

CLIPPINGS.

—It is proposed that the Pope shall remove to the Castle Gondolfo, and that Italy, France, Belgium, Spain, Portugal, Germany and the Brazils shall each contribute fifty thousand crowns annually for his support.

—In the town of Concord, Mass., according to the recent census returns, there are annually manufactured 100,000 pails and 75,000 tubs worth $94,000; 2,900 gross of pencils, worth $4,000; 2,000 packs of gold leaf, worth $14,000.

—Two German chemists, working together in their laboratory at Heidelberg, have analyzed the body of the sun! Fabulous as it may seem, this is literally true. They arrived at the results of their analysis solely by close examination of the rays of light. By this means it is ascertained, in a manner quite convincing to those who have witnessed the experiments, that the body of the sun contains large portions of iron and other metals and earths common to this globe of ours.

—A genius out west was invited to take a game of poker, but he refused, saying: "No, I thank 'ee. I played poker all one summer, and had to wear nankeen pants all the next winter. I have had no taste for the amusement since."

—Ten ships of the line, seventeen frigates, eighteen sloops, and about twenty small craft, constitute the whole of the British navy now propelled by sails. Upwards of five hundred and sixty others are steamers.

—Mr. Petherick, British Consul at Khartoum, Africa, under the auspices of the Geographical Society, is about to start on an expedition from Khartoum direct South, in the hope of meeting Capt. Speke, another distinguished traveler, who is to leave Zanzibar, and push his way North to that immense lake lately discovered, and which is now supposed forms the source of the Nile. The discoveries of Livingstone have given a great interest to this portion of Africa also, and its fondly hoped that Petherick and Peke's expedition may unravel all the mysteries which have surrounded that wonderful river for scores of centuries.

—The governmental expenditures of Great Britain are £215,000, more than a million of dollars, per day. The people consume seven hundred thousand dollars of food per day, more than their soil produces.

—A clergyman at the West insured his MSS. sermons in the Aetna Insurance Co., some ten years ago. In moving into another house, his log hut, in which the MSS. sermons were left behind, was burnt. He went to the Company for the Insurance money, which was refused, and an action resulted. The defense was that the sermons were valueless. The clergyman produced witnesses who testified that the sermons had done them good; and the jury gave a verdict of $2,000.

—Religious liberty of the most unrestricted character has been proclaimed at Naples. All former concordats and treaties with Rome are abrogated, and ecclesiastical power is limited to the punishment of ecclesiastical offences merely.

—The velocity of the electric current is estimated by Wheatstone to be 288,000 miles per second.

—Thackeray has become rich, keeps his carriage, and gives large entertainments. Oliphant is Consul-General in Japan, Crowe is in the same capacity at Leipsic, and Tom Taylor has a fat secretaryship at home. Literature is getting to be a ladder of some height.

—The Boston Post says that there are more sinners now seeking "Abraham's bosom" than have before been on the anxious seat for some years.

—An English traveler writing from Russia, says of it, that the "civilization is small, bribery and corruption are deemed only finesse, religion is a superstition and morality a myth!"

—Dr. Van Hunn, a surgeon under General Jackson, and an old Ohio pioneer, died at Zanesville, recently, aged 85 years.

—The Necropolis Company of London advertise to bury a person in a "first-class manner complete," for eighty-six dollars, and if of "seventh" rate class, for eleven dollars twenty-five cents—graves included. It is cheaper to die in London than New York.

—Newstead Abbey, the patrimony and nursing place of Lord Byron, was recently sold to William Frederick Webb, formerly an officer in the 17th Lancers, for $900,000. The purchase money does not include the timber, $40,000; the furniture $23,500, or the library and pictures $15,000.

—The New York World says that a somewhat novel wedding took place at the Church of the Holy Trinity, in Brooklyn, on Tuesday evening, March 5th. Ten married sisters appeared, with their husbands, and a small army of children, to celebrate the marriage of the eleventh sister.

—Beecher says of pulpits tobacco worms: If there ever was a weed whose roots went down till they drew sap from below, that is tobacco! A snuffing, smoking, chewing, spitting minister, ought to have a church in a spitbox! He is not fit to stand in ordinary congregations, nor to live in ordinary families! He that hath ears, let him hear.
