The Motion Refused.

COLUMBIA, 26.—The petition to the Supreme Court to remove, quo warranto, the proceedings by the Tilden electors against the Hayes electors, in South Carolina, was decided, to-day. Justice Willard delivered the opinion of the court, refusing the motion to remove the case to the United States Circuit court under the act of Congress of 1875.

Seizure of Tobacco.

CLEVELAND, O., 26.—The United States Marshal, to-day, seized $14,000 worth of tobacco belonging to four different firms, in New York, Scoville & Co., of that city, being one of the parties most interested. The goods have been shipped C. O. D. to Schuneman & Co., of Detroit, but were rebilled at Buffalo to E. Dall, Cleveland.

Body Found.

CHEYENNE, 26.—Joseph Davis started out hunting from Terris mine, near Rawlins, a week ago. His partner became anxious on account of his prolonged absence, and started to hunt for him, and found his body, his thigh joint being dislocated and the leg broken in two places. Near him he found a vial which had contained strychnine. It is thought he had fallen and broken his leg, and, after several days suffering, in despair he had taken the poison to end his misery.

Washington Gossip.

WASHINGTON, 26.—The Florida supreme court's mandate for a new canvass by the returning board is the chief topic in Washington political circles to-day. The republicans deny that it refers to, or can possibly have any bearing on, the presidential electors. Alexander H. Stephens and some other prominent democrats, while admitting that, under the federal constitution, no electoral college can cast its vote after the first Wednesday in December, and, therefore, no new electoral college can be constituted for Florida, insist that in case the court declares the returning board's previous election illegal, no electoral votes whatever can be counted from Florida, and that such a reduction of the total number of electoral votes from 369 to 365 will make Tilden's undisputed 184 votes a constitutional majority sufficient to elect him.

The democratic leaders have instructed Cronin not to deliver the Oregon certificates at all, the purport being to prevent the count of the electoral votes from Oregon, and then to claim that either 184 is the constitutional majority, or else that the presidential election has been thrown into the House of Representatives.

No Power to Excuse.

Speaker Randall has not replied to the letter of Orton, published this morning. The Speaker, in course of conversation, said he had no power to excuse, it was for the House to determine what action should be taken.

Another Programme.

NEW ORLEANS, 25.—The republicans are already taking steps to prevent the democrats from getting possession of the State House. They have barricaded all the windows and doors, except the two principal entrances, and placed a guard of metropolitan police there. The republicans say the democratic programme is for Wiltz, the democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor, to take possession of the Senate Chamber and that failing in this, the next step will be to organize the democratic Senate in another building; but this will fail, as there are six democratic Senators who will not consent to the result. Nicholls will be simply inaugurated, and then go home.

The Investigation Committees.

Before the House and Senate investigation committees a number of witnesses were examined in relation to the charges of fraud, intimidation and violence at the late presidential election, whose testimony was condemnatory of both sides. One witness testified that the campaign was actively conducted by the negroes assisting the one side as much as the other. He said the republicans first began organizing in clubs, and the democrats followed through fear and for protection against the incursions by the United States troops. It was also shown by the evidence that too much whiskey had been imbibed by the officers conducting the election.

Stearns Says the Election is Settled.

TALLAHASSE, 26.—Gov. Stearns says the decision of the Supreme Court settles the election question in this State, and he has advised the canvassing board to obey the orders of the court. Secretary of State Lilien notifies the other members of the board to meet in his office at 11 to-morrow, to canvass, according to the court's mandate.

The First Shot the Beginning of the End.

The Times, in a leader, concludes that the Porte may rest assured that the first shot fired in defense of the united demands of Europe would be the beginning of the end. Neither England nor any other Power would interpose to save it from ruin. It might have more foes than Russia.

The Occupation Scheme, etc.

The Paris correspondent of the Times gives a detailed account of the occupation scheme, derived from authentic sources, showing that considerable concessions have been made to the Turkish sensibilities in this particular. According to the scheme a corps of military will be recruited from the volunteers of the neutral states, and will be under the orders of the governors of the provinces. They will wear badges, be paid by Turkey or the reformed provinces, and constitute a reinforcement of the Turkish police. It is feared Turkey will resist nearly all the proposed reforms which the Powers consider as a minimum they are entitled to demand.

