

LEROY BEAULIEU ON RUSSIAN AFFAIRS

Situation There One of Revolution. A Crisis That Cannot be Measured by Months.

PRESERVATION OF THRONE.

Overthrow Would be a Great Disaster—Does Not Mean Continuation of Autocracy.

Paris, July 10.—Anatole Leroy Beaulieu, director of the Institute of France and the foremost French authority on Russian affairs, whose history of Russia is recognized as being one of the most accurate presentations of the affairs of that empire, received the correspondent of the Associated Press this morning at his country seat near Versailles, where he devoted an hour to discussing the gravity of Russia's present change and the outlook for the future. M. Leroy Beaulieu makes frequent visits to Russia, the last one only a few weeks ago, for the purpose of personally observing the results of the first Russian election. When asked to sum up his recent observations, M. Leroy Beaulieu said:

"I should be understood that the Russian situation is one of actual revolution. It is no crisis which can be measured by days, weeks or months, but a vast and complete transition, resembling that of the French revolution. When I say revolution, I do not mean that the monarchy is certain to be overthrown, although it is possible that this may follow. The greater part of the leaders of the Constitutional Democracy desire to save the throne from wreck, but they recognize that they are not masters of the future. If the government does not satisfy the nation's demands, catastrophes of the gravest nature are ahead for Russia."

"Personally, I think that the overthrow of the throne would be a great disaster, for that would mean anarchy and probably civil war."

M. Leroy Beaulieu was asked if the preservation of the throne meant a continuation of the autocracy.

"By no means," he replied. "On the contrary, arbitrary autocracy is doomed. All that the present monarchy can save at the best is a power within constitutional or well defined limits. The emperor has good intentions, but he knows very little of his own country outside of the limits of the palace. He is always hesitating, is himself terrified by the example of the French revolution and does not wish to have the same end as Louis XIV, although he forgets that Charles I of England arrived at a similar end by another route. Perhaps it is already too late to save the dynasty from going down with the autocracy, but other leading statesmen are permitting the formation of a ministry, representing parliament, which represents the people. He has already lost much time and the feeling of discontent is continually increasing."

M. Leroy Beaulieu then discussed the agrarian and other leading questions. The land, he said, was the most difficult question. The government recedes before the enormous cost of partial or total expropriation of the ancient estates, yet unless the emperor satisfies the peasants, he will transform them into an opposition element and perhaps into revolutionists.

When questioned concerning the Jewish question Leroy Beaulieu spoke of his observations during his recent travels in Russia, where he was struck with the tenacity with which the Jews demanded the same civil and political rights as Christians.

"There are 5,000,000 Jews in Russia," he said, "and if so many of them are found among the revolutionists the revolution is to be feared. The exceptional laws to which they are compelled to submit. The Jews thus become irreconcilable adversaries of the government, which obstinately refuses them the rights accorded to other people in the country. Thus the reactionists count on the Jews and this is why the police institute brutalities against the Jews, like those at Bialystok. Even if the ministers are not directly responsible, the local police organize these butcheries, which proceed under the benevolent silence of the administration."

"When I visited Russia plans for uprisings against the Jews were everywhere announced and the subsequent action merely realized what I expected. The sole means of bringing about the revolution of the Jewish masses from the reactionists is to compel them to stand on equal ground before the law. The Russian parliament demands this, but the government hesitates, persisting in considering the Jews the principal organizers of the revolution."

Continuing, M. Leroy Beaulieu described the scenes he witnessed during the elections in Russia, when he visited three typical interior cities—Lodz, Warsaw and Charkovsk. Lodz he compared with Chicago, owing to the rapidity of its growth and the energy of its people. He said:

"The elections proceeded in a state of siege. All the election bureaus in Poland were guarded by troops and other Cossacks were stationed at the doors. I have even heard the Cossacks' whistles falling on the backs of the voters at the polls, but that did not prevent the people from returning opposition members to parliament. It is noticeable that there are twelve Jewish members in the lower house, including those of Moscow, the Pittsburgh of Russia. One of the Jewish leaders of Moscow has eloquently defended the project for a division of the lands among the peasants, showing that there are no grounds to expect that the Jews will prove a disruptive element among the Constitutional Democracy."

M. Leroy Beaulieu outlined the urgent need of reform in the bureaucracy, which, he says, is beyond expression an arbitrary power, and also the suppression of arbitrary arrests and the complete transformation of the personnel of the functionaries who were blindly committed to the old regime abuses.

