new commanding officer. Col. C. M. Reeve of the Thirtieth Minnesota volunteers has been presented with a handsome sword by the officers of his regiment.

The Eighth army corps just organized by Major General Merritt, includes the entire Philippine force. The troops not yet named as part of the expeditionary force will constitute an independent division of the new corps and will be under command of General E. S. Otis. On arriving at Manila the entire army will be reorganized. General Merritt has designated a number of officers for positions in the Eighth corps. His personal staff will be constituted as follows: Major Lewis H. Strother, United States volunteers, acting aide; Major Harry C. Hale, United States volunteers, acting aide; Captain T. Bentley Mott, United States volunteers, aide. Brigadier General R. P. Hughes is named as chief of staff and inspector general under Major General Otis. Lieutenant Colonel Thomas H. Barry is named as adjutant general. An order has been issued by General Merritt stating that he will sail for the Philippines on Wednesday on the Newport, with his staff and some of his clerical force, the remainder being instructed to go on the Indiana with the other transports which are to depart on Monday. The Astor light battery, two batteries of the Third United States artillery and the men of the hospital corps will go on the Newport. Brigadier General McArthur has formally assumed command of the third expedition and the troops have been ordered to break camp early Monday morning. With the departure of this expedition there will have been sent from San Francisco nearly 12,000 troops, leaving about 8,000 to go.

OBITUARY NOTES.

GEORGE LINZE M'ALISTER.

George Linze McAlister, son of L. J. D. F. and Cornelia A. Linze McAlister, was born in Salt Lake City, on the 22nd of Sept. 1873. When a child he was dutiful and affectionate to his parents, and as he grew up to manhood it was his constant delight to know their desire and was ever ready to comply with their wishes. He was ever ready to perform any labor required of him by the Bishop of the ward in which he lived and was in very deed a true Latter-day Saint.

He had a long and severe sickness of over four months, and was full of patience. He never complained but bore his sickness without a murmur. He was full of faith and many times when administered to by the Elders, he received instant relief. His father being absent laboring in the Manti Temple and he being also quite unwell, was unable to be with him in his sickness; but his loving mother and the family were untiring in their efforts to do all in their power night and day to assist him in every possible way and kind friends assisted to make him as comfortable as possible and all that could be done by medical skill and otherwise was done for him. He departed for the great beyond on the 10th day of June, 1898, surrounded by his family and friends.

The funeral services were held in the St. George tabernacle on the 11th, Bishop's counselor, F. P. Cottom, presiding. The speakers were Elders D. H. Cannon, James G. Bleak and William Atkin, all of whom had known him from his youth.

May God comfort and bless the family.
WILLIAM ATKIN.

He joined the Church of Jesus Christ in the year 1844, and after bearing a faithful testimony, emigrated to America in the year 1850, going direct to St. Louis. In the year 1852, he crossed the plains and came to Salt Lake City. Upon the arrival of Johnson's army in 1857, he engaged in extensive contracts to supply the troops with provisions, and moved to Camp Floyd. In 1862 he moved to Nephi, erected a grist mill, and engaged in the mercantile business with the late William Jennings of Salt Lake City, and was an active citizen in Nephi. He served as postmaster for a number of years, was one of the first directors of the Nephi Co-operative store, and was selected by President Brigham Young as a director of the United Order. His family consisted of seven children, six of whom, one son and five daughters, are living; also numerous grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

His funeral was largely attended. The services were held at his residence. The speakers were Elders Edwin Harley, John B. Milner, Bp. T. H. G. Parkes, Apostle George Teasdale, Charles Sperry, L. A. Bailey and Bishop W. H. Warner. The tabernacle choir sang appropriate hymns. The pall bearers were his grandsons. He died in the faith of the Gospel.
