AMUSEMENTS.

Theater—Miss Jane Corcoran being sandwiched in between two such notable attractions as Willie Collier and Digby Bell could not fail to feel the squeeze, and the attendance last night at her presentation of "The Freedom of Susanne" was distressingly light.
It grew lighter still before the three acts came to an end. The play is an absurd attempt at a blending of the comic and the serious, and could not be made a success if every member of its cast were the star of the most luminous results were anything but brilliant. The lady herself is a hardworking, pains-taking little actress, and she was well supported by Mr. Brophy in the absurdly impossible role of the husband. In other surroundings these two might have given a good account of themselves, but in such a play they were simply submerged.

Digby Bell in "The Education of Mr. Pipp," will open his engagement at the Theater tonight. Mr. Bell's own popularity and the wide fame of the book ought to insure him a handsome audience.

The Stewart Opera company's sale opened today, and seats will be on sale for the remainder of the week, for all of next week's performances.

Orpheum—Tonight is society night at the State street vaudeville house and several parties have been made up for the occasion.

Grand—Of "Shadows of Sin," presented at the Grand last night, little in the way of praise, can be consecutiously said of either play or players.
Those of the audience who remained until the close were restless and disappointed. The company played to much better advantage when here a short time ago. In the meantime it seems to have lost some of its best players, and the former between-act performances were entirely lacking last night. The same bill finishes the week, with the usual Saturday matinee.

The next attraction at the Grand will be "Girl of the Streets," with Miss Katherine Crego at the head of a company of 14.

Lyric—The final performance of "A Millionaire's Wife" will be given this evening. Tomorrow afternoon "The Power of Truth" forms the bill.

ACCIDENT IN FLAG RUSH.

The annual flag rush between sophomores and freshmen at the University of Utah, occurred this afternoon at 1 o'clock. The freshmen won, coming out at the end of the battle with over 30 hands on the flag, to 29 for their opponents. The time was 10 minutes, and there was no display of brutality or roughness, although one sophomore received a dislocated arm.

The classes came together on the football oval while spectators thronged the bleachers. About 50 freshmen and 40 sophomores went into the scrimmage at a given signal. Fred Bennion was referee, Richards and Herbst umpires, and Snow and Hills, time keepers. The sophomore flag men were Gardner, Shorman, and Hennessey, and the freshmen Tracy, Thurston and Groesbeck.

Training table assignments were made for ten men today. More will be added as they qualify for positions.

PRIMARY OFFICERS' MEETING.

A meeting of Primary officers—general, state and local—will be held in the Assembly hall Saturday, Oct. 6, immediately at the close of the afternoon session of the general conference.
All interested are invited.

LOUIE B. FELT, President.
OLIVE E. CHRISTENSEN, Secretary.

DAMN THE LEADERS,
HONEY THE PEOPLE

That is the Instruction Given to American Party Spielers and Spellbinders.

IN CAMPS OF OLD PARTIES.

Positive Assurances Given, Out Today That Labor Will Surely Put a Ticket in the Field.

The biggest question under discussion in American headquarters today is how to corral and tie down a winning percentage of the Mormon vote. American spellbinders have been instructed to be careful above all things not to say one word against the Mormon people.
Denounce the leaders—yes, but spill all the honeyed eloquence in the pot on the heads of the people, who are urged and begged to stand out from under and deliver their votes to the Thomas Kearns machine, only to not known by that name.

In Democratic headquarters the Mormon vote is asked for on the grounds of giving "Common Sense a Chance." County Chairman Cunningham was to convert the voters, he declares, by their own firesides, with calm logic and reason. He has brought technical language into politics by styling a recent Republican editorial appeal for votes, as "Emotional Insanity," and declaring against any of it in his campaign.

Col. Squires is the man who sits at the desk in Republican headquarters and meets the cohorts who assemble. Let anyone mistake him for just a common secretary, and look beyond for the man who can lay down the law of the campaign. Briant S. Young is installed in an adjoining room as "assistant secretary" with a glad hand for the visitors while Secy. Squires is busy.

Squires is in the campaign to fight, and he took his lessons while in the Civil war. He doesn't hesitate to say that he wants the Mormon vote in his party, because he wants to see his party down the Kearns machine above everything else, and prevent the state reaching the catastrophe of another six years in the senate for T. K. His appeal is a straight out-and-out appeal on the grounds of self interest against a foe who is painted as a fiery demon prepared to gobble up all unsuspecting Mormons, and drive out with his fiery breath all those whom he cannot deceit.

As for Chairman Martineau, he was too busy to think of vote getting today. His particular woe was a coming Democratic state convention for which he is shouldering the responsibility of preliminary preparation.

Martineau submitted his plans to his executive committee last night and they were approved, calling for James H. Moyle as temporary chairman, and the nomination of Judge O. W. Powers for Congress by acclamation, followed by constant hurrahing in which Judge Powers will slip in a speech burning over with reasons why the Democracy should win. The temporary organization will probably not be made permanent more speeches are desired, and Judge William H. King will have a chance to speak on living issues as permanent chairman. He will not be requested, however, to extend his remarks to include an opinion of the Hon. William Jennings Bryan.

LABOR TICKET GOING UP.

The Labor ticket will be put up at the mass meeting called for Sunday morning. Labor leaders who lead for the good of labor rather than to pull down good cash bargains by delivering the labor vote, are in earnest in the matter, and a promise was made a "News" reporter by a prominent leader today that if he would come to the mass meeting Sunday he would find a determined set of men there, ready to stand by their colors and put up a ticket regardless of Kearns money and Kearns "dumplings" in the mass meeting. The labor man said that he knew the sentiment of real labor people too well to be deceived in the mass meeting by the opinions or sentiments of any hired Kearns claqueurs.
