

UNCLE SAM WILL WATCH THE FOOD

Convention to be Held in Washington Will Take Up Matter Of Framing Bill.

AFFECTS INTERSTATE SALES.

Regulation in the Matter of the Use Of Benzene of Soda One of Its Greatest Considerations.

(Special Correspondence.)

Washington, D. C., May 23.—It is highly probable that at its next annual meeting the Association of State and National Food and Dairy Departments will take steps toward the introduction in Congress of a bill placing under government supervision factories in which foods are manufactured for interstate commerce. Such a bill would follow the lines of the meat inspection bill which was passed some years ago and which has worked so satisfactorily. This association, which was so instrumental in securing the passage of the pure food and drug act, as well as the meat inspection act, is not at all satisfied with the decision of the three then secretaries of the treasury, commerce and labor, and agriculture, that unlimited quantities of benzene of soda may be used in the preservation of food products as long as the presence and amount are stated on the label. The impression prevails that this decision was reached by the Remsen board of chemists, but that fact is that this board had no power to make such a ruling. It reported its conclusions drawn from the results of a series of experiments made by three of the members of the board who fed benzene of soda to healthy young men for certain periods. The board reached the conclusion that does up to 4 grams per day "has not been found to exert any deleterious effect on the general health nor to act as a poison in the general acceptance of the term." However, the report continued that: "In some directions there were slight modifications in certain physiological processes, the exact significance of which modifications is not known."

ITS USE PERMITTED.

On the strength of this report the three secretaries—Carter, Strauss and Wilson—just before the Remsen administration retired, issued a circular permitting the use of this drug in unlimited quantities in any and all foods and food products. It is presumed that the Remsen board of chemists employed what is known as the medicinal benzene of soda, which is prepared from aromatic gases, rather than the commercial benzene of soda, commonly employed as a preservative, which is manufactured either from coal-tar or the urine of horses and cattle.

The pure food laws of the several states which have been enacted since the national pure food law have generally been drawn along the same lines as the national law. The action of the government in thus generously recognizing benzene of soda as the sole authorized chemical preservative, becomes a matter of supreme importance to the various heads of the state food departments. Most of them have heretofore followed Dr. H. W. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry of the department of agriculture, who so strongly condemned this preservative, and have accepted the results of his experiments without question. Until the Remsen board reported, the weight of medical opinion was against the use of the drug as a preservative in foods and even since that report a number of medical associations have gone on record as against the consumption of any foods containing it, particularly by children, aged persons and invalids, and especially by those suffering from tuberculosis of the kidney, which diseases are peculiarly susceptible to the effect of even small doses of the drug.

THE WORK REVIEWED.

Because of the reluctance of the state food department to accept the conclusions of the Remsen board as final the executive committee directed President J. Q. Emery of the Association of State and National Food and Dairy Departments, to appoint a special committee to review the work of Dr. Wiley and the bureau of chemistry, and of the Remsen board, and to report to the association at its next meeting. This committee consists of Dr. M. A. Sevel, of Kentucky, chairman; Prof. W. M. Allen, North Carolina; Dr. E. H. S. Bailey, Kansas; Prof. H. E. Barnard, Indiana; Dr. Richard Fischer, Wisconsin.

sin; Prof. Julius Hortvet, Minnesota; Prof. M. E. Jaffa, California; Prof. E. B. Ladd, North Dakota; Prof. Floyd W. Robinson, Michigan; Prof. James H. Shepard, South Dakota, and Dr. Charles D. Woods, Maine. It is understood that this board will not only take cognizance of the physiological effect of small doses of benzene of soda administered to perfectly healthy young men, but will also investigate the sanitary conditions of canning factories which utilize the preservative in their ketchup, chili sauce, jams, jellies and preserves, soups and bouillions, apple and peach butters, mince meat, etc. It will also examine in the charge of the board that benzene of soda is primarily used to disguise the presence of impaired fruits and vegetables and to arrest and prevent further decay both before and after the product is prepared. Such conditions cannot be remedied under the pure food and drug act while benzene of soda is allowed to be used and for this reason it is proposed that the canning factories should be placed on the same plane as the meat packing houses, and under federal inspection. Such a bill would probably be considered by the house committee on agriculture, which had charge of the meat inspection bill, instead of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce, which considered the pure food and drug bill.

RAILROAD NEWS

GOLDFIELD TO ELY.

Tonopah & Tidewater Line Has Surveyors in the Field.

That the Tonopah & Tidewater railroad intends to build a road from Goldfield to Ely, Nevada, seems conclusively from the latest reports from the big Nevada mining camp, which state that three corps of surveyors are now in the field, starting from Goldfield, with instructions to rush the work as speedily as possible. One of the corps is working from Goldfield, another from Ely, and the third at a point about midway between the two towns. There are 12 men in each party. C. M. Rasor, chief engineer for the Tonopah & Tidewater, and in charge of the surveys for the Ely-Goldfield line, is quoted as saying that the road is an assured fact.

