Latest Indian News.

CHEYENNE, 4.—F. H. Smith, one of the Indian commissioners, reached here to-day, from the Red Cloud agency; the other three have returned to the Spotted Tail agency. He says the actual number of whites killed since January first by Indians is six. He reports that the troops at both agencies are unmolested, and that at the Spotted Tail agency especially, friendly relations with the Indians exist. The commissioners held several councils at both agencies, with hopeful results. About 6,000 Ogallallahs, Sioux, Arrapahoe, and Cheyennes have registered and remain at Red Cloud, and about 4,000 Brule Sioux are at Spotted Tail, and are expected to register next week. The commissioners say that the situation has been critical, but that the published statements have been exaggerated. Reports from other sources say that the commissioners have seen nothing but the old ration eaters, and that as soon as the grass grows the Indians will resume hostilities.

Embezzlers Fined.

PHILADELPHIA, 4.—Fennimore and Foy, conductors on the Pennsylvania railroad, pleading guilty to embezzlement, were each fined five dollars and costs.

Railroad Report.

WASHINGTON, 4.—Isaac H. Sturgeon, the commissioner appointed to examine the Texas and Pacific railroad, has submitted a report to the Secretary of the Interior, in which he says he has examined the road carefully, and finds it well equipped and built, and he recommends its acceptance.

The Association of Mexican Veterans, last night, decided to obtain and lay before Congress a list of the survivors and soldiers' widows entitled to pensions; the Commissioner of Pensions states the number of survivors at 39,000, but the Association estimates it at more.

Three Men Killed.

MEMPHIS, 4.—While seven men were loading a barge with sand at Fort Pickering this evening, about a quarter of an acre of the bluff fell, burying three of them in a hundred feet of water, the others barely escaping.

A Duel.

NEW ORLEANS, 4.—Near Montgomery station, at noon, to-day, Aristides Bien Venue, and J. B. Phillips fought a duel with shot guns loaded with a single ball, at forty paces; Bien Venue was killed, the first shot going through his brain. Phillips was unhurt.

"Sec. 2. That forty-six millions in notes for circulation, in addition to such circulation as is now allowed by law, be issued to the national banking associations now organized, and which may be organized hereafter, such increased circulation to be distributed among the several States as provided in section one of an act entitled an act to provide for the redemption of three per centum temporary loan certificates, and for the increase of national bank notes, approved July 12, 1870.

A Balloon Collapses When 600 feet High—Murder and Suicide.

SAN FRANCISCO, 5.—Barbier's balloon, "Le Secours," made an ascent from Woodward's Gardens; when nearly over the town of San Leandre, six hundred feet in the air, the balloon collapsed. There were four men and two ladies in the car; the balloon struck the ground with great force, and dragged about three hundred yards. No lives were lost, but all the occupants of the car were hurt, none seriously. All but Barbier returned to the city last night.

Somebody, who professes to have authority, sends the following curiosities of literature to the New York Graphic, the first appearing in that paper of March 12, and the second in that of March 24—

"I wish to warn the people of this country through your paper that a great disaster is at hand.

"We have had no failure of the cotton crop since 1859, and no general failure of the grain crop since before the war.

"A complete failure of both these crops is at hand. The open winter ought to warn us of the impending calamity. The coming season our crops will fail as completely as they have failed in India. I predict that a famine will take place in the United States before the present year is over.

"Another panic will add to the distress. Our last panic was essentially a stock panic. The panic of next fall will affect all values. Already the first symptoms of it are apparent in the decline of railroads. We may shut our eyes to the future, but we cannot alter facts. Famine and financial ruin are close at hand.

"These things are to punish us for our forgetfulness of God. We are, practically, a nation of disbelievers. No such nation has ever yet escaped punishment. Many of your readers will mock at this assertion, but they will find it to be true. We have given ourselves wholly to selfish money-making, regardless whether we make money honestly or not. We shall be taught by hard experience the folly of our ways.

"I know whereof I speak. My authority I need not parade, but let your readers be warned in time. A great woe is denounced against us as a nation, I already hear its awful footsteps approaching.

"JEREMIAH."

"I warned this people through your columns some weeks ago that a financial panic and the failure of the crops was sure to come to pass before the end of the present year. And now I make the further prophecy that pestilence and vast and terrible convulsions of nature are at hand.

"It is given to me to see these things clearly; but I fear that the people will not believe in them till they have actually arrived. And yet how can they fail to read the signs of the times? Look at the great temperance revival sweeping over the country. It means that there is something in the air that stimulates men and women to a strange exaltation of the moral faculties. We see the same thing intensified in North Carolina, in the region where the earthquake is shaking the country. History shows that these spiritual disturbances are closely connected with the unknown force that produces the earthquake and the volcano. The earthquake is close at hand, and it will far surpass that which terrified our people in 1755. The breaking out of a volcano in North Carolina may possibly avert to some extent the ruin that is otherwise impending; but, nevertheless, our whole Atlantic seaboard is to be shaken to its foundation, and New York City is to be destroyed, either by the earthquake or the equally terrible tidal-wave.

"The pestilence will follow the earthquake. Before the summer is over the cholera will stalk through the crumbling ruins of our seaboard cities. It is coming, and no precaution of quarantine will be able to stay its march.

"Though these things are the punishment of a wicked nation, they will come through natural causes. The early spring, followed by the late frost, will cut off the crops. The subtle presence in the atmosphere of a strange element connected with the earthquake will produce the religious excitement. The poison let loose by the opening earth will breed the pestilence. But let not the people fancy that there is not a power that controls nature. The nation that forgets God will be chastised—whether by war or famine or earthquake or pestilence. We have fought him and we shall be made to suffer. You scoff at me today as a religious fanatic. I summon you to answer me six months hence. You will not scoff then, but you will comprehend the heavy burden that is laid upon the man who foresees these calamities in the near future, and knows that no power can stay them.

"JEREMIAH."
