TRUTH AND LIBERTY.

VOL. I.

SALT LAKE CITY, MONDAY EVENING, MAY 4, 1868.

No. 140.

BREVITIES.

Why is a spider a good correspondent? Because he drops a line by every post.

He who gives himself airs of importance, exhibits the credentials of impotence.

All the Vicksburg papers have ceased to take telegraphic reports.

Russia forbids the manufacture or sale of colored sweetmeats. A good example.

Cincinnati claims more houses in proportion to population than any other city in the world.

The Scientific American thinks the vapor of carbolic acid a sure preventative for cholera.

The most influential man, is the man who has the ability as well as the courage to speak what he thinks, when occasion may require it.

In general, that man is a coward who shapes his course of action by his fears; and he alone is a man of real courage who dares to do right.

A young man who recently took to himself a wife says he didn't find it half so hard to get married as he did to get the furniture.

At an agricultural dinner a farmer present gave a toast:—"The game of fortune: shuffle the cards as you will, spades must win."

The total foreign trade of the United States is larger now than it was before the war: $720,000,000 in 1867 against $708,000,000 in 1860.

Prayer is ever profitable; at night it is our covering; in the morning it is our armor. Prayer should be the key of the day and the lock of the night.

Of the expenditures of the French Government, it is said that out of every 10,000 francs 235 francs are spent on the army and navy, and but 11 francs on public education.

To be always contented, consider that you will never in this life be free from annoyances, and that you may as well bear them patiently as fret about them.

A lady asked a noted doctor if he did not think the small pox the ladies were had a tendency to produce congestion of the brain. "Oh, no," replied the doctor, "ladies who have brains don't wear them!"

Balzac says women at forty-five often have newer and stronger affections than ever before, and that their love is deeper and more disinterested than when they are young.

Thomas G. Appleton, of Berlin, has paid $750 for a silver dollar of the coinage of 1864. There were but three coined that year.

A Western editor once wrote: "A correspondent asks whether the battle of Waterloo occurred before or after the Christian era. We answer it did."

Freiligrath, the greatest of the living poets of Germany, is a fat old gentleman, and for many years has been a cashier of a bank in London.

An American lecturer most solemnly said one evening: "Parents, you may have children, or if you have not, your daughters may have."

L. Uhlyaz, a compatriot of Kossuth, and Governor of Comora during the Hungarian struggle in 1848, presided at a Republican Convention held in San Antonio, Texas, a few days ago.

A merchant in Ripley, Tennessee, thought to play a practical joke on his clerk by "playing robbery." He broke into his own store, where the clerk fired through the door, severely wounding the merchant.

Words are little things, but they strike hard. We wield them so easily that we are apt to forget their hidden power. Fitly spoken, they fall like the sunshine, the dew, and the rain—but when unfitly, like the frost, the hail, and the desolate tempest.

A cow in Illinois died suddenly the other day, without any apparent cause. She was opened, and it was discovered that she had been in the hardware business. Thirteen ounces of nails, together with a lot of brass pins and brass buttons were found in her stomach. She milked carpet tacks.

Suppose a man owns a skiff; he fastens the skiff to the shore with a rope made of straw; along comes a cow; cow gets into the boat; turns around and eats the rope; the skiff this let loose, with the cow on board, starts down stream, and on its passage is upset; the cow is drowned. Now, has the man that owns the cow got to pay for the boat, or the man that owns the boat got to pay for the cow?

Lace may be restored to its original whiteness, by first ironing it slightly, then folding it and sewing it into a clean linen bag, which is placed for twenty-four hours in pure olive oil. Afterwards the bag is boiled in a solution of soap and water for fifteen minutes, then well rinsed in lukewarm water, and finally dipped in water containing a slight proportion of starch. The lace is then taken from the bag and stretched on pins to dry.

The Nashville Press reports that the Ku Klux Klan was conceived and organized in the city of New York by Tennessee Conservatives. It was first put into practical working in Pulaski, Tenn., and was in full play there some months since, at the time of the riot. After that it spread rapidly, and became very popular among the young rebels of the State. Since the killing of the Anna Blair, while on a Ku Klux raid one night, there has been, throughout Middle Tennessee, a wonderful falling off in the number of midnight expeditions. As soon as they became convinced, through the death of one of their number, and the rough usage sustained by one or two others, that there was danger in the business, it has fallen to a discount.