"The work of completing the survey will be done as soon as possible," said Mr. Rasor. "It will require about three months for the surveying parties to complete the work over about 225 miles, which will be about the length of the road when completed. It will be built at a cost of about $450,000, according to estimates made from the report of the reconnaissance party, and will have no grade greater than one and one-half per cent."

RAILS MEET IN JULY.

Western Pacific Officials Say Line Will Be Completed at That Date.

"The two ends of the Western Pacific will be coupled up about the end of July of this year, at the present rate of construction," said S. V. Derrah, general passenger agent and traffic manager for the Western Pacific, this morning. "The construction gangs are laying a mile of track a day on the eastern end, and equally good progress is being made on the western end of the road."

"Of course, that does not say that the road will be in operation at that date, or for some time thereafter. There are a thousand and one details to attend to in the opening up of a new line, and especially one with transcontinental connections. The matter of arranging tariffs along is a mighty task, and one which requires a great deal of time. Then there is the building of stations, establishing of agencies, the supplying and apportionment of equipment, and an endless array of detail work to attend to before the line can be said to be ready for traffic. And while it can not be said with exactness when the opening of the line will be announced, it may be said that the officials of the road were well grounded in their computation that it will be during the fall of the year."

From Salt Lake westward about 340 miles of rail have been laid. On the California end, the track is built from Oroville more than 30 miles eastward. The construction work was well advanced, the last tunnel being completed on the Spring Garden bore in Plumas county, California. This tunnel is 7,300 feet long, and was one of the first pieces of work started when the contractors began construction work. The Chilcot tunnel, 6,400 feet long, was also completed this month as well as the Flower Lake tunnel, in eastern Nevada, 5,657 feet in length. A peculiarity of the Flower Lake tunnel construction was that, in its construction, a mile of length not a single drop of water was encountered. The roadbed of the Western Pacific is the finest in the country. The construction of the road is well advanced, and the operation of the road is commenced. It will not have to stop on account of poorly constructed road.

COURT NEWS

HE WAS CRUEL TO HER.

So Says Winnifred Fild in Her Suit For Divorce Filed Today.

The complaint, since December last he has not supported her and her 6-month-old child, Bruce. #### SIMMONS BOUND OVER.

He Pleaded His Own Case and Gets Angry at Prosecutor.

Harry Simmons, a familiar court character in spite of his youthfulness, had less luck this morning than the California man who so successfully pleaded his own case the other day. Simmons has been on the docket for some time past, charged with complicity in the theft of a set of double harness from the barn of the Co-op Furniture company on May 4. The case has been called repeatedly and time continued at the request of Simmons in the course of the hearing. He was unable to get his witnesses and the absence of his attorney.

The same excuses was pleaded today, but the court insisted, Asst. county Atty. Myers' objection to further delay, and Simmons became his own lawyer. In the cross-examination of the various witnesses he showed an ability trained through his many years of experience, but the testimony was against him, and Judge Bowman ordered him bound over for trial in the district court.

At the close of the hearing Simmons gave vent to his rage, and warned Prosecutor Myers that he "would get him yet, and you won't turn any dirty trick on me in the district court." Simmons has a long and varied record behind him and has been a source of constant trouble to the officers. At this time he is accused of having been implicated in the theft of the harness and selling it to a second-hand store.

BELLE LONDON MUST EXPLAIN.

Will Be Ordered Into Court to Show Cause in Injunction Matter.

Mrs. Dora P. Topham, the notorious Belle London, principal owner of the west side stockade, will be served this afternoon with an order to show cause why she should not be bound over for contempt of court for violating the injunction restraining her from allowing the stockade from being used for immoral purposes. The order was granted upon the affidavit of George G. Morris who declares that for the last month to his knowledge the stockade has been used for immoral purposes. In his affidavit he also names the names of a number of women who live there and practise lewdness. The writ is returnable on June 16.

The attorneys for the citizens on the west side saw Judge Morse last night and the affidavit of Mr. Morris was read to him in court. He issued the order to show cause on the affidavit which was filed this morning in the Third district court by Attorney E. C. Ashton.

WOMAN IS DISCHARGED.

Complaining Witness Unable to Identify Bessie Lawton.

Because of the failure of witness to identify Bessie Lawton as the woman charged with the robbery, the jury hearing the case yesterday before Justice of the Peace Bishop was instructed to return a verdict of not guilty, and the woman was discharged. Bessie Lawton was one of the women arrested in a recent raid made upon the stockade, and in which the complaints were sworn to by Lon J. Haddock, Elias S. Woodruff, George Q. Morris and R. W. Eardley. When the Lawton case was called, Elias S. Woodruff explained to the court that he could not identify her as the woman against whom the complaint had been made, but Attorney Sam A. King, representing the defendant, insisted that she was the same person, and offered to produce evidence to this effect.