It is thought that Elliot, the British Ambassador, favors resistance on the part of Turkey, and his departure from Constantinople is considered as reassuring for peace.

About the Eastern Question.

The Daily Telegraph's correspondent at Pera, says Midhat Pasha, at an interview with Lord Salisbury, refused to accept the proposition for an international commission to superintend the reforms. Lord Salisbury telegraphed for a steamer to be held in readiness to convey him to Athens if the Porte should continue unyielding.

Great quantities of arms and ammunition have been received from America. The temper of the population is warlike, and the situation critical.

On Saturday the Softas made a demonstration before the Russian embassy by shouting, "Down with Russia."

Russian steamers have ceased running on the Black Sea.

MEXICO.

Strength of the Two Forces.

CITY OF MEXICO, 9.—The Iglesias government is established at Queretaro. The States of Guanajuato, Queretaro, Ajuas, Calientes, Zacaticas, Durango, San Luis Potosi, Jalisco, Colima, Sonora, Sinaloa, and Tobasco recognize Iglesias. The States of Mexico, Hidalgo, Pueblo, Vera Cruz and Oaxaca are occupied by Diaz. Iglesias had about 12,000 good troops, while Diaz has 18,000 of every grade, but is well provided with artillery, in which Iglesias is deficient. On the sixth inst., 6,000 men, with twenty field howitzers and ten rifled cannon left Mexico for Queretaro. Iglesias has about 7,000 troops in Queretaro, with six pieces of artillery and a force suficient to garrison the place, which is strong and easily defended. All parties are anxious to be recognized by the United States. Gen. Diaz was to leave on the 10th for the army, and confer his authority of acting president upon a celebrated Indian.

Wreck and Loss of Life.

ST. JOHN, N. B., 26. — The schooner Castello from this port for New York, was wrecked on Sunday at South Harbor and the crew of five men perished.

Burning of the St. Elizabeth Convent and Loss of Life.

JOLIETTE, QUEBEC, 26. — One hundred persons were in the Convent of St. Elizabeth when it was burned last night. Nine children were suffocated, and their bodies were recovered this morning. Four more children are reported missing.

8.45.—At the inspection last night, there were no signs of fire, and at 9.20, when all were abed, the building was burning so rapidly that none of the occupants had time to clothe themselves. The fire probably originated between the floors. There were forty-eight boarders in the Convent, thirteen perished in the flames.

At one o'clock eight bodies have been recovered, all burned to a crisp. Some of the parents were present, seeming to recognise their children by the fragments of clothing clinging to the bodies. Elizabeth Gravel, one of the victims, was out of the Convent while it was burning, but re-entered to render assistance. The Sister Superior perished in remaining in the Convent to save the children who only escaped with difficulty.

A Coroner's inquest has been begun.

The convent was situated at St. Elizabeth, nine miles from Joliett, and was under the management of the Sisters of the Providence community. The building formed two wings, the Sisters and fifty lady boarders occupying one, while the other was occupied by some fifty orphans and infirm persons. The structure was wood, and there being no fire apparatus in the village, the fire could not be checked. Nothing was saved from the building. Insurance $24,000.

Correspondence.

The Centennial — Girard College—Independence Hall—Other Places—Rich and Poor—Police—Street Cars—Railroads and Telegraph Lines—Academic School—Many Mussers, Etc.

STRASBURG, Lancaster Co., Pa., Dec. 14th, 1876.

Editor Deseret News:

I wrote you a short time ago from Wilkesbarre. Since then I have visited Philadelphia and remained there three days with Elder Henry Grow, putting up at the hospitable house of his nieces, the Mrs. Rapp and Kuipe, whose husbands and selves were very kind.

The Centennial buildings and grounds are being rapidly denuded, yet a great many very interesting objects remained to be seen, and were well worth the trouble and the quarter it cost for admission.

Girard College should never be passed by the sight-seeker in Philadelphia. It is a fine and imposing marble pile, representing a Grecian temple. From its grand marble roof the "City of Brotherly Love" can be seen to very good advantage. A peculiarity singularly significant is that part of Mr. Girard's will which reads as follows:

"No ecclesiastic, missionary, or minister of any [sect whatsoever, shall ever be admitted, for any purpose, or as a visitor, within the premises appropriated to the purposes of said college."

