"FINANCIAL METHODS IN

UTAH." "The Salt Lake Tribune finds some curious developments of Mormon financial and educational operations in the report of the Auditor of the Territorial Control of the Territorial Control of Several It quotes the cases of severa counties, which may be considered purely Mormon which have drawn from the Treasury for school purposes in the past two years amounts almost equal, and in some cases even exceeding, the entire revenue of those counties from taxes. On the contrary, it finds that in Salt Lake, Weber and Summit Counties, in all of which Gentiles are large property owners, the taxes amount to $205,000 in taxes amount to $265,000 in round numbers, while they have received from the school fund in the same time, only $62,000.

"The roughest part of this state of affairs is that, while the Gentiles are thus fleeced for the benefit of the Mormons, the schools to which they are made to contribute are not only Mormons, the schools to which they are made to conferibute are not only notoriously bad, but are conducted in conformity with Mormon ideas of education. The main dependence of the Gentiles, in fact, is upon the schools maintained by the various Christian denominations in the Territory.

"The management of the finances of the Mormons, both in Territorial matters and in Salt Lake City, has always ters and in Salt Lake City, has always been a fruitful source of complaint on the part of the Gentiles. They assert that it is impossible to obtain any satisfactory account of what become of the money, and that for a great por-tion of it there is nothing ito show in the shape of legitimate expenditure or tangible improvements. The impression is created that, by manipulation of the public funds, the Gentile population is made to contribute to the pur-poses of Mormon hierarchy. It might be difficult to prove these assertions, but, on the other hand, it is claimed that the Mormon officials are equally unable to demonstrate that the mone collected is applied to the purposes for which it was intended."

The above is from the San Fran cisco Call. It shows how respectjournals not posted on affairs are led into blunthrough depending upon a paper which purposely and intentionally misleads the public, in regard to any subject which it touches relating to this Territory. Supposing the figures quoted above to be approximately correct, what is there so "curious" or "rough" in the "development of Mormon financial operations?" The revenue law provides that three mills on the dollar of the entire Territorial assessment shall be used for the benefit of district schools. Is there anything "curious" schools in the Territory. It is used only for the payment of teachers, but may be supplemented by a local option tax in each district, of not exceeding two per cent. on the taxable property. Thus any district that wants its schools supported entirely by taxation can have them, and those that want them partly sustained by tuition fees, can have that plan. It is left with the people to be taxed, how near to an entirely "free school," as it is called, their district schools shall be. ; The amount collected for school taxes is included in the general tax, and is disbursed on orders from the Territorial Superintendent, as the law directs, according to the school' population of each district. Thus, a school [district does not receive an taxable property therein, but according to the number of children of lawful school age. Is there anything "curious" in that? What more equitable plan for the purpose designed could be adopted? Is it not the same its schools by taxation? That is to say, the district which has the largest school population gets the greatest amount of educational benefit from the

Then if Sampete or Wasatch county, where the taxable property is not so large as in some other counties, receives a large amount of the school appropriation because of the great numbers of its children of school age, and Salt |Lake and Weber counties, where the taxable property foots up proportion because they have a proportionately less number of children "curious" or "rough" about it?

be taxed for the schooling of the many purposes who has no children at consistent objectors to these supposed discrepancies advocate, then those discrepancies would be much greater, and the wealthiest districts would pay much more for the benefit of the poorer districts, as they must do of necessity in every State in the Union where that

The reason that Salt Lake and Weber counties contribute more to the reveties, is not because of "larger Gentile property-owners," but because of affect his guilt. receipts and expenditures of bublic noneys are duly and regularly pubished, and the public can learn, if they want to, the manner in which their axes are disposed of.