MAY TERM ENDS.

The May term of the supreme court was concluded yesterday afternoon and adjourned until June 21. Arguments were heard on cases brought by the state to compel Judge J. A. Howell of the Second district court to re-instate the cases of R. E. Bramlett, B. J. McCreary and John K. Garrett, all charged with robbery.

OUTRUST SUIT FILED.

Hardware Company Wants to Use Street Occupied by Railroad.

The Salt Lake Hardware company filed suit against the Oregon Short Line yesterday in the Third district court to oust the railroad company from occupying Third West and Fourth West streets. An order was issued directing the railroad company to show cause why it should not vacate the street for a block.

The hardware company sets forth that it is the owner of a 140,000 foot story building and is entitled to an unobstructed egress and ingress. The company says that it has suffered considerable damage on account of the rails, ties and debris which is piled up along this street.

STIPULATION IN INJURY CASE.

By stipulation Leonard Larsen, who filed suit against the Garfield Smelter company for personal injuries, received $75 with costs yesterday in Judge Ritchie's court, and the case was dismissed. He sued for $3,000 for injuries sustained when an overloaded ladle carrying molten metal overturned and he was seriously burned.

DIVORCE FROM LUNATIC.

Mrs. Mary Matson Seeks Relief in Complaint Filed Yesterday.

Mrs. Mary Matson seeks a divorce from Joseph R. Matson on the ground of insanity in a complaint filed yesterday in the Third district court. Matson, who is now in the state mental hospital at Provo, is declared to be incurable and unable to provide for her. She asks that she be given the custody of their four children and the property Matson owns.

Matson was adjudged insane on Nov. 26, 1902. He has real estate valued at $1,000, on which he had a mortgage of $500. Since he was committed Mrs. Matson has paid off the interest and $400 of the principal. In Judge Morris' division Joseph Lippman was appointed guardian to represent Matson in the matter.

Hall, in the probate division of the Third district court this morning. When her bond was fixed in the sum of $20,000, it is intimated that the estate is valued at about $60,000. The petition for letters of administration will be filed in a few days.

FINNEY TURNED LOOSE.

Man Who "Found" Bank Roll Will Not Be Prosecuted.

The charge of grand larceny against W. J. Finney, the man who found H. E. Klamer's "roll" of $5,500 in the Willamette valley, and who was rewarded $1,500 of it before his arrest, was dismissed this morning by Judge J. M. Bowman at the request of the complaining witness.

It was explained to the court that Mr. Klamer is a merchant engaged in business at Yellowstone Park, and that owing to the opening of the season there, his business interests require his absence. In order to protect the Finney it would be necessary for him to make another trip to Salt Lake during the summer, and rather than do that he thought it better to pocket his loss and have the case dismissed.

WESTERN MARKET LETTER.

(Special Correspondence.)

Kansas City Stock Yards, May 24.—Total cattle supplies here last week were 42,000 head, but included in this was 6,000 head of thin cattle enroute from Texas to Dakota, and not on the market. All the markets were fairly well supplied, and prices declined 10 to 20 cents on fed westerners during the week. The supply is only two-thirds as large today as on recent Mondays, and prices are 1 to 15 higher on westerns. Dealers expect moderate receipts for a month or two, and say that prices breaks in the meantime will be of short duration. Offerings from the range country are meagre today, confined to some common cows which sold at $4. Sales last week reached $6.75 for a lot of the Lockhart steers, other fed Colorado at $5.80 to $6.60, Colorado heifers $5.35 to $5.50, feeders $5.25. Oklahoma fed steers brought $6.38, Texas meal fed steers today at $5.50 to $6.50, grass cows from the southwest $2.75 to $4.10, veal calves up to $6.50. Several lots of Colorado cattle are enroute for this market later in the week, with favorable prospects of meeting a good sale.

Sheep and lambs sold lower up to the middle of the week, but advanced slightly toward the close, and run 12,000 head today. Goats are $1.00 to $1.25, their position two weeks ago, according to receipts of same, and spring lambs are also off 50 to 75 cents at that time. Woolled lambs from Colorado sold at $8.85 to $9.90 today, prices about same as last week. A few good spring lambs today at $2.25. Texas ewes sold today at $4.90, Texas wethers at $5.35 to $5.75, and some good Arizona wethers brought $6 today. Receipts of sheep and lambs for May will be 15 per cent short of last year here, and movements of buyers indicate that choice offerings will hold up to prospect high rates, while medium to common stock may sell with some disappointment to owners.
