The Waverley Bicycles Thousands rode last year's Waverley Bicycles, and were satisfied.

We offer the same wheel this season, greatly improved, and better than many higher-priced bicycles, at a greatly reduced price. A saving in the cost of new machinery is alone responsible for this financial benefit to the public.

We, however, make a wheel of a better grade—better than them all. The expensive methods used in its construction will not allow us to sell it for less than $100.

Gladness Comes
With a better understanding of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

Every person who can afford it should secure these volumes while they are to be had for future reference, and especially should they be obtained for every Sunday School, Improvement Association and Ward library. NEWS OF THE WEST.

Twenty Months' Old Baby Poisoned by a Rattlesnake.

KILLED BY A CAVE IN A MINE.

Caught Under Railway Trains—Appointing Delegate to the Transmississippi Congress.

It is estimated that the shingle mills of Whatcom county, Wash., cut an average of 2,000,000 shingles per day.

A. W. Shearer of Steamboat, Jackson county, Or., broke his arm the other day while pulling a tooth for a companion.

The Port Ludlow, Wash., sawmill, which has been shut down ever since 1893, will start up again about June 15th. The mill will give employment to about 250 men.

Reports have been received of a serious mining disaster at Lundy, Cal., on Saturday. Only meager particulars could be obtained. One man was killed and two others fatally injured.

T. L. Carothers of Ukiah, Cal., has been appointed by the board of supervisors as delegate from that county to the Transmississippi commercial congress, which convenes at Salt Lake City on July 14th.

Hugh Carroll, secretary of the Populist committee of that county, was killed by a Great Northern passenger train Monday afternoon. Some spectators say he threw himself in front of the engine, and others think he fell accidentally.

Alfred Freel, convicted at Mountain Home, Idaho, for the murder of John Kessler, and who secured a new trial because the indictment did not state where the crime was committed, was convicted a second time on Monday, this verdict being murder in the second degree. First degree was the former verdict. Mrs. Kessler, in whose case a verdict of murder in the second degree was set aside for the same reason as in Freel's case, is now having her second trial.

Two masked men entered an Oakland, Cal., saloon Saturday night and made an effort to rob the place. Six men were in the saloon at the time and all were compelled to hold their hands high above their heads while the robbers made a hasty examination of the barroom in quest of money. The saloonkeeper made an effort to reach a staircase when one of the men fired a shot at him. The bullet flew wide of the mark and to the consternation that followed the robbers broke for the door and made good their escape.

The Boise, Idaho, Statesman says the little daughter of Matt McGillick of Tammany, four miles from Lewiston, Idaho, was severely bitten by a rattlesnake Saturday. The child picked up the venomous reptile while playing in the yard. The snake sent its fangs into the child's hand between the thumb and forefinger and then coiled around the arm as far as the shoulder. The mother, attracted by the screams of pain from the baby, ran and tore the snake from its victim. The child's life was saved. The baby is 20 months old. It was badly poisoned, but the treatment acted promptly.

Shortly before 6 o'clock Saturday morning an engine drawing two empty passenger coaches struck and killed a tramp on a railroad crossing near Elk Grove, Cal. The engineer in charge of the locomotive told Coroner Clark that as the train approached the crossing he saw four or five men standing near the railroad track. A few seconds before the train reached the crossing one of the men stepped to the middle of the track and stood there, facing the fast-approaching engine, which had its bell clanging and whistle screeching. The man made no effort to get out of the way and the train struck him and cut him to pieces. There was nothing about his person to indicate who he was or where he came from.

A fatal accident occurred Saturday at the big Iron Mountain mine, owned by the Mountain Copper company and situated about fourteen miles northwest of Redding, Cal., which might have resulted in the death of scores of men. As it is, one life has been called to pay the forfeit for negligence. Shortly after 7 o'clock in the morning a large cave-in occurred, precipitating a large amount of the overhead ore into the working tunnels where about sixty men were employed, burying five of the unfortunate miners who were working beneath a stope. The fifty-five men were further fortunate in being able to make their escape to the surface by other passages. Upon reaching the surface the men who thus luckily effected their escape at once set to work with picks and shovels to extricate their buried friends. After about four hours of hard work the searchers broke through the debris and exhumed their comrades from the living tomb. All five were found to be seriously injured, and were at once taken on a special train to the hospital of the Mountain Copper company at Keswick, where the company has its smelters. Before reaching the hospital, however, the most seriously hurt miner, named Martin Sanders, expired. He was badly crushed by the falling rock, and his body was severely lacerated. H. E. Tomkins, another victim, was also badly injured, his wounds being so severe as perhaps to necessitate the amputation of the lower limbs. The remaining three were less severely injured.
