Ite empire, declaring that while they had no objection to King Edward privately visiting his relative, Emperor Nicholas, they had the greatest abhorence of the idea of a state visit to Russia "with its horrors, tortures and persecutions." "Fratemizing with the hangmen of liberty in Russia" they declared to be shame and a disgrace to Great Britiain, "which could not avoid contamination in that she mixed in evil." The Lobor Socialists suggested that the visit had been engineered by Russia with the view of rehabilitating her credit and John G. S. MacNelli, Nationalist, joined in the protest. Foreign Seev. Sir Edward Grey, on behalf of the government, deprecated the to the tone and temper of this attack. He declared the evidence proved clearly that the system of government in Russia had markedly better during the fast two years and said an attempt to exert pressure as suggested would hinder this constitutional progress instead of helping it. He then invited the house to consider what kind of resentment would have been aroused in Great Britain had the emperor of Russia declined to visit this country until full self-government. The government had advised the king to pay this visit, which, according to its information, would be welcomed by all the moderate and liberal elements of Russia. Sir Edward they repeated that no moderate and liberal elements of Russia. Sir Edward then repeated that no negotiations were on foot for a new treaty or convention with Russia, and he said none would be initiated dur-ing the visit. It was hoped, however, that the visit would have the political effect of improving the relations be-tween the two countries. A few years ago such a visit would have been im-possible. The fact that it occurs now is intended to emphasize the knowl-edge that the relations between the countries today are friendly and he trusted they would continue so. The foreign secretary then went on to say consequences of the attitude of aloofness or boycott of Russia sug-rested by the Labor Socialists must be disastrous and would sooner or later lead to war. The British government was pursuing a policy of peace and if the house rejected that policy he would fall with it.

Arguments or Oratory.

Chicago, June 4 .- The full Republican national committee will meet tomorrow at 11 o'clock and begin hearings on contests involving 229 seats in the convention. The number of contests filed is so large that their settlement has become the most important of the pre-conven-tion proceedings. The nomination of the Republican candidate for the presi-dency hinges absolutely on the decision of the members of the national commitof the memory of the national commit-tee and the subsequent approval of that decision by the credentials com-mittee of the convention. Half of the contests decided in favor of Secy. Taft would result in his winning on the first ballot, while failure to capture this number unquestionably would put the pomination in doubt nomination in doubt.

ANTI-TAFT COMBENE. Realizing the necessity of keeping a majority of the contested delegates out of the Taft column, the representatives of other candidates have pooled issues in most of the cases, and as alles will urge their claims before the national committee. The proceedings, there-fore, largely will be resolved into a Taft and anti-Taft controversy. So far as the south is concerned, and most of the contests are in states from south of the Mason and Dixon line, the interests of the allies are being looked after by Maj. F. C. Bryan of Washington, D. C. He arrived in Chicago today and announced that he would base his argu-ments chiefly on the contention that in most of the southern states the Taft forces had disqualified the negro voters from participating in the state and dis-trict conventions, and that the allies' delegates had been selected at conven-tions from which we clear out was held. delegates had been selected at conven-tions from which no class or race had been barred.

CHAIRMAN NEW'S PROGRAM.

If the program mapped out by Na-tional Chairman Harry C. New to gov-ern the proceedings of the committee in hearing the contests is carried out, little opportunity for fine arguments or restoried office and the argument of the theory of t material effect will be presented. This program will be submitted to the com-mittee for action immediately on the It will provide for daily meetings to begin at 10 a. m. and continue until 6 p. m. without recess for luncheon. Thirty minutes for each side will be allowed in state contests, involving the seating of four delegates-at-large and their alternates in each case. There are seating of four delegates-at-large and their alternates in each case. There are Il such contests, the states being Ala-bama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mis-sissippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina and Virginia. The re-maining delegates in contest are from scattering districts in the states named and Arkansas, Kentucky, Missouri, Ohio, Alaska, Arizona and Pennsyl-vania. Fifteen minutes on each side are to be allowed in the argument of each of the district contests. Chairman

INDICTED FOR MISUSE OF UNITED STATES MAILS

To Mothers

The best food for a child is important to you. Will you please read these facts.

The wisdom of the ages has decided that wheat, is the perfect food. Not corn, not oats. In wheat alone are all the needed elements supplied in balanced form.

But the wheat should be whole.

White flour leaves out very important elements -all the wheat that's not white.

And flour, in the form of bread, is never sufficiently cooked. The inside of the loaf never gets half enough heat to break up the granules of starch, so the digestive juices can get to them. So, much of the starch-which is 70 per cent of the wheatnever digests. It's insoluble.

That is the sason for Mapl-Flake.

Our wheat is steam-cooked for six hours; then cured. Then every berry is flaked so thin that the full heat attacks every atom. Then they are toasted, for 30 minutes, at 400 degrees.

The result is a food that's all food. No part goes to waste. No part ferments and breeds germs in the stomach.

We get our delicious flavor by boiling the wheat with pure maple syrup.

It requires 96 hours to prepare Mapl-Flake. Some flaked foods, for the purpose of cheapness, are prepared in one-fourth that time. But the difference appears in the nourishment.

Mapl-Flake is the perfect food-the best food a child can have. So we make the child want it, in the interest of all concerned. That's why we use maple syrup.

Your grocer knows that Mapl-Flake is, by far, the best food that he sells.

These are regarded as the pi-votal cases in the entire controversy and an exhibition of bitterness is antiand an exhibition of bitterness is anti-cipated by the committee over their settlement. All of the nine districts in the state are contested, as well as the four delegates-at-large. The disputes are complicated by all sorts of angles and factional differences, and their im-portance is further increased by the fact that Alabama comes first in the roll of states. The issues in the state and that of the various districts are identical identical.

identical. There are two factions in Alabame Republican politics at present and both have sent complete sets of delegates, involving 22 seats in the convention. One of these is advocated by Julius W. Davidson and National Committeeman Oharles 'H. Scott, and the other by State Chairman J. O. Thompson. The claim of the Thompson faction is based on the argument that the organization of which he is state chairman is the same organization that was recognized by the national convention four years ago, and that it has since continued to the 'regular organization of Ala-bama.''

Comer and other Demo-cratic officials. The question was sub-mitted to a primary and as no Repub-licans presented themselves as candi-dates for any offices it was decided not to put a ticket in the field. National Committeeman Scott participated in the proceedings and decided not to be a candidate for the governorship, al-though many friends desired him to make the race. He made a speech in which he said he had concluded it would be inadvisable to do so.
