You ask how I Live!

BY JOSCOH HOBBINS. Living friendly, feeling friendly, Acting fairly to all men, Seeking to do that to others They may do to me again, Hating no man, scorning no man, Wronging none by word or dead; But forbearing, mothing, serving, Thus I live-and this my creed.

Harab condemning, fierce contemning, le of little t'hristian use, Que soft word of kindly peace Is worth a torrent of abuse; Cuiling things bad, calling men bad, Adds but darkness to their night, Ishou wouldst improve thy brother Let thy goodness be his light.

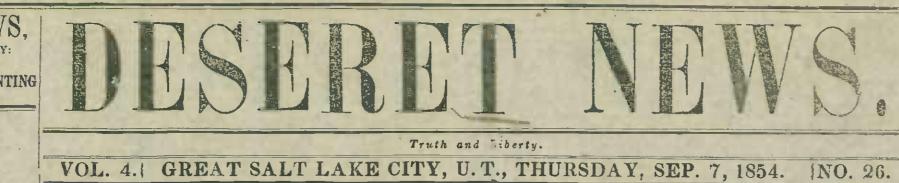

I have felt and known how bitter Human coldness makes the world, Eviry busom round me frazen.

Not an eye with pity pearled; Bill my heart with kindness teensing . Glads when other hearts are glad, And my eyes a tear drop findeth At the night of others sad.

Ah: be kind-life bath no secret For our hampiness like this; Kindly hearts are seldom and ones. Blessing over bringeth blim; Lend a helping hand to others, Smills though all the world should from Man is man, we all are brothers, Black or white or red of brown.

Man is man, through all gradations, Little rocks it where he stands, Scattered over many lands; Man is man by for.n and feature, Man by vice and virtue too, Blan in all one common nature dpaaks and blads us brothers true our dear friends? Parhape by another Sabbath many of us may be hid a uy, if not in the grave-yard, upon a bed of sickness. We cannot trust to the cortainty of mortal possessions; they are transitory, and a dependence upon them will plunge into hopeless disappointment all those who trust in them. When men act upon the principle which will secure to them changed the true the which will secure to them elernal salvation, they are sure of obtaining all their hearts' desire, soon-ar or later; if it does not come to-day, it may come to-morrow; if it does not come in this time, It will in the next. If people would contemplate the stupendons works of God, and be houest and candid in their investigations, there is much to be learned that would show them how comparatively worthless are earthly things. We see the spangled vault of the starry heavens stretched over us; but little is known of the wonders of the firmamout. Astron-omers have, by their researches, discovered some general facts that have proved useful and instruct-ing to the scientific portion of mankind. The phenomena of the motious of the heavenly hodies, and their times and seasons are understood pretty accurately. . But who knows what those distthe grand theatre of worlds?—who inhabits them, and who rules over them? Do they contain in-telligent beings, who are capable of the imppiness, light, glory, power, and eujoyments that satisfy the mind of an angel of God? W would Who can tell these things? Can they be discovered by the light of science? They cannot. Let every in-telligent person seriously contemplate this sub-ject, and let the true light of reason tiluminating the understanding, and a sound judgment inspired by the Spirit of Christ be your gukie, and what will be your conclusions? They will be what mine are—that the Lord Almighty reigns there; that his people are there, and that they are, or will acknowledge that the doctrine I taught you the other day is incorrect; and besides that, you will
