LOCAL BRIEFS.

Special Agent DeBribery of the Humane society has resigned. His successor will be appointed in the near future.

City Auditor Reiser drew a warrant for $100,000 today to pay the interest on the bonds issue of $500,000 of September 1, 1898.

New York, September 1st, and the city treasurer will forward a draft for the amount on Monday morning.

John Lundquist, the Frisco miner who was found wandering around in the desert near Kanosh, is at St. Mark's hospital in a critical condition. He is not only reduced to a serious state through privation, but he has the typhoid fever, which renders his condition almost hopeless.

E. T. Haviland, formerly a civil engineer of this city, and a popular member of the University club, is now an instructor in mathematics at Swarthmore college in Pennsylvania. Mr. Haviland had two devoted aunts, one of them left him $12,000, and the other one left him $15,000.

The office of Treasurer Deane of the county has presented a scene of utmost activity during the week. A very large force of men has been at work getting out the forty thousand notices to be sent to taxpayers. Of these there are about twenty-seven thousand in Salt Lake City and about thirteen thousand in the county outside of the city.

John J. Toronto, brother of Prof. Toronto, and a young man well known in musical circles, has returned home from Boston, where he has been attending the New England Conservatory of Music, and from which institution he has graduated with high honors. Mr. Toronto took special courses in tuning pipe and reed organs and pianofortes. He comes home to follow a vocation along these lines.

A flock of cackling chickens saved the residence of Mrs. May Brown at 831 north Third West street, from consuming flames last night. The lady was awakened by a most frightful din as though the hen roost was being robbed. Running into an adjoining room she found it on fire. How the blaze started is a profound mystery. A shed adjoining that part of the house is used for the chickens' abode and they were first to discover the fire. Department No. 2 responded to the alarm and soon extinguished the fire. The total loss is placed at $200.

The curtain rose and fell again last evening over another stirring scene in the Viking trouble, which has been holding the local political boards with more or less regularity of late. Tonight the action was between J. E. Matson, president of the league, and Neil Forsberg, secretary of the same organization. It appears that harsh language was spoken and the physical element took place between these two men. Friends of each have asked the "News" today to publish their version of the difficulty. Their stories differ widely, however, and this paper believes that no good can come of the publication of either.

"Where there's a will, there's a way" is a maxim that was successfully demonstrated at the "Barnacle" last night. A short time ago, a half dozen clever girls determined to be true patrons of poetry and literature, and despite the ominous forebodings of their friends, the unique entertainment given by Mrs. K. K. Thomas and her daughter, with the aid of a few talented friends, proved entirely successful, and despite her upon the program was creditably given, while the players did honor to the name of the play, who was none other than Miss Kate Thomas. Miss Blanche Thomas, who played the part of the typically good, Of course there were numerous gentlemen friends who were anxious to take a part, but none was permitted except Mr. Chester Ames, who did his part harmoniously upon the piano.

BOY DROWNED IN JORDAN RIVER.

Little Johnny Pipe Victim of Its Treacherous Undercurrent.

THERE WAS NO HELP NEAR

Awful Scene Witnessed by Eight-Year-Old Guy Hart—A Terrible Blow to the Mother.

Johnny Pipe, an eleven-year-old boy, whose father, A. E. Pipe, is a machinist employed at the Rio Grande shops, was drowned in the Jordan river shortly after six o'clock last evening. The boy was wading alone on a sand bar in a bend of the river about a block south of Twelfth South when he got into a swift undercurrent which swept him off his feet and carried him into the cold eddies of the bend. He made a desperate struggle to reach the shore but he had never learned to swim and after a few frantic efforts his strength was gone and he sank into the cold depths of the water. No help was near, the only one who witnessed the heartrending scene was little Guy Hart, an eight-year-old companion. The little fellow fled in terror from the scene, going directly to his mother, to whom he told the startling story. Mrs. Hart hurried over to the mother and disclosed to her the awful truth. Mrs. Pipe was overcome by the shock and while some neighbors were trying to check her violent grief the father had like one mad to the river to get his boy. A large crowd soon congregated on the banks but no one did more than wade about in the river. At 6 o'clock the police were telephoned to for help, and Sergeant Hemple and Officers Davies, Williams and Cannon hurried to the spot in the patrol wagon. Williams and Davies wasted no time. As soon as they reached the river, they plunged in and began diving regardless of the undercurrents' treacherous eddies and the dark and forbidding aspect of the water in the night. After diving for fifteen minutes, Officer Davies located the body in a deep eddy under some willows. Officer Williams then dove and bore the body to the surface and the two carried it to the bank of the river. The remains were then conveyed to Evans' undertaking parlors and prepared for burial.

Mr. and Mrs. Pipe came to the city recently from Tintic, almost for the sole purpose of educating Johnny, their only son. The bereavement at this time seems almost unbearable to the mother, and the father also is distracted with grief.

FISH IN UTAH LAKE.

Carp, the Sparrow of the Fish Kingdom—Official Investigation.

United States Fish Commissioner E. A. Tullian, accompanied State Fish and Game Commissioner Sharp to Utah lake yesterday, where the two made a thorough investigation of the fish situation. Mr. Tullian in talking over the situation on his return to Salt Lake said that the reason that the trout have done so poorly in the lake is because of the low muddy water, and because the carp, which takes the English sparrow's place in the fish kingdom, have taken the trout's place. Mr. Tullian said that the carp, which are found in the bottom of the lake, leaving little for the trout. Black bass were found to have thrived and done well. Mr. Tullian thought that the proposed plan of raising the water level by diverting part of the Duchesne river into the Provo was a good one. He will make a further investigation in a few days.

