He denounced the Republicans for doing business on the Sabbath. Mr. Grosvenor, in closing the debate on the rule, remarked facethous-ly that when the Lord said "six days shalt thou labor and do au thy work" port was agreed to, 207-3. Mr. Grosvenor then presented the special rule to put the immigration bill into conference by direct vote and to cut off the previous question on the conference reports Mr. Grosvenor briefly explained the scope of the rule, and then yielded five minutes to Mr. Underwood (Ala.) The latter declared that the rule proposed to force a vote upon conference reports on appropriation bills carrying millions after five minutes' debate on a side. He taunted the other side for their ina-bility to do business with deliberation. He also said it was unfair that the immigration bill which had been emascu-lated by the senate should be thrown into conference without giving the house an opportunity to act. Mr. Williams (Miss.) protested against the Republican partisan actions in at-tributing the action of the minority in the house to revenge for the unseating of Mr. Butler. He said the country should know that the situation was breader than that The Decrement tainly foreshadowed the coming of the Democratic party, Mr. Grosvenor then compared with the present situation that when the Democrats in the Fifty-third Congress brought in a rule to concur in the 600 bill, "in gross." The pretext of the Democrats for their present course, he said, was a flimsy excuse. The minority, he said, was trying to paralyze the government but the majority would not allow it to do so.