At the College gate we learned that no one could enter except by special permit of some director. Just then Judge Campbell, a director, came up, and on learning our wish admitted us without asking anything about our calling. In the first inner court there is a marble statute of Stephen Girard, back of which rest his remains in a marble sarcophagus. The forty acres of ground on which the college and numerous other adjuncts stand is surrounded by a high capped stone wall. Orphan boys only from Pennsylvania are admitted and can remain from eight to eighteen years. The present buildings will accommodate nearly 600. No girls are admitted. Mr. Girard died in 1831.

Independence Hall and its quaint old furniture, cracked bell, portraits of illustrious personages, and numerous other centennial relics, were rare objects of great interest.

The Acadamy of natural sciences, established in 1812, the U. S. Mint, the markets, the public libraries, Continental Hotel, Wanamaker's Emporium with its 700 operatives, 400 of which are females, the promenade all day, gay and festive, of high and lofty ladies and gentlemen, Chestnut Market, Eighth and other streets, must be seen to be understood or appreciated. The giddy heights of fashion and luxury flaunted on the one hand, and the terrible suffering and squalid poverty on the other, stand out in forcible and sad contrast. One who has been raised in Philadelphia told me that when the weather is at all seasonable men, women, boys and girls sleep in promiscuous huddles, on the side walks, cellar doors and passage ways, from one month to another, on Bainbridge and Seventh streets.

The policemen of Philadelphia are always in livery, when on duty, and those of Chestnut and Market streets are large and muscular men. Some of the street cars run all night. The usual fare is seven cents, night fare is ten cents. It is a significant comentary to notice the numerous chenks, registers, and other devices to prevent the conductors of street cars from defrauding their employers. Some of the cars have a toll box in which the passengers are by notice instructed to deposit their exact fares. In these boxes were found about the opening of the centennial "bushels" of spurious nickels. In Pennsylvania it costs three to three and a half cents per mile to ride on railroads. Further south the cost on some roads is five cents per mile.

The W. U. Telegraph lines and offices are met with in every city, town and R. R. station. In Philadelphia I counted eighty odd wires on the same poles. Nowhere have I seen better lines than these belonging to the Deseret Co. and in no city, including Chicago, can be found such fine poles or a better constructed line than those in Salt Lake City.

Yesterday, by invitation of Prof. Charles B. Keller, of the Academic School of this place, we paid a second visit to his school, and by earnest entreaty I addressed the students of the four departments separately. The four lady preceptresses presiding over the several divisions expressed pleasure and thanks at what they had been listening to. My remarks were historical, geographical and incidental. Mr. Keller expressed himself entirely pleased and gratified with my remarks. The school numbers some 250 students. The building is large and well adapted for the purpose, and was built at a cost of $15,000.

I have been invited to preach in the Town Hall next Saturday evening. I expect a large attendance, as the invitation has come from the most influential townspeople.

Last Saturday and Sunday the mercury went down to zero.

I have found a great many Mussers in this county, and so far as we can trace out the race we conclude that all are from one and the same Germanic stock. Nearly 33 per cent. of the adult men are practising physicians.

Elder Neff is here. I expect Elder Whitney in a day or two.

With reciprocal prayers for Zion and all her vital interests, I remain. Respectfully, &c.,

A. MILTON MUSSER.

HOLIDAY RAMBLES.

LITTLE JOHNNY is a year older than he was last holiday season, and his powers of observation have increased with a year's growth. He has been the round of the central part of the City, being directed by the numerous advertisements that he has observed at different times in the NEWS to where he could see the best holiday sights, and where people can make the choicest seasonable purchases.

Last night, while sitting near a cozy fire, surrounded by his mother and brothers and sisters, by unanimous request of the family, he told them what he had seen in his rambles. The first place I dropped into, said he, was

Z. C. M. I., and if I was in the habit of going into extacies it would be at such sights as I saw there. There was so much to see, that to describe is impossible, for, the fact is, it don't matter what you want to buy, from a "needle to an anchor," they've got it there, holiday goods or any other kind, and what a beautiful and convenient store too. I also called in to see Mr. Schettler, at Zion's Savings Bank and Trust Company. A good place for people to put their savings, to provide against a "rainy day." Then there's that

Scotch store of Messrs. Liddell & Brown, which a man "frae the land o'cakes" can scarcely pass without getting some toothsome article to remind him of "his native heath."

