St. Paul, Minn., March 21 .- Three hundred Great Northern passengers from points west of the Eastern Montana line, 20 tons of mail matter and car after car of baggage, all snow bound in North Dakota since last Fri-day, reached St. Paul last night. Monday the snowplows ached the train and it was sent west to Williston, where local accommodaloss were available and food plenty. Incoming passengers reported snow rifts at Stanley 35 feet high. In other places the big rotary plows left veritable snow tunnels where the worst of the drifts had been. Great trouble was experienced in clearing the tracks be-cause of the sand gathered up from the level plains by the wind and mixed with the snow. This dulled the knives of the rotary plows, making constant repairs necessary. Sleet was intermixed with snow, and when the storm subsided the drifts were, covered with a thick coat of ice which made it possible to walk on them but greatly retarded the work of clearing them away,

Special Correspondence.

Cheyenne, Wyo., March 19 .- A persistent report is in circulation here to the effect that the Union Pacific will double track its line between Cheyenn and Archer, 8.4 miles east of here. This district is on what is known as Archer hill, one of the most difficult and most xpensive pieces of track between Oma ha and Ogden to operate. All eastbound freight trains that are loaded to their full tonnage are compelled to "double" at least once and often several times to get over the summit, and this is very expensive and the "doubling" ly causes serious delays to traffic Surveys were made for a cut-off be-tween Archer and Cheyenne a year ago, but it is said that the Union Pacific is not yet ready to build the new line and will put in a second track on the old line at once in order to relieve the situ-ation temporarily. For several years steam shovels were at work on the summit of the hill cutting it down and while the grade was reduced to a coniderable extent it was found that this nethod of lightoning the tasks of the Well posted railroad men believe that work on the double track will be menced early next month and be pushed to early completion,

THREE COAST LINES.

Railway Official Points Out Reasons For their Early Construction.

"Possibly within five years, and within 10 years at the outside. Salt Lake will have three new lines to the Pacific coast.' That is a very broad statement, but it was made today by a railway official of well known ability whose dislike of notoriety prevents a disclosure of his dentity. The assertion, in the first dentity. place, was not made for publication but was uttered during a discussion of the railway situation in the west, several recognized authorities upon such matters indulging in the talk and giving swing to a predictive mood.

That the San Pedro road is to be built there is now scarcely any doubt, although I should like to see some acual work done at this end of the line. Nearly two years is ample seems to me, in which to do all the preliminary business necessary to the building of the line. There ought now to be some signs of a Salt Lake terminal and construction work out of this city should be well under way. But to go on: The projection of the San Pedro line will undoubtedly bring to Salt Lake another line from Denver ecause that city is unxious to get as nany trans-continental roads as pos-And the building of such a line almost necessary, under present con-itions, to the San Pedro for an eastern

"It is also very plain that Mr. Gould is mapping out a course to the Pacific, so that it may not be considered foolhardy in me to say that at a point at er near Green River, Utah, will com-transferred to Salt Lake. In improvements and new building at present mapped out by the railroad companies millions of dollars are to be spent during this year.

An addition to the railway depot building at Price is to be made at once by the Rio Grande Western. Increased business demands it.

John E. Dubois of Pennsylvania and A. H. Franklin of Salt Lake are reported by the Railway & Engineering Review to be contemplating an electric line into the Salmon River region.

Whether the buildings at Saltair are to receive a new coat of paint this sea-son has not yet been determined, but many of the directors are in favor of it. A meeting of the directorate will be held early in April. A contemporary thinks the Salt Lake & Los Angeles and the Salt Lake & Mercur have some surprises to spring on the public. What connection they have with each other is difficult to divine. Just think of a line with its termini at Mercur and Saltair! Improvements in earth-handling machinery has been so great in the past year or two that railway grading has been reduced to a comparatively easy task, and fills and cuts that were formerly considered impracticable on ac-count of the expense of their execution are now of common occurrence. A visit to the shops shows that the fine weather of the last few been used to the very best advantage. The brack work on the new stalls to the round house has been completed and the stone walls for the pits
