WALLA WALLA, July 14.—A special train consisting of seven cars, on the Union Pacific, passed through the city last night bearing companies B, C, D, E and F of the Fourteenth Infantry, from Vancouver, commanded by Lieutenant-Colonel Therker, comprising 250 men and bound for the Cœur d'Alene mines. Orders have been received at Fort Walla Walla from the department headquarters to have the troops in readiness to move to Cœur d'Alene on a moment's notice. Troops D and H, commanded by Captains Hayfield and Wiler, are ready and will be the first ones to leave for the scene of trouble.

THE CRISIS PASSED.

Sheriff Cunningham arrived here last night from Wardner. He was accompanied by the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mine force to Cataldo on the Union Pacific, where he met Colonel Carlin and troops and General Curtis. Then Curtis read the President's proclamation, declaring Shoshone county under martial law. The sheriff sent the following to General Carlin: Cataldo, Ida.: The miners have disbanded and gone to their respective homes. There is no trouble in Wallace or Wardner. The crisis has passed and peace once more reigns in Cœur d'Alene, but the past twenty-four hours have been the most trying Cœur d'Alene has ever experienced. Had the colored troops arrived at Wallace on Friday night there would have been a battle in the darkness among the clouds in the valley, as the mountains about Wallace are full of armed miners thoroughly concealed.

They did not want to fire on the troops unless in case of the utmost extremity, to prevent the troops from going to Wardner. The train with colored troops was delayed three hours. On reaching Mullan on Wednesday night it was found necessary to lay over till daybreak, probably because two bridges were burned this side of Mullan. When this became known, the miners withdrew from the hills and proceeded to Wardner. The colored troops had started for Wallace, but were suddenly recalled and returned to Missoula. Had these troops passed Wallace, it is hard to tell what would have happened. The Gem mill was magazzined and ready for the match and the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mill contained nearly a half a ton of powder with a fuse attached. Both mills were under strict guard and only as a last resort, the miners claim, would the match have been applied. Fortunately for all, the trouble did not need such extreme measures.

The miners kept close watch of the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mill, but when the mill was turned over to the company uninjured. The "scabs," as soon as they could be got to the depot, and all miners not belonging in Wardner, returned to Wallace and thence home.

The body of A. T. McDonald has been found in the debris of the Frisco mine. Abbott, the wounded man, was brought up from Mission and it is reported that twelve bodies have been found at the mouth of Fourth of July Canyon. The "scabs" from the Frisco and Gem mines left here by lake route on Tuesday morning with a guard. The boat not arriving, the guard at six p. m. ordered the "scabs" to walk through the Fourth of July canyon. It is stated the guard followed to the mouth of the canyon and when the "scabs" refused to walk any further, the guard shot them down. The report, however, lacks verification. Men have gone to Mission to verify the report and recover the bodies.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 14.—A special from Spokane says: General Carlen and infantry from Fort Sherman reached Wardner last night, and took possession of the town, and placed Spokane county under martial law. A score of refugees from the Mission slaughter strangled into town today.

They present a pitiable appearance with torn clothes and bruised bodies. They confirm the story of the slaughter. A report is in circulation that three thousand armed union men are on the way here from Montana and if the strikers are arrested blood is sure to flow.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14.—Telegrams received by Major General Schofield this afternoon show that the labor troubles in the Cœur d'Alene mining district are at an end for the present. The rioters have dispersed and the State authorities aided by Federal troops are in full possession of the field. General Schofield said tonight that people who are complaining because soldiers had not arrested the rioters had a very improper conception of the position of the troops in the matter. He explained that they were ordered there merely to support the civil authorities in the restoration of order and are acting altogether under the governor of the State. They had no independent functions whatever, and absolutely nothing to do with any disorders that may have occurred before their arrival. The duty of the civil authorities is to enforce the law, and all the troops could do was to protect them in so doing.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—J. J. Hammond, president of the Bunker Hill & Sullivan Mining Company, who is now in this city, said today that he had received telegrams stating that everything is quiet in the Cœur d'Alene district. Hammond said the directors of the company had not yet decided what course to take regarding the future working of the mines. The company had gone to great expense in erecting a mill and making other improvements, and the shutdown was much to their disadvantage.

G. R. Smith, who was sent by the executive committee of the Wallace Miners' union to prevent the importation into that section of non-union men, said that while the origin of the present trouble could have been directly traced to the demand for an increase of wages, which was unsuccessful, last year, the direct cause of the trouble was the revolt by the men against the hospital tax of $1 per month levied by the company, and which the miners claimed was not productive of assistance to them at the time whenever needed. The union built a hospital at Wallace and adopted a rule that $1 per month instead of being paid to the companies should be paid to the hospital. The Bunker Hill and Sullivan company refused to recognize the justice of this rule and a strike resulted in favor of the miners. Smith claims the reduction of wages then followed.

THE TROOPS IN POSSESSION.

SPOKANE, Wash., July 14.—A special to the Review just received says that the Cœur d'Alene country is now in control of the Federal authorities. Federal troops are in camp at nearly every important point. There was a general movement of troops this morning from Cataldo under the command of General Carlin. At noon today several companies from Vancouver and Fort Sherman arrived here and immediately went into camp. Inspector-General Curtis is in command, with Captain Judd as second officer. The town is now under martial law and a proclamation to the effect has been posted in all conspicuous places. Strikers have been orderly and quiet since the arrival of the troops.

Another Review special says: Wallace was in control of an armed rabid mob all night. The victory of the union at Wardner yesterday inflated the strikers with unusual excitement. Upon the arrival of the union men from Wardner yesterday many proceeded to get drunk. During the night the strikers held high carnival and ran things about as they pleased. This morning a number of scabs came down from the Granite mine to be paid off and leave the Cœur d'Alene. They went into the Wallace Bank to get their checks cashed, but a number of strikers marched boldly into the bank, hustled them out and ordered them to leave town. They hurried to the depot and got on a train. The strikers then marched back to the bank and told the officials that if all the scabs were not out of town in an hour the bank would be blown up with dynamite. The excitement caused was intense, and the miners became more arrogant. Committees waited upon several people and told them to leave town. Among those called upon were the clerk of the Pacific Hotel, the manager of Holly, Mason, Marks & Co. and other prominent people. Mayor Dunn dispatched a message to Colonel Carlin and troops were hurried into the town before all semblance of reason had fled. The message was no sooner wired than one of the strikers came to the telegraph office and drawing a rifle on the operator ordered him to send no more messages to Wardner. The troops are now here and the people are thankful once more for the safeguards of society, which are never fully appreciated until they are gone.

WARDNER, Idaho, July 15.—The military began to arrest the leaders of the Miners' union this afternoon. This is now going on in all the camps. Among those arrested is Tom O'Brien, president of the Miners' Central union. The taking of the coroner's testimony in relation to the bloody battle begins tomorrow.

SPOKANE, July 15.—The military has arrested Jack Wallace of Cataldo. He is suspected of being the ringleader in the Mission massacre. The troubled district is to be closed to travel, nobody being permitted to go through the country without a military passport. The strikers are still ordering spotted individuals out of the country, notwithstanding the military. The correspondents are especially objectionable. Ad-