The assertion that the Gentile population is made to contribute to the purposes of the Mormon hier-archy" is the most transparent ibsurdity. No "Gentile" contributes dollar for "Mormon" purposes unless he wishes to, and that is not of alarmingly frequent occurrence. The Call may well say "it might be difficult to prove these assertions." It would be not only difficult but impossible to prove them, because they are untrue. And every fair-minded "Gentile" in Utah who knows anything of the true situation, will confess, if he speaks at all on this subject, that the financial offairs of Utah are freer from crookedness, and are conducted on a more economical principle than in almost any part of the country. Assertions may be made to the contrary, and vituperative accusations may be fulminated, but they are only the foul wind which is emitted through the Salt Lake Tribune, and the Call will always make a blunder if it credits anything that emanates from that nurderous source.

RELIGIOUS TESTS IN LITIGA-

The Honorable Supreme Court of the Territory:

We, the undersigned, residents of Piute County, Territory of Utah, liv-ing in the vicinity of the town of Marysvale, respectfully state: Marysvale, respectfully state:
We are and have been personally well acquainted, for over four years last past, with Edward McB. Timoney, who was recently appointed a Commissioner of the Supreme Court of said Territory.

That during or about the month of March, 1882, he was held to ball to keep the peace before James Wiley, a justice of the peace of said county, for threatening to injure people.

That on the 5th day of January, 1885, he was arrested and taken before Mariner Smith, a justice of the peace of he was arrested and saken before Mar-iner Smith, a justice of the peace of said county, on the charge of selling intoxicating liquors without a license; for selling intoxicating liquor on Sun-lay, and also to minors, and for keep-ing a gambling house. A copy of said proceedings is hereto attached. That your petitioners do not think he is a proper person to hold the office of commissioner of said court, and ask Commissioner of said court, and ask to have said appointment vacated. MARYSVALE, Plute County,

These are serious charges against an officer occupying a position which has seen magnified into such importance is that of U. S. Commissioner. Against them is a statement of his attorney, C. K. Glichrist of this city, to the effect that these allegations folabout that? The only objection we lowed the committal of certain persons have heard from non-"Mormon" on the charge of unlawful cohabitation, sources is that it is not and that the Commissioner has a good following decament, also signed by a number of citizens: To the Honorable the Judge of the Su-county, most respectfully state that we have known Mr. Edward McB. Timoney personally and by reputation for over five years. We believe him to be an honorable and upright man, fearless in the discharge of duty, and that no better selection could have been made of fill the responsible position you were pleased to place him in, as United States Commissioner. We are glad you appointed and most sincerely hope you will keep him where he is, as those who seek the revocation of his appoint ment are either Mormons or Mormon

The Supreme Court considered the complaint and the rejoinder, and set Monday, Jan. 25th as the time for Comamount according to the sum of the missioner McB. Timoney to appear and show cause why he should not be dismissed from office. From the defense set up in this case, it appears that there is a growing opinion that all that is needed when an official prosecuted for criminal conduct, is to show that each of his accusers is a the reverse of the alleged recognized rule, that to ensure a conviction, it is only necessary to establish that the accused is a "Mormon," while the accuser "is not."

It will be observed that the charges against B. Mc limoney are specific and definite, while his defense is vague and general. It a man holding an official position is a brawler, a threatener, gambling-house keeper, etc., it is no answer to the charges that he has a good reputation among certain individuals, or that he has committed certain persons for alleged infraction receive much help for education when of the Edmunds law, or that the partie its school population is large and its tax. | preferring the charges and offering the able property is small, then it is wrong proofs are "Mormons." These responses do not touch the questions or

It is alleged in the dirty Yearian case that the complainant is a "Mormon," and the Justice to try the case is a "Mormon," "while the defendant is not;" and it is argued that he should therefore be kept from punishment. In the McB. Timoney case the same plea is set up as a reason why he should not be expelled from the office which it is

APOSTLE SNOW'S SERMON. VIEWS OF THE LATEST VICTIM OF TH MORMON PERSECUTION.

A synopsis of remarks by Apostle Lorenzo Snow, delivered in Brigham Tabernacle, January 10th, 1886. My brothers and sisters, I feel truly

The prosecution entered against me will, I presume, result in my imprisonnent for a term of eighteen months, answering the charge of three indict ments, of which I am convicted.