FINE MEDALS FOR STUDENTS.

Prof. Linfield Writes to the "News" Concerning the Contest.

WHAT THE CONDITIONS ARE

Students of Agricultural College Only Are Eligible—Must Be at Least Five Entries From Each State.

Prof. F. B. Linfield, of the Agricultural College, at Logan, Utah, writes to the "News" as follows:

"It is most gratifying and encouraging to notice the interest that is being taken in seconding the efforts of the Agricultural colleges, and stimulating the efforts of the students, by the large live stock fairs and by public spirited men. Heretofore this generosity has been confined largely to individual states, but the past year it has burst state boundaries and has taken in the whole country.

"Last year and again for the coming year at Chicago on November 30th to December 7th, 1901, the International Live Stock Exposition offers generous prizes for classes of fat stock fitted at the Agricultural Colleges and experimental stations.

"The prizes offered to the colleges aggregate $1,300, divided as follows: $500 for cattle in five classes; $250 for sheep in four classes; $150 for hogs in three classes and $150 as a sweepstake for best general exhibit from any college.

"It is to be hoped that students of the Utah Agricultural college will enter the local contest, and I would be pleased to hear from any that desire to do so.

"In case those who could go, a trip to Chicago to see and compete in the great contest at the International Live Stock Exhibit, would be most valuable. I am in receipt of an invitation from Mr. A. G. Leonard, general manager of the Chicago stock yards company, of Chicago, who tenders to the boys a most cordial welcome, and offers free to the class all the tickets necessary during the entire week of the exposition and tickets for all other features of interest during their stay. It is to be hoped that some at least of the students of the Agricultural College of Utah will avail themselves of the generous offer.

CONDITIONS OF CONTEST.

1. There must be at least five entries in each state to complete a class and make its college eligible to such prizes.
2. The competition will be open to all bona-fide students of the state agricultural colleges and to those who have graduated within two years from date of graduation.
3. The contest shall be based upon a report of not less than 1,500 and not more than 2,000 words describing the exhibits and discussing the awards in not less than three and not more than five of the following lines:
 - (a) Dairy Cattle—aged cow ring of Jersey, Holstein or Guernsey breeds.
 - (b) Beef Cattle—The two-year-old heifer ring of Hereford, Shorthorn or Aberdeen Angus breeds.
 - (c) Sheep—The yearling ewe ring of any of the leading down, fine wool or long wool breeds.
 - (d) Horses—The three-year-old stallion ring of the Clydesdale, Percheron or Shire breeds.
 - (e) Swine—The yearling boar ring of the Poland China, Berkshire, Duroc, Jersey or Chester White breeds.
4. The selection of the judges and the supervision of the contest shall be under the direct charge and management of the director of the experiment station or dean, and the head of the animal husbandry department in each state.
5. The awards shall be made by a committee of three, one of whom shall be an agricultural newspaper man and one an agricultural collector, and the selections to be made by the director of the experiment station or dean, and the head of the animal husbandry department in each state.

The reports must all be in the hands of the awarding committee not later than one week from close of the fair, and the name of the successful contestant in each state and a copy of the report shall be forwarded to the Zenner Disinfectant company of Detroit, Michigan, within three weeks of the close of the fair.

This livestock must be bred by the college owned by it at least six months before the time of the show. The animals thus afford object lessons to the students of the colleges, last, as to the kind of animals to select, 2nd, how to fit them for a fat stock exhibit, and 3rd, the place a visit to the show brings those animals in competition with many others and their points of excellence or weakness are shown up and compared; certainly a most valuable lesson.

To make the exhibit yet more instructive, $200 is offered for the most instructive carcass or block demonstration of the principles of breeding and feeding, and for the most instructive display of feeds and forage products. Next year it is proposed to have a class demonstrating original investigation of feeding problems, and subjects pertaining to these topics for students. Also an exhibit of animals fitted solely by the students of the college.

The Agricultural College of Utah is not yet prepared to take advantage of these generous offers, but there has recently come to hand an offer which comes home to the Utah student, as is to be noted from the following circular:

MEDALS FOR REPORTS.

The Zenner Disinfectant Co. of Detroit, Michigan, announces its offer of silver and gold medals at each state fair and at the International Live Stock Exposition at Chicago, Ill. November 30th to December 7th, for the best report of the stock exhibit written by students or recent graduates of agricultural colleges. These medals will be struck from the same die and will be of pleasing design; the silver medals will be offered at the state fairs and the gold medal at the great Chicago exposition. Notices of the offer of these trophies have been circulated to the agricultural colleges by Prof. F. C. Curtis, director of the Iowa Agricultural college, in the following letter:

"I am authorized by the Zenner Disinfectant Co. of Detroit, Mich., to announce that that company will offer a silver medal at each state fair and a gold medal at the International Exposition at Chicago in December for the best report of some feature or part of the stock exhibit by students or graduates of the various agricultural colleges. It is the wish of the company that there be not less than five representative reports from each state. The medals will be appropriate and will constitute valuable trophies.

"I am gratified to announce this generous provision for these contests, and I am sure that it will afford another means of stimulating interest in the animal husbandry work of our colleges and at the same time give to the young men engaging in the work a most valuable training. The student who, in addition to securing and accurately measuring animal excellent records, can put his mental concepts clearly and logically into writing, will be greatly strengthened thereby."
