EXCITEMENT AT SAUCER TRACK

Schnell Has Narrow Escape from Serious Injury in Motor Paced Race—Hopper Wins Two Mile Event.

There was another splendid program of bicycle races at the Salt Palace last evening and the spectators certainly got their money's worth. In addition to fast going and sensational finishes, the crowd got a "thriller" furnished by Frank Schnell. In the motor paced race, there were three in the event, Ray Duer was paced by McCormack, Wilcox by Samuelson and Schnell by "Wobbler" Whittier. The race was for five miles. At the end of two miles Schnell tried to go around his opponents and started a sprint that set the fans to cheering wildly. Whittier and McCormack hopped together and at the same time Schnell hit the roller of Whittier's machine and was thrown violently to the track. He struck on his head and it was feared he had been fatally hurt but to the relief of the crowd he was soon on his feet. Wilcox kept his pace and defeated Duer. Schnell was the victor in the motor paced race. The race was for five miles. WRIGHT AND BRODBECK.

This pair of speedy amateurs can just about beat any two in the amateur class when it comes to tandem riding. They hold the two-mile record and Wright is hailed as king among the elmon pures. He has a big lead over the others and nothing short of an accident will prevent him finishing the season as leader of his class. Wright is seen on the front seat of the "bicycle built for two."

Real Contests in Amateur Meet Of Amateur Athletic Union

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 14.—With the eastern officials reasserting that yesterday's attendance was the largest that ever was recorded at a junior meet of the Amateur Athletic Union, the crowd today is taxing the capacity of the spacious stadium at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition. The junior events out of the way the real contests in the annual meet of the A. A. U. are being run off this afternoon, the pick of the track athletes of the country competing in the senior championship meet.

GOOD RACE CARD TUESDAY NIGHT

Ten Mile Motor Paced Contest Between Hardy Downing and W. E. Samuelson Is the Headliner.

"Well, I'm glad the G. A. R. business is about over with, and especially so with reference to the bicycle meets we had this week. But this does not mean there will be any let up in good things during the balance of the season."

The above is what Harry Heagren had to say this morning, and the program he announces for Tuesday evening next indicates he is right. The feature will be a 10-mile motor paced race between Hardy Downing and W. E. Samuelson, old rivals in the motor paced game, and the matchup of this pair means a race for blood. Downing has been gobbling up about everything in the pace following game this season and has twice defeated Duer, the champion. Samuelson, the "Pride of Provo," believes he can take "Heady Hardy's" measure and will try to do so Tuesday evening.

Besides this event there will be a one-third of a mile unpaced against time, in which Iver Lawson will try to break the record of 3:41.5 made by W. W. Hamilton at Coronado Beach some years ago.

There will be an unknown lap race, professional, and a one-mile handicap for the same class.

The amateurs will have a three-mile open lap, and a half mile open.

AFTER QUAKER TEAM.

Cincinnati, Aug. 14.—Harry Manns, wealthy manufacturer and member of the city board of public service, is said to be negotiating for the interest in the Philadelphia National league club held by the late President L. B. Durham.

The outlook is that he soon will complete the deal. When the Philadelphia club was in Cincinnati a few days ago Manns and Secy. Sheldine had several long talks about the matter.

Since then Manns has been in communication with the Philadelphia club.

PITCHER BECOMES MAGNATE.

Elgin, Ill., Aug. 14.—Carl Lundgren, former Cub pitcher, announced that at the end of the present season he would purchase a half interest in the Elgin Baseball club. He hopes to obtain a franchise in the Chicago Baseball league.

BACK ON THE TURF.

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 14.—Brewer John W. Schorr is again to enter the racing game upon a large scale, giving up his interests in his Memphis brewery, according to a report published in a Memphis paper. Recently Mr. Schorr has been purchasing a number of young horses and his colors, the famous orange and black, have been seen occasionally this year on northern tracks.

One of his youngsters, Penni, broke a record last week.

AFTER SOUTHERN PLAYERS.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 14.—It is said that Manager Chance of the Chicago Nationals, is after Viebahn and Tonne, a battery of the Nashville Southern league team, and that it is considered probable that these two will join the Chicago uniform next season.

PITTSBURG CLEANS 'EM UP.