In conclusion M. Leroy Beaulieu said:

Woman's Nightmare

No woman's happiness can be complete without children; it is her nature to love and want them as much so as it is to love the beautiful and pure. The critical ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so fraught with dread, pain, suffering and danger, that the very thought of it fills her with apprehension and horror. There is no necessity for the reproduction of life to be either painful or dangerous. ## WEAK STOMACH

AND SICK HEADACHE CURED BY DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.

Another Triumph for the Tonic Treatment for Disorders of the Digestive System.

The symptoms of stomach trouble vary. Some victims have a ravenous appetite, others loathe the sight of food. Often there is but a feeling of weight on the chest, a full feeling in the throat. Sometimes the gas presses on the heart and leads the sufferer to think he has heart disease. Sick headache is a frequent and distressing symptom.

A weak stomach needs a digestive tonic and that there is no better one for this purpose than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is shown by the statement of Mr. A. C. Merrill, a mining man, of Oneida, Calif., a veteran of Battalion C, Third U. S. Regular Infantry.

"I had never been well since I left the army," he says, "always having trouble with my stomach, which was weak. I was run down and debilitated. Could keep nothing on my stomach, and at times had sick headache so bad that I did not care whether I lived or died. My stomach refused to retain even liquid food and almost despaired of getting well as I had heard so many kinds of medicine without relief. Then I was bitten by a rattlesnake and that laid me up from my work entirely for a year and six months of which I spent in bed."

"One day a friend recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to me and I began taking them. They cured me when all other medicine had failed. I have recommended the pills to a great many, for during my recovery every one asked me what was helping me so and I told them Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I cannot speak too highly of them."

"If you want good health you must have good blood. Bad blood is the root of all common diseases, like anemia, rheumatism, scurvy, neuralgia, St. Vitus' dance, nervousness, indigestion, debility, general weakness, paralysis, neuritis, ataxia and the special ailments that only women folk know. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new blood and this is the secret of their success in these diseases."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50c. per box, six boxes for $2.50 by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

said: "It is difficult to foresee the final results of such a vast upheaval, but I expect results to come about through the agency of the revolution. The results of your American revolution were realized, very quickly because your people were prepared, but the people of Russia are far different. I am inclined to believe that this revolution will continue in various stages of intensity for 10 and possibly 20 years, owing to the magnitude of the questions involved and the dangers along the way. For the present the emperor's choice of a liberal ministry appears to be the best means of averting a revolution with the possible consequences of the overthrow of the dynasty."

INVESTIGATING ICE TRUST.

Kansas City, July 10.—In the investigation of the ice manufacturing concerns of this city which County Prosecutor Kimball is trying to show is a trust in restraint of trade, Harry L. Burk, secretary of the People's Ice Storage & Fuel company, but other leading statesmen are permitting the formation of a ministry, representing parliament, which represents the people. He has already lost much time and the feeling of discontent is continually increasing."

HARRY THAW'S FORMAL STATEMENT

He Makes a Protest Against Being Regarded as an Insane Person.

WITHOUT COUNSEL'S CONSENT

They Are Going Right Ahead Collecting Evidence to Prove He Was Insane.

New York, July 10.—Harry Kendall Thaw today in the Tombs prison gave out his first formal statement since he shot and killed Stanford White on the Madison Square Garden roof garden. In it the young man utters a protest against being regarded as insane and declares his counsel assures him that no such course as the appointment of a committee to inquire into his mental condition is contemplated. The statement was handed by Thaw in person to newspaper representatives. He gave it out without the permission of his counsel, with whom he pleaded all day to be allowed to deny in person the current reports as to his sanity and especially the publication yesterday afternoon of a purported interview with one of his counsel quoting the attorney as saying the prisoner was undoubtedly insane.

Young Thaw's statement follows: "I am informed by Mr. Otcott and Mr. Gruber that the interview with the latter in one of last evening's papers quoting him (Gruber) to the effect that I am now insane and that a lunacy committee would be appointed to demonstrate that fact has no foundation whatever; that Mr. Gruber never made such a statement, and that no such course is contemplated."

"Mr. Otcott further tells me that he did not go to Philadelphia for the purpose of seeing or inquiring about Harry Thaw or her alleged insanity; that his visit had nothing whatever to do with the question of my mental condition or that of any member of my family."

The statement was signed with the initials "H. K. T." When asked if he had anything further to remark, Thaw said:

"That statement embodies all that I have to say."

Despite the rapid fire questions hurled at him by the reporters, Thaw remained smiling, but noncommittal, during four or five minutes he was with the press representatives.

HEARD NO THREATS.

