From Washington.—In the house of representatives on the 9th ult., Hon. J. M. Bernhisel, delegate from Utah, presented the Constitution of the state of Deseret, and the memorial accompanying it, asking for admission into the Union on an equal footing with the original states, which were received and referred to the committee on territories. On the 10th, the vice president presented the same in the senate, when Mr. Latham, moved to print the Constitution and memorial, and to admit the senators-elect, Messrs. W. H. Hooper and G. Q. Cannon to the floor of the senate, which motion was referred to the committee on territories in that branch of the national legislature. The next day Mr. Latham offered a resolution to admit Messrs. Hooper and Cannon, claiming to be senators from Deseret, to the floor of the senate, which was laid over. It will be remembered that the senators from California, Messrs. Latham and McDougal, were on the only members who voted "nay" on the passage of the polygamy bill, so called.

Eighty-sixth Anniversary.—Preamble and resolutions, passed by the city council of Great Salt Lake City, June 28, 1862. Whereas, While we learned the deplorable condition of our once happy country, the independence of which was purchased by the best blood of our sires; we hail with pleasure the approaching anniversary of the birth-day of the nation, and in view of perpetuating our free and liberal institutions, which have for so long a time inspired the patriotism of every American citizen and the strangers of other climes who have sought an asylum under the protecting wings of our glorious Constitution; therefore,

Resolved, That we celebrated the eighty-sixth anniversary of our national independence.

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed, in behalf of the city council, to arrange the program and order of celebration.

Resolved, That Lieut.-Gen. Wells and staff will be respectfully solicited to cooperate in the celebration of the day, with such of the military of the district and the several bands, as may be deemed proper.

Resolved, That the state, federal, territorial and county officers be invited to take part in the celebration and join in the procession, and that the invitation be extended to strangers and the citizens generally to participate in the ceremonies at the bower.

The following appointments for the occasion were then made, viz: Committee on Arrangements—Messrs. William Clayton, J. C. Little, Theodore McKean, Enoch Reese and Nathaniel H. Felt.

Furnishing Committee—Alonzo H.

Halich, Elijah F. Sheets, and Isaac Grob.
Marshals of the Day—Col. Robert T. Burton and Maj. John Sharp and Andrew Cunningham.

More Difficulties East.—From information furnished us by Mr. Stickney of the telegraph office, we learn with regret of additional difficulties on the mail route, about 12 miles east of the Pacific Springs.

The difficulty commenced on Saturday afternoon, in a fight between a company of United States Sixth Iowa volunteers, under Lieut. Glenn, and a large number of Sioux and Cheyennes, variously reported from 400 to 1,000. In that brush, Lieut. Glenn lost two men, and the Indians one, on the field. A company of emigrants were afterwards permitted peacefully to pass over the scene of strife, to whom the Indians declared their intentions of cutting down the telegraph line, which threat has evidently been put into execution, as the line has not worked further east since that time.

Col. Collins, in command of the Iowa volunteers, got up to the scene of the difficulty on Sunday morning, and tried to cross to the Indians on the mountains on the opposite side of Sweetwater; but his command could not swim the river.

The operator at the springs left yesterday morning, under escort, to repair the wire if possible; but, up to going to press, we have heard nothing further. It is hoped that this will not be a lengthened interruption of either the telegraph or mail.

A CONGRESSMAN'S SHOES.

An apt illustration of distinction without a difference occurred recently in a Washington shoe shop, according to the story Congressman Sulzer tells on one of his colleagues.

Mr. Sulzer's friend, it seems, has been a great sufferer from rheumatism, so that one foot has been affected by it and has become a trifle smaller than the other. He ordered his shoes made accordingly. His directions were obeyed, but when he visited the shop to try them on he picked up the small shoe first and attempted to get it on the larger foot.

"Look here," he exclaimed, in a burst of petulance, "I told you to make one shoe larger than the other; instead of that you have made one smaller than the other!"

WORKED MORGAN'S WATERLOO.

JOSEPH BRUCE ISMAY.

Joseph Bruce Ismay, the young Englishman, and son of the founder of the White Star line, is the man who worked J. Pierpont Morgan's first Waterloo in the Atlantic shipping trust, known as the Mercantile Marine company. Mr. Ismay is a typical Englishman in all save one particular—his ability to hustle. In this respect he is more like the average American business man.