Daynes and Son, where I noticed a great many articles in the music and musical instruments line that would make excellent holiday presents.

The Deseret National Bank is a place worth looking at. It is beautifully fitted up, and a great deal of business in the money line is done there. I went across to

Mr. James Dwyer's, and there is a sight for juvenile eyes. A great many children believe that Santa Claus makes his purchases of toys, books, etc., there, with which to fill their stockings. Some of the stockings would have to be pretty large to hold one of those big wagons or hobby horses. I looked in at

Mr. George W. Davis', and there was another fine holiday sight, and I thought of the puddings and things that would have the main part of their materials from there.

Messrs. Calder & Careless have a really splendid stock of goods in the musical instrument line, anything you want of that kind, from a jewsharp up to the best piano manufactured. There are some nice furs and numerous things for ladies at the store of

Mr. Peter Schwartz, and at the Howe Sewing Machine agency you can get a machine just like that of ours, which mother says is very good and saves much labor.

Mr. Phelps makes quite a good show for the holidays, having a large stock of dry goods and things. I looked into

Mr. Asmussen's, who has anything that anybody wants in the clock, watch, or jewelry line. His amber necklaces are a feature.

Messrs. Little & Roundy make a specialty of queensware, &c., and what beautiful ornaments I saw there.

Siegel Bros. have a fine assortment of Gent's clothing and Furnishing Goods and other dry goods.

Mrs. Dye's windows without stopping to look at those elegantly dressed dolls, and the fine display of millinery there exhibited, and the

Weed Sewing Machine Company have machines that can turn out sewing work of the very best description. But I had more pleasure in looking at the

Ladies' Commission Store, Old Constitution Buildings, than anywhere. Those ladies are doing a good work, and I'll tell you what it is, my opinion is that there's nothing like home manufacture, because it means independence and prosperity. I sometimes think, although but a small boy, if the United States go to pieces and the importation of supplies should be cut off, that home production would be our sole dependence for subsistence. We'll find that out some day. There's

Mr. Harrison, who runs a tin store. He is doing something in the home manufacturing line, and has got lots of things that are both useful and ornamental. I was amused to see that thing, covered with goods, in his window, that is whirled around by a "roasting jack." Those grates, mantles, marble slabs, fire-brick, etc., in

Morris & Evans' are worth viewing. Being, as you are aware, a lover of art, I could not afford to pass the Pioneer Art Gallery, Mr. Savage's. Now here is a wide choice for holiday presents, chromos, paintings, likenesses, albums, books, frames, and other articles too numerous to mention. I looked into the hat and cap, boot and shoe store of

Mr. George Dunford, and there observed the most ample preventives of damp or cold feet, and of cold in the head. The extent and variety of his stock are something immense. I took pleasure in calling at the store of

Messrs. Taylor & Cutler, where you can get what you want for the holidays or any other time. It is a well known firm, keeping a fine stock of general merchandise. And the same can be said of

Messrs. Day & Co., who are giving the public every variety of goods in their line, which embraces almost everything Near the Theatre,

Mr. J. B. Furster was turning out from his loom some good-looking rag carpet when I called.

The Townsend House, a splendid place for travelers and others to put up at, has its usual hospitable look. I was greatly attracted by

Mr. O. L. Eliason's stock of watches and jewelry, lots of nice lockets, rings, earrings, bracelets, &c., very suitable for Christmas presents. I am a great lover of flowers, so is everybody who has any refined taste, and I therefore called upon

Mr. O. F. Due, two blocks north of the Valley House, where people who want cut flowers can get them. I must not forget to tell you that it would be worth your while to go through the foundry and machine shops of

Davis, Howe & Co.,[17th Ward, and you would be interested in seeing the progress of home manufacture there. Coming right down to home manufacture, by the way,

The Working Men's Co-op. are doing a creditable thing in that line, making boots and shoes that are a credit to the city.