Pittsburg, Aug. 13.—After fighting hard through 11 innings, Philadelphia practically gave today's game to the Pirates in the twelfth, after a remarkable fielding exhibition on both sides. Three times, following the close of the ninth, it seemed certain the Philadelphia would score, but each time they failed to give sufficient ginger to the ball. In nine out of twelve innings only three men faced McQuillen, while Philadelphia successfully had the bases filled. The final slaughter came in the twelfth, when a single by Clark, a bad throw by Doolin and a wild pitch by McQuillen allowed the locals to score.

Score: R. H. E.

BRAINS AND BRAWN OF THE NEGRO RACE

Chicago, Aug. 14.—Booker T. Washington and Jack Johnson, the intellectual and physical giants of the negro race, met at Quinn chapel last night while more than 2,000 negroes cheered until they were tired.

The educator came to Chicago to tell men of his race to be clean and strong, talking from the platform, while the pugilist sat in the front row, a living example of the doctrine of health and strength that was preached.

When a subscription list was started in the audience to raise a debt of $500 on the chapel the teacher from Alabama gave $15 and the champion heavyweight gave $10. The other $10 subscription was that sent by Senator Ormer.

PRESIDENT PULLIAM FEARED OLD CURSE

A dispatch from Pittsburg says: The suicide of Harry C. Pulliam, president of the National league, has brought to light here a remarkable case of a curse pronounced on innocent persons, and from the fancied effects of which none of them appeared ever to recover. Four years ago Pulliam with his close friend, Harry K. Thaw and Dr. Walter S. Bingham, was standing in front of the Hotel Henry in some remark made. A cripple passing at this time had fallen upon the pavement, and he appeared to think the well dressed trio had laughed at his fall. He cursed Thaw, Pulliam and Bingham, predicting for each one an awful death, that they would never die in bed, etc.

Naturally superstitious, President Pulliam ran after the cripple to tell him that he had not been laughing at his fall, that they were only sorry for him, etc., but the cripple would not permit Pulliam to speak to him. The latter returned to Thaw and Bingham, saying: "I don't know what that fellow thinks of this, but I don't like it. It makes me feel queer and as if something would really happen to us."

"When Thaw killed White, Pulliam was one of the first to recall the curse of the crippled man, and from that time forth he asserted his belief that something bad would happen to all on whom the curse had been placed. It has been but a short time since Pulliam was placed in the Dismal House, an asylum by friends and Pulliam, the third man of the trio cursed, was buried, a suicide.

McIntosh, who was worried over this curse of the cripple after the White killing that he employed a detective to search for the cripple, intending to ask him to think more kindly of that day's incident, but so far as known, he was never found. On a visit to Pittsburg more than a year since Pulliam, while outing with some friends, he saw the cripple on the streets and jumped from the machine. He found it was not the same cripple who had placed the curse on him some years before.

McINTOSH REPEATS OFFER OF $50,000

New York, Aug. 13.—Hugh McIntosh, who promoted the battle in Australia, when Tommy Burns was beaten by Jack Johnson, was among the arrivals on the Lusitania yesterday. The Antipodan came to try to sign up Jack Johnson and James J. Jiffries for a bout.

"I bid $50,000 for the fight," he said. "My offer has been in Sam Berger's hands for four months, and I am now about to resume negotiations."

"If Jiffries is not in perfect trim, I think he'll be beaten. The fight will be held in London, preferably, and if not in Australia, the United States is the last chance. The only place it could be made a success is in California, and I would not like to encroach on the territory of Jack Coffroth."

McIntosh will return to England Aug. 25, and on Oct. 4 will sail for Australia with Bob Fitzsimmons, who has a contract for 20 weeks on the stage.

NO DEVELOPMENTS IN BIG RING BATTLE

Chicago, Aug. 14.—There were no developments yesterday in the proposed Jeffries-Johnson match for the heavyweight championship of the world. Sam Berger, who is looking after the Californian's interest in this country, is expecting a cablegram from Jeffries stating his views regarding the tentative agreement drawn a few days ago. Berger asserted yesterday he would do nothing until he receives a communication from Jeffries.

Johnson considers the match made and does not doubt that Berger had authority to make preliminary arrangements.

WHAT ABOUT THIS JIU JITSU STUFF?

Is it of Any Value—New York Writer Expresses His Opinions On the Matter.