PARALYZED THE AUDIENCE.

When Colonel "Jack Haverly" was in the heyday of his career the minstrel show at his Fourteenth Street theater was an institution of national prominence. The Wednesday matinee there was the "trying out" performance, when applicants for engagements were given an opportunity to appear and show what they could do. Someone had enlisted Mrs. Haverly's interest in a team of young clog dancers and she induced the Colonel to let them go on. When they did their "turn" they "proved" to be, in the theatrical parlance of today, "the worst ever." They could scarcely dance at all and there was not the slightest hint of applause. The audience was as still as a church congregation. Naturally the Colonel was indignant and Mrs. Haverly was deeply mortified.

At the end of the performance the young dancers went to the Colonel's office.

"Well boys," said he, trying not to be harsh, "you did your turn. You had your dance—but I can't engage you."

"Why not?"

"Because you didn't get a hand."

"Oh, I know that," spoke up the smallest one; "we just paralyzed them."

On the strength of that answer, according to Mr. Alf Hayman, who was present the Colonel then and there engaged them as members of his famous double act of dancers.

FRANCIS G.

Of Salt Lake. Manages the Most Successful Collection
Agency in the United States

The Merchants' Protective Association of Salt Lake has the record for a higher percentage of successful collections on bad or delinquent accounts than any similar institution in the country. The Association is thoroughly and completely organized, with ramifications in every section of the United States. It is thoroughly conversant with every method of collection and has in many instances collected accounts of sixteen years standing. As an instance, in February we collected $107.20 for Barnes, Hardy & Co. that had ten years' mildew on it.

The reputation of this Association for successful collections is a byword among Salt Lake business men. "Send it to Luke" means virtually that an account will be collected. To get the greatest good of the organization, become a member. The Rating Book is gratis and in addition members are entitled to free collections.

How an Engineer
Saved a Child's Life

Special Correspondence.

From Wichita, Kansas.

Mr. Joseph Tack, living at 423 W. 2nd Street, this city, one of the oldest and best known engineers in the State of Kansas, tells an interesting story in which he saved the life of Mary, the beautiful child of section foreman Wade Roy. Mary was sweet company for her mother, and she always ran with smiling and joyful glee to meet her father as he came from work, and her happy disposition banished any cares or worries that he may have had.

For two months little Mary lay at the point of death. The family physician had called in consultation three of the most skilled of his professional brothers. These good doctors did all in their power, with not a spark of improvement in Mary's condition. They lost all hope, and told the mother that her little darling could not live.

The Rescue as Told by the Engineer

A year ago I was troubled so with my stomach I thought I had cancer. One Sunday afternoon I had such pain I could hardly stand it. I was at Wichita, where we had three hours' lay over before going to Selina. I went to Arch McVicar's drug store, and asked for a dose of Bromo Soda. He said that would only help for a few minutes and recommended Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for a permanent cure. I bought a bottle and had immediate relief. I took four bottles and am cured entirely. I have run a locomotive engine for twenty-eight years, twenty-five of that time on passenger, where we only have twenty minutes for meals. That is what ruins railroad men's stomachs; that is why I thought it my duty to tell you about this medicine, so that my brothers could be relieved in case of trouble of this kind.

I have been a B. L. E. for twenty-seven years; run on Mo. P. R. R. twenty years; am known nearly all over Kansas. About a year ago, now, our section foreman, Wade Roy, from Ruella, told me his little girl had cholera infantum, and was given up by three doctors. While I lay at Ruella I bought a new bottle of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, and while sitting in the coach I read a testimonial where children had been cured by taking twenty drops when doctors had given them up, so I poured half of my new bottle in the old one, and when I got back to Ruella, I stopped the engine in front of the section house and gave him the bottle and told him to read the circular and use his own judgment, that the medicine had cured me. Next morning he was at Anthony smiling and said the child was better from the first dose. In two weeks she was up and running around, and a more grateful family was never seen. With best wishes I remain,

JOS. TACK, Engineer Mo. P. R. R., 423 W. 2nd St., Wichita, Kansas.