Latimer, Taylor & Co. are not a whit behind any body in their line, both for quality and extent of work. They have some splendid woodworking machinery with which mouldings, doors, blinds, sash and everything in the building way are turned out like magic. But then when you come down to tinning, gas, water and steam fitting I'll tell you that

Mr. David James' establishment is hard to beat. It is on West Temple street and as you pass the premises any day you will hear a tremendous clatter, made by the men a twork. I found

Joe Barker, on Commercial street, mending guns, pistols, locks, keys, &c., and then went over to the store of Jake Heusser and Brother, and what a variety of fire-arms of every kind is there displayed. If a person wants guns and ammunition for hunting, that's where you will find them. I notice people are beginning to find out they can get comfortable and cheap quarters at Taylor's Hotel.

R. Matthews & Co., are in the home producing line and their wares are excellent. They make soap, sand-tablets, ink, essence of Jamaica ginger, &c. Every body wants holiday meat, which they can readily obtain at the markets of

F. May, W. Peterson, Eldredge, Pratt & Co., C. Lucas, White & Son and others, whose advertisements are occasionally seen in the NEWS. When you do your marketing you must have a basket, and

The Salt Lake City Basket Manufacturing Co., Job Smith Supt., makes them.

The Deseret Carriage and Wagon shops, Second South Street, are a splendid home producing institution and should be encouraged.

F. Auerbach and Brother have a stock of goods that is most surprising large and varied, they being determined to please customers. I visited

"Daniel in the Lion's Den," not the veritable one, but our old friend Mr. Grenig, whose groceries and things are a necessity. But when you come to furniture of every kind; also hobby horses, toy chairs wagons and all such things I never did see such a grand assortment in the Territory as there is at the store of

Mr. H. Dinwoodey. It is worth anybody's while to visit the place. And now for holiday and everyday goods you should just have seen the store of Jennings, Sons & Sadler, the Eagle Emporium, and an emporium it is, for sure. It is a sight that is good for the eyes.

Charles Cooper has lots of toys and things for the children.

G. F. Culmer & Co's. Tea-pot Store is a very attractive place just now, their groceries, candies, etc., being ready to be dealt out to the numerous customers that throng the premises. Gents' clothing, etc., can be got at

T. B. O'Reilly & Co's., opposite Wasatch Hotel. I could not help being attracted to the store of

Mr. S. P. Teasdel, which is filled with those varieties and classes of goods that suit old, young and middle aged, and that is one reason of so many people being seen there. Then I looked in at the magnificent store of Walker Brothers, finely fitted up and the goods nicely arranged, presenting a scene that is almost dazzling.

Mr. George Crocheron is the man of vegetables, fruit, and fish and other things.

Barratt Brothers have no end of furniture, pictures and other wares, and have their store in holiday attire.

Mrs. Colebrook has a splendid array of goods, for ladies, misses and children of all ages, sorts and sizes. Fine millinery establishment, that.

The Singer Machine Company are presenting to the public a machine of superior quality. A look into the establishment of the U. O. of Tallors revealed the fact that they are prepared to fortify their fellow men with warm clothing, against the cutting winds of winter.

Mrs. Wilkinson, milliner and dealer in ladies' hair, has an attractive establishment, well supplied with excellent goods, and the Victor Sewing Machine, a serviceable and acknowledgedly good article, can be had of Wilkinson Brothers, agents.

Cunnington & Co., grocers, &c., are out to the front with a fine stock of groceries, hardware, &c. For "Square meals"

The German Bakery, Commercial Street, is well known. I notice that many people, when they want to make a trade, call upon

Mr. J. W. Snell, at the Idaho Store, who is also agent for the Branson knitters. I notice in many of the stores the excellent products of the Utah steam cracker factory, H. S. Reedall, proprietor.

Mr. Pierpont is running the Salt Lake City Iron Works, where all kinds of machine and other work is done. As I passed the little store of Mr. Geo. C. Ferguson, well known to most of the London people hereabout, I saw him, as usual, fixing up watches, to make them keep pace with the times.

I feel somewhat fatigued with talking so much, so if you want to hear any more about my rambles I will have to tell you about them some other time, but if you look through the NEWS, which is delivered to us regularly every night, you will see for yourselves who are alive to business and where you can purchase your things for the holidays.
