IN CONGRESS.

Senator German Objects to the Joint Resolution.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—In the meantime, as soon as the journal of yesterday was read, German moved to correct it by striking out the words: "A Michigan motion, yesterday, to proceed to a vote of censure on the Senate, and that the debate was determined in the affirmative." He asserted that no ballot occurred and that the vote was never taken. He read from the record, however, his motion to adjourn, and his belief that the Senate would not permit a Journal to stand which declared a falsehood.

The Chicago and New York F.P.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—General Manager Tolson of the Chicago and New York, admitted this morning that the road is practically tied up by the strike of the train dispatchers. The only thing he could do was to send the mail for Columbus, Ohio, on board of a New York train, and one or two freight trains, everything is tied up on the division of the road.

Senator Cannon Said to Have Kept Silver Bustos.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Senator Vest justified before the Silver Pool Committee that Senator Cannon had held that he bought and sold silver after the market closed, and that he might be thought he had a perfect right to do so, because it was after the vote and would not influence his action.

Voxibus Elected.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 21.—The Legislature in joint session today elected D. W. Voxibus, United States Senator.

Legislative Ghost Dances.

This is the great year for legislatures and gubernatorial chairs. Colorado's session came a little late but it is sufficient to say that it is short. There are two speakers in the House, two full sets of officers, a body guard of forty sheriffs for one speaker and two who are to speak for the other. This will make extraordinary scenes and school histories in the future, but it is disgusting now. We should be inferior to the "Western" but for the condition of the other states. At least New Hampshire and Connecticut settle their disputes without the aid of either. It remains for Nebraska and Colorado to prove governors and legislatures will bayonet.—Deseret.

IN MINNEAPOLIS.

A Glance at its Progress, Manufactures and Public Institutions.—"Journal's Column."

Correspondence DESERET NEWS.

During the past few weeks I have visited many cities.

The attractions of Minneapolis, the twin city of the north and metropolis of Minnesota, induced a few days ago.

Since it was first settled in 1856 this city has had a remarkable growth. Soldiers were first attracted by the great Falls of St. Anthony and the unimpeded water power, the thickly wooded forests of pine trees to the north and west, and the hundreds of streams flowing through the pine regions and emptying into the Mississippi, which would at the beginning be the sole outlet for the saw mills. Ten cities in Minnesota have a population of over 50,000, and Minneapolis leads in the race with 100,000. It is impossible to fully describe the city in a brief article. A number of beautiful lakes extend along the southwestern boundary, and across the southern boundary to the romantic Minnesota Creek, which terminates Mississippi in the forest Minneapolis Park.

This is the skating season, and though the temperature is 20 degrees below zero, the sailing trains are as heavily laden as our Garfield Beach trains in summer. Many groups of skaters hang over their shoulders, ardently crowding along, intent upon a few hours of healthful recreation and enjoyment on the frozen lakes and rivers.

Minneapolis is the educational center of the Northwest, and the public school system is over 100 years old. Over 10,000 teachers are employed.

Of course there is the University of Minnesota here, and the head of the educational institutions.

The city boasts of its architectural beauty and may certainly be proud of its buildings.

The chief industry is the flouring trade.

Minnesota flour mills are well known the world over.

The largest flouring mill in the world is located here.

It has a daily capacity of 2,000 barrels.

Two or three large mills are engaged with an aggregate total of 30,000 barrels.

The flour is shipped to all parts of the Union, and a large percentage of it is exported to foreign countries annually.

This article would be incomprehensible without some reference to the lumber industry. Minneapolis is intended this site for a great lumber manufacturing point. Hundreds of factories have been erected for the purpose of utilizing the immense supplies of the great furniture is manufactured here.

Twenty-eight of the Indian tribes are now standing on the side of the rebellion.

It is said that the Indians are numbered at 10,000.

They are now in the vicinity of the Sioux.