Is jiu jitsu of any practical use in the line of self-defense? A few long-haired fakery are traveling through the country using the jiu jitsu brand to get away with a very rough specimen of petty larceny, but it is a certainty that these pitiful rascals know little or nothing of the Japanese art, writes C. E. Van Loan.

John E. Cahill, the Half-portion King, is one who believes that all "Joey-Jitsu business" is a delusion and a snare. John is a quick-witted, smooth-tongued individual who has followed the horses through several incarnations. In all probability John used to be a bookmaker when our forefathers raced the dinosaur.

One night Cahill happened to be in Philadelphia. It must have been an oversight on a fight—probably a fight. At any rate, Cahill was among those present, and in the gathering was a very cheery little man who would talk of nothing but jiu jitsu.

"So," said this shrill, "it's very, very simple. Dead easy, in fact. Here's a big man going to slug you. He's three times as big as you are and he's mad all through. See? You reach up and slap him three times on the chest. It will not hurt him, but it will attract his attention to you. He will wonder what you are going to do next. If you slap him on the right nerve, it will take all the fight out of him."

"Might slap the wrong nerve."

"But," said Cahill, "put me wise. Suppose the big fellow doesn't get that cue? Suppose you slap him on the wrong nerve? What happens then?"

"Why, then you give him the hat trick," says the jiu jitsu champion.

"The hat trick?" said Cahill. "Spring it; it's new stuff."

"Why, the first thing you do after you see that your man is still warlike, you make a dive as if to take off your hat. Then you dash the hat into the face, and he is blinded for a few seconds. While in that condition you grab him here, and here, and here again, give a twist, a wrench and your big man is on the floor with a broken arm and his back strained."

Cahill admitted that it was great stuff, and the party, being hungry, but no longer thirsty, departed for an all-night restaurant, where they sat about a large marble-topped table and ordered ham and eggs for twelve strong men—ham and eggs and coffee. The jiu jitsu wonder drew what is known in the best circles as the "king-nine seat"—a chair which put him well into the passageway.

VICTORY OF LEWIS BOOSTS HIS STOCK

New York, Aug. 14.—Willie Lewis' defeat of Sallor Burke in the sixth round of what was to have been a 10-round boxing contest places him in the role of a contender for the welterweight championship and will result, it is believed in a fight between him and Billy Papke, in the near future. Papke has been scheduled to fight the winner of this contest.

The defeat of Burke was a surprise to many sporting men, as it was figured that he had the best chance to win, carrying at least 10 pounds more weight than Lewis. Lewis' recent trip abroad, where he whipped all the fighters pitted against him in Paris, seems to have done him good, as the fight last night showed him in the best of his old wildness and had accumulated much science. His condition also has greatly improved, and his friends believe he will have a good show to defeat even Ketchel. Figuring that he can whip Papke, his backers are already mentioning Ketchel as his next opponent.

BURKE KNOCKED OUT.

New York, Aug. 13.—Willie Lewis won from Sallor Burke in the sixth round of a scheduled 10-round bout before the Fairmont A. C. tonight.

Soon after the gong rang for the first round Lewis jarred the sailor with a hard left on the jaw. Burke got to the body but missed a wild right swing. The sailor landed good left body blow, but Lewis sent back a hard left to the face. A right whiplash from the sailor sent Lewis to the floor for two seconds. Both were sparring at the bell.

Slugging by both marked the opening of the second round. After some opening feinting, Lewis crossed his right to the jaw and toppled the sailor over. Burke was up in four seconds and they mixed it in a slugging style to the end of the round, which was in favor of Lewis.

Burke fought Lewis to the ropes in the third, swinging rights and lefts and after a succession of left jabs, followed by a right swing he sent Lewis to the floor. Lewis held onto the ropes, but was sent down again, Burke standing over him. Both were on their feet in time to take their corners at the clang of the gong.

Burke had the better of the exchanges in the early part of the fourth and tried hard for a knockout, but Lewis kept coming back and gained strength during the intermission.

The fifth was a round of slugging with no advantage for either.

When the sixth opened Lewis went at his man like a tiger and forcing Burke to the ropes, sent a left to the face and crossed his right to the jaw heavily. Burke went down for the count, but was up again a second after the bell rang.