Edna McClure, the show girl, who appeared before Asst. Atty. Garvan last Saturday for examination concerning the Thaw-White tragedy, said today that she did not tell Mr. Garvan of any threats made by Thaw against White. She never heard such threats. She said she told Mr. Garvan of many reports concerning Thaw. Mrs. Thaw and White, which had reached her ears, but she simply told the truth or falsity she had no knowledge of the truth or falsity of any of them.

Judge Otcott has just returned from a trip to Philadelphia in connection with the case, and as he was leaving the Tombs he was asked regarding his visit to Philadelphia.

"I can say that my trip to Philadelphia was wholly successful. I told Harry Thaw what I had learned and he was very happy over it. So was Mrs. Thaw."

THAW EXAMINED.

Mrs. Thaw remained with her husband about an hour and a half. After she had left the prison Thaw was visited by an alienist, recently retained by the defense. This was Dr. Charles L. Dana. Mr. Dana brought a letter from Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton, chief of the corps of alienists in the service of Thaw's lawyers, and after Thaw had read the letter he submitted to an examination.

May McKenzie, an actress friend of Mrs. Thaw, was among the witnesses examined at the district attorney's office today. She was accompanied by Mary Leahy, Mrs. Thaw's maid. Both women were requested to return to the office for further examination next week.

THAW'S MANNER WILD.

When the time for exercise in the courtyard of the prison this afternoon came Thaw decided to remain indoors, telling the warden that he was not feeling well. This decision was considered a discussion in the Tombs, and it was said that during the morning exercise Thaw rushed around the corridors as fast as he could until he was exhausted. The prisoners reported that Thaw's manner was wild and that he went about in such a way that other prisoners exercising had to get out of his way.

A PITTSBURGH WITNESS.

Pittsburgh, July 10.—It was learned today that a witness who will appear in the Thaw case when it comes to trial in New York will be Paul Dorn of Wilkesburg, a suburb of this city, whom Harry Thaw took to Europe several years ago. Dorn said he had been instructed to keep his mouth shut and not to say a word until he had heard from Thaw's attorneys. When asked when he expected to go to New York, Dorn said:

"I don't know. But I am ready to go whenever Mrs. Thaw is willing to give me an interview and I don't talk either in the court or out of it, until I have seen her."

"Did you ever meet Bedford, the val-4, whom Harry Thaw engaged at Southampton?"

"Yes, I did, and it is too bad that Bedford died."

Dorn was asked what he meant by that, and he said:

"Well, he was a good fellow, and if he had lived and could tell all the things he knew, it would not look so rosy for Harry Thaw."

"How do you know that Bedford knew all these things?"

"Well, wasn't I there?"

"No, but I heard of him at that time."

"I will go to New York," said Dorn, "and tell what I know and won't take very long to do it, but it will be enough."

UNITED IN DEATH.

Aged Couple Died Almost at Same Time, Will be Buried Together.

Chicago, Ill., July 11.—Companions nearly half a century in life, Arthur S. Graham and his wife, Jefferison park, are not to be separated in death. Mrs. Graham died Monday, and her husband passed away yesterday, less than 24 hours later. They will be buried together.

The remarkable coincidence shown in the death of this husband and wife is said to be quite consistent with the general trend of their lives which have been singularly united. Mrs. Graham was taken ill on the Fourth of July. It was not thought that her condition was serious, but diabetes developed and she grew worse. The day following the Fourth Mr. Graham was stricken with an attack of heart disease, and which he had been subject for many years. In a separate room, but near that of his wife, he lay suffering from some surprise that her husband had not been in to see her, but members of the family explained to her satisfaction without telling that he, too, was ill.

Nor was the fact of his companion's death communicated to Mr. Graham, who, fearing that the shock might kill him, Monday night, however, he seemed to be improved, and it was thought advisable to tell him yesterday, but he suddenly grew worse and died, not knowing that his wife had gone.

Mr. Graham was 70 years old and his wife 60. They leave five children.

PALMER WILL CONTEST OVER.

New York, July 11.—With the payment of $75,000 to the heirs of Francis Asbury Palmer, who contested his will, litigation over his estate has been terminated. The appraisers filed their report with the surrogate yesterday. The total net value of the estate is $747,190.

Mr. Palmer for 52 years was president of the National Broadway bank and was 92 years old when he died. He made a small annuity to his older brother, remembered religious and charitable institutions that he was interested in and left his residuary fortune to the Francis Asbury Palmer fund, which was organized before he died, for the support of home missions, ministers and churches.
